FAIR PLAY OF CZAR.

Stolypin Had New Light on It.

Premier Goes to Peterhof With Understood Intention of Resigning.

Meantime Twenty Thousand Workmen Have Inaugurated General Strike.

Growing Restlessness Among Troops—Governor of Samara Killed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3, 3:40 p.m.—Premier Stolypin has gone to Peterhof, with the intention, it is believed, of tendering his resignation.

CAPITAL IN DARKNESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 4, 2:45 a.m.—St. Petersburg is in darkness tonight. The employés the electric lighting plants, always the earliest barometric record of political conditions, have struck.

TURNED ON AGAIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 4, 4:15 a.m.—The electric light service was restored early this morning by sailors of the technical corps.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 4.—The call for a general strike already has been obeyed by 20,000 factory hands in the capital. It will be impossible, however, to predict the success of this political strike until Monday, as the workmen in St. Petersburg and the provinces have two holidays, Saturday, which is the fete day of the Dowager Empress and a great religious feast, and their regular holiday of Sunday.

The only other available index to the situation is the railroads. Up to 2 o'clock this morning the railroad men have not heeded the call for a general strike, except in the case of an insignificant bobtail line running to Sestroretzk and other shore resorts in the vicinity of St. Petersburg. The men of this road barricaded the line, with the result that they had an important collision with Cossacks last night.

IS IT DICTATORSHIP?

In the meantime the fate of the Stolypin Cabinet sways in the balance, and Russia is upon the verge of disorders which may lead either to the reign of the military or the proletariat.

It can be said definitely that the steps toward a dictatorship may be taken Sunday or Monday by the nomination of Grand Duke Nicholas to the chief command of all the troops in Russia. This would virtually place him in control of all the disturbed districts of the empire where martial law has been proclaimed.

6:05 p.m. The strike here has already affected 15,000 men, including the employés of the electric lighting plants.

The general strike having been formally ordered to begin in St. Petersburg tomorrow, at noon, as a preliminary the men employed in a dozen establishments went out at noon today, in the Vasilii Ostrov and Viborsky quarters and in the Moscow quarter beyond the Narva gate. Failure of the strike is predicted, since the workmen generally are not prepared.

The plan is to begin the strike here tomorrow and at Moscow Monday, and gradually to extend it through the empire until everything including the railroads and telegraph lines, are completely at a standstill.

POLICE MAKING ARRESTS.

The police this morning arrested half a dozen of the members of the Workmen's Council who were elected to direct the general strike, and they also captured several members of the militiary committee.

The signal to strike has been forwarded to seventy different proletariat organizations throughout the empire.

NARVA QUARTERS PATROLED.

An investigation made by the Associated Press showed that the rumors of fighting in the Narva quarter were unfounded. The whole region where the Putiloff works are situated is occupied by troops, especially Cossacks and dragoons.

Part of the employés of the Putiloff works are on the strike and the workmen of the American Westinghouse Factory walked out during the day.

The current reports that the employés of the Warsaw Railroad had struck are premature. Trains were departing over that road at 6 o'clock this evening.

ANTI-STRIKE NAVY.

In anticipation of labor riots, small steamers with quick-firing guns mounted on board are cruising up and down the Neva.

It is understood that some ex-deputies belonging to the labor party are among those arrested at Sveaborg and Cronstadt.

MOSCOW REGIMENT SORE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—It is circumstantially asserted that there is overt dissatisfaction among the Moscow regiment of the guards quartered in St. Petersburg. The demands formulated by the men are both economic and political. Cossacks have been sent to the barracks of this regiment.

CAPT. KRINITSKY'S ESCAPE.

Capt. Krinitsky had an almost miraculous escape from death at Cronstadt. He was arrested by the mutineers, and hurried up one of the broad avenues to where a court-martial had been hastily convened. The members of this court included civilians and some women. It condemned the captain to death, and the sentence was about to be carried out when the cry was raised that men of the Yensai regiment were coming.

Krinitsky then made a dash for liberty, and escaped. He was fired upon, but was not hurt.

This matter was a subject of earnest discussion during the interview between the Emperor and Premier Stolypin yesterday, from which the Premier returned in a greatly vexed state of mind.

SUCH A STATE OF MIND.

The revolutionists at Sveaborg and Cronstadt and the mutiny on board the cruiser Pamyat Azova gave the tone to the conversation between his majesty and the Premier. These events, although they have all ended fortunately, apparently have left a strong impression upon the mind of the Emperor.

DOESN'T HARMONIZE STOLYPIN.

The Associated Press has been informed from a high source that the nomination of Grand Duke Nicholas to the post of commander-in-chief, if made, will be announced as "for the purpose of harmonizing the activity of all troops, without reference to political affairs," but Premier Stolypin is scarcely disposed to regard the nomination in this high light.

SIDE-TRACKING FUNERAL.

One element of possible disorder for tomorrow was removed by the decision of the widow of M. Herzenstein, the ex-Deputy who was murdered at Terioki, to inter her husband at Terioki and to omit holding the services here and at Moscow. The prefect of police at St. Petersburg today appealed to Mme. Herzenstein to cancel the procession here, saying it probably would result in great disorder, which he was resolved to suppress at whatever cost. After consultation with the Constitutional Democratic committee, Mme. Herzenstein agreed to this.

BOARDING THEIR WINDOWS.

Pickets of cavalry and infantry were the most conspicuous features of the streets of St. Petersburg last night. Business houses generally have boarded up their windows, as they did in the days of the great October

ICE TRUST HARD HIT.

Court Knocks Out Last Prop.

Banishment to the Workhouse Is Sustained by Judge W. A. Babcock.

Validity of Valentine Law Upheld Which Means End of Combines.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Judge W. A. Babcock of Cleveland overruled the motions of S. A. Lemmon, R. C. Beard and Joseph A. Miller, convicted and sentenced ice men, for a vacation of sentence and a new trial, he delivered to the trusts of Ohio, at least, a blow, the effect of which is second only to the sentence of Judge Kinkade when he sent the icemen to the workhouse.

Back of the ice fight was all the power of the trust influences of the entire State, as evidenced by the presence of their lawyers. The one object was to so completely crush Kinkade that all other judges would be intimidated, so that they dare not impose the prison sentence to any trust violators, as was done by Judge Kinkade for the first time since the enactment of the act, eight years ago.

At first, the trust lawyers were victorious, and succeeded in getting their clients out of jail, but when Judge Kinkade reinstated the motions charging him with corruption and they were overruled, today, by Judge Babcock, utter rout was in the camp of the ice-trust and their attorneys, and now they are without hope.

Judge Babcock, in deciding the motions, held the imprisonment feature of the Valentine law as wholly constitutional. As to the charges against Kinkade, the court said they were ridiculous and wholly without foundation in fact. He said that the affidavit upon which the motions were based failed entirely to substantiate the motions themselves. This means that the lawyers misrepresented the facts to the Circuit Court, in that they informed that body that the affidavits bore out the motion, upon the strength of which allegations the ice trust men and their attorneys escaped doing time.

Just what the Circuit Court will do because of this misrepresentation is problematical, but it looks like more trouble for the lawyers. The next move in the ice trust cases, so far as can now be seen, will not be made until the Circuit Court convenes in September.

The petitions in error of Roland A. Beard, Reuben C. Lemmon and Joseph A. Miller, now in the Circuit Court on an incompleted record, will then be heard, including the action of the court in disposing of the "false as hell" motions.

The ice men will remain at liberty pending the action of the Circuit Court next fall, as the suspension of the execution of sentence granted by the circuit judges on the incomplete record is still in effect and cannot be disturbed until the Circuit Court again convenes and acts upon it.

BECOMES DUKE OF BAYNHAM.

Mrs. Maggie Collier of Trinidad, Colo., Notified of Her Brother's Success.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRINIDAD (Colo.) Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Maggie Collier has been notified by her brother, Dr. C. W. Baynham of Fort Smith, Ark., who went to Scotland recently to investigate his rights to a dukedom, that he has become the Duke of Baynham.

He says, however, that the ancestral castle is dilapidated and his 3000 acres are fit only for a game preserve.

The castle is on a knoll between Inverness and Kyle. A company of Scotch Highlanders occupies it, calling it Fort Kyle. He will take his sister to Scotland next year to help decide what to do with it.

CLOUDBURST DEALS HAVOC.

Hamburg, Pa., Suffers from Terrific Rush of Waters and One Death Results.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

REDDING (Pa.) Aug. 3.—A terrific cloudburst struck the borough of Hamburg, in this county, late today. A ten-foot flood swept through the main portion of the town, leaving in its wake ruin and devastation. There are washouts in the streets to the depth of ten feet.

Allen J. Romig, who was working in a tinsmith's shop, was drowned. The shop was swept away. More than fifty dwellings were damaged.

Many persons escaped drowning by rushing to the upper floors of their residences. The total loss will amount to more than $50,000.

PIER BUILDING RESTRAINED.

Oyster Bay Town Board Serves Papers on Offending Land Owners on Water Front.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 3.—One more step in the litigation over the Oyster Bay water front was taken today when Town Constable MacQuade served restraining papers issued by the town board on the proprietors of the four estates on which the piers and walls were destroyed yesterday. The order forbids the rebuilding of the piers.

Louis Tiffany was stopped in his automobile on his way to New York so that the service could be served. Frederick L. Coudert and George C. Maxwell were served as they entered the club bar on the New York train.

Mr. Coudert said he would bring a damage suit against the town. The care-taker of the J. Roosevelt estate was served in the absence of Mrs. Roosevelt in Europe.

DUMPING OF CRAIG.

Defeat of the Totem Gang That Has Long Terrorized That Port.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Totem Boss Craig, walking delegate by profession, narrow-minded labor union agitator and arrogant boycotter, was swept away today by the rushing tide of American votes in San Pedro. There will be no reviving of the corpse. The death knell of Craigism has been sounded.

The elimination of Craig from San Pedro's commercial and business life came about through the election of fifteen freeholders, who will frame a new charter for this city. Serene in his assumption that he was all powerful in San Pedro, Boss Craig headed the Direct Legislation party ticket, which was composed of persons who supported his policy, and "J. P." Downing, who, grasping at political straws, allowed his name to remain on this ticket, thereby sacrificing those who had been his political and personal friends for years. The boss and the politician will receive joint interment.

The representative business men and citizens, recognizing that the suicidal policy of this arrogant totem boss was destroying the commercial life of San Pedro, organized for his defeat and elimination, and nominated for freeholders fifteen representative and reputable men in opposition under the banner of the Business Men's ticket. Under the leadership of John E. Logan, one of the candidates, the victory today was complete and decisive, and is being royally celebrated in San Pedro tonight. The crushing heel of labor union domination has been lifted from the neck of the city.

THE WINNERS.

The following were the successful candidates: O. C. Abbott, Sr., Ed Amar, Henry Baly, M. Duffy, F. D. Foot, A. P. Goodwin, J. E. Logan, C. A. Lucas, John N. Mahlgren, J. H. Powers, W. H. Savage, R. D. Sepulveda, J. W. Walton, J. A. Weldt and W. H. Wickersham.

Craigism has been proven by today's election to be simply a thing of straw, which can be thrust aside by a breath of American independence. After having bullied and coerced his simple-minded dupes, raked the water front fore and aft, scoured the schooners and herded the riff-raff, Craig was only able to muster a few over 200 votes out of a total of 676. And the totem boss, who was supposed to be the all-powerful autocrat and dictator

ARNOLD GETS OUT OF TANGLE.

FEDERAL COURT DISMISSES RECEIVER APPOINTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MUSKOGEE (I. T.) Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Lawrence of the Federal court has dismissed the receiver who had been appointed to take possession of the property of E. J. Arnold of St. Louis, and the temporary injunction which had been given against Arnold to prevent his disposing of any of his property at Broken Arrow, I. T., has been dismissed.

Last spring Dr. Pepper of Los Angeles, one of the plaintiffs who said that they had been fleeced by Arnold in his "get-rich-quick" scheme, to the extent of about $15,000 brought an action in the courts to have a receiver appointed for Arnold who had settled in Broken Arrow and accumulated considerable property, in order that they might collect the amounts they claimed Arnold owed them.

The plaintiffs admitted that they had given Arnold's agents the money knowing what it was to be used for. Arnold had lived in Broken Arrow nearly a year before his identity became known.

TONGUE IS POISONOUS.

Twenty Women Nurses of Bellevue Hospital Under Treatment. Ham in the Case.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twenty women nurses of Bellevue Hospital, ill of ptomaine poisoning, it was discovered tonight, have been under treatment since Wednesday in the Bellevue School for Trained Nurses.

It is said that they were poisoned by ptomaine in canned tongue and ham served for supper at the hospital Wednesday evening.

COPPER COMBINE COMPLETE.

Col. Greene Carries Out His Consolidation Scheme and Receives Big Bonus.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Cole-Ryan-Greene coalition which was rumored several days ago has become a fact. It is understood here that Col. Greene received $2,000,000 stock in the new Cole company, in payment for 4000 acres he turned over to the new corporation, comprising the Sonora concessions granted the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company, May 17, 1904, title to which expired May 17, 1906, but which Col. Greene annexed immediately thereafter.

The Boston interests in Cananea Consolidated were not aware Col. Greene took the title to this property after the Greene Company allowed it to expire.

The relationship between the new company and Greene Consolidated will be very close and eventually the two may be merged. The regular bimonthly dividends on Greene probably will be voted.

THAW'S "IMPELLING MOTIVE."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is said that Harry Kendall Thaw's attorneys are in possession of evidence showing an impelling motive.

The new "impelling motive" was, it is said, something that Stanford White did on June 25, the day of the shooting, or immediately prior thereto. It involved nothing less than an interference in Thaw's domestic affairs.

ITALIANS FOR FARMERS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Countess Maria Frenfanelli-Cibo of Rome, Italy, was in Chicago, promoting a scheme to increase the immigration of Italians with the purpose of encouraging them to become farmers. The Countess is an American by birth, being a cousin of Ogden McClurg, and a former resident of Racine, Wis. Her husband is a descendant of the same old Italian family to which Pope Innocent VIII belonged, and has a palace at Rome and a villa outside of that city.

of San Pedro's destinies, was the worst whipped dog in the kennel. Craig received the smallest number of votes on his ticket. Politician Downing was a close second.

The elimination of Boss Craig will be hailed with joy not only in San Pedro and throughout Southern California, but as well among the commercial and shipping interests of the Pacific Coast. The defeat of Craig means that the commercial and business interests of San Pedro, which he has so effectually blighted by his policy, will be restored, and that San Pedro will attain the importance and prestige which is her just due.

It is stated tonight that the substantial and conservative business interests in San Pedro will at once perfect a permanent organization, and should there be any signs of a return of Craigism, it will be promptly suppressed.

EFFECTS OF TOTEMISM.

The blighting effect of the narrow-minded policy of the Totem Boss upon the business of this port is shown by the report of the local customhouse for the month of July.

This report states that the receipts of woodstuffs at San Pedro for the month just ended is the lowest since July 1902 when only 14,000,000 feet of lumber was received. The receipts for July 1906 are 15,954,000 feet, and for July 1905 they were nearly 40,000,000.

The full report of the customhouse for July 1906 is as follows: Receipts: lumber, 15,954,000 feet; shingles, 1,230,000; laths, 828,000; piles, 1956; poles, 2863; ties 2300; cement, foreign barrels, 20,850; cattle, 642; sheep, 736; wheat, (tons) 689; merchandise, (tons) 352; passengers, 13,722.

During the month 534 tons of asphalt and 947 tons of merchandise were exported and 14,965 passengers departed.

There arrived during the month 103 vessels having a net tonnage of 43,699 tons and carrying in crews 1828 seamen.

BONFIRE FAILS BURLINGTON.

Stray Papers That Escaped Flame Sufficient to Prove That Road Gave Rebates.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GREELEY CENTER (Neb.) Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Federal authorities are making a thorough investigation of the burning of two carloads of old Burlington records at Belfast Siding, eight miles from here, last Saturday. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Lane has arrived here from Omaha, accompanied by Secret Service Chief Wheeler, and the two have been in close consultation with Company Attorney Howard.

The three officers visited Farmer Luce, whose son, Garfield Luce, picked up a number of papers which fell from the cars while they were burning. These papers, about sixty in number, were turned over to Lane. The documents are being closely guarded, but Howard has made the statement that there is sufficient evidence to prove conclusively that the Burlington has violated the interstate commerce law and that it has been guilty of giving rebates.

BRADLEY TO COME WEST.

Former Vice-President of Postal Accepts Position With the Bell at San Francisco.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. C. Bradley, formerly third vice-president of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, has left this city for San Francisco to accept an important place with the American Bell Telegraph and Telephone Company which controls the service on the Pacific Slope.

Mr. Bradley handed in his resignation to the Postal company in June, to take effect on August 1. He was succeeded by C. C. Adams, fourth vice-president. Mr. Bradley will stay in San Francisco about three months.

FATHER MUSSON PROMOTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Announcement was made today of the promotion of Rev. Father William H. Musson, formerly prefect of studies at St. Vincent's College, Los Angeles, now president of Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis, to the office of superior of the Novitiate House of Studies of the congregation of the Mission at Perryville, Mo. He will be succeeded as president of Kenrick Seminary by Rev. Father Michael Ryan, president of New Orleans Seminary.

STRIKERS RUN RUSSIAN MINES.

Agitators from St. Petersburg Arrive at Yuseovka and Urge Armed Uprising.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

YUSEOVKA, Aug. 3.—The strike here is almost complete. Troops are pouring in. Gov.-Gen. Boval is in personal command. Some of the mines already have been flooded and ruined.

Agitators from St. Petersburg and Moscow have arrived and are urging the strikers to prepare for an armed uprising, but to await the signal, which will soon be given.

During a meeting Wednesday night, dragoons charged the assemblage and used their whips. They captured three of the strikers.

PAPER TRUST IN LAST GASP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 3.—The directors of the General Paper Company held a meeting behind closed doors this afternoon with a view to winding up its affairs as a corporation, in compliance with the decision handed down a few months ago by the United States Circuit Court. Secretary L. M. Alexander stated after the meeting that the company had ceased to exist, but that one or two more meetings probably would be held before the final details of dissolution were completed. The company's offices in Chicago have been closed and preparations are being made to vacate the suite of offices in Milwaukee.

GOVERNMENT PRINTER SWINGING HIS AX.

Assistant Foreman Miller and Foreman Shanks of Typesetting Division Beheaded — Attorney-General Begins New Prosecutions.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—W. A. Miller, assistant foreman of the bindery of the Government Printing Office, who was suspended by the Public Printer July 21 for insubordination and insolence, was dismissed from the government service yesterday.

Miller's former suspension in 1903 was the cause of the President's order declaring the Government Printing Office and all offices where workmen are employed by the government to be open shops.

SHANKS'S NIGHTMARE.

The Public Printer has also dismissed Milo Shanks, foreman of the second typesetting division.

The case of Shanks furnished the President an opportunity to express himself yesterday in regard to the conduct of the government printery. Shanks had complained to the President that he had not received fair treatment, and Secretary Loeb wrote to Stillings that, inasmuch as he is charged with the administrative details of the office, the President would not interfere with him in his efforts to put the Government Printing Office on an economical and efficient basis, or in securing proper discipline among the employés.

PROSECUTION OF RAILWAYS.

SAFETY ACT VIOLATORS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Atty.-Gen. Moody, in accordance with the policy heretofore determined upon, has directed further prosecution of a number of railroads for violations of the Federal safety appliance act. The United States Attorneys for the various districts wherein the violations were committed will be directed to file and vigorously prosecute suits for the recovery of the statutory penalty.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway Company will be sued for seventeen penalties, and the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Company for thirty penalties.

The roads to be made defendants include the following: Belt Railway of Chicago, Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway Company, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, Kansas City Southern Railway, Missouri Pacific Railway Company, St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Company, St. Louis, Iron Mountain Southern Railway Company, St. Louis, Southwestern Railway Company, Southern Railway Company, Union Pacific Railway Company, in the district of Nebraska; Union Stock Yards Company of Omaha.

UNCLE SAM AND LABOR.

UNION TO HAVE PROTECTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As an intimation to all prosecuting officers of the government as to what their duty is toward the relations of employers and members of labor unions, Charles W. Russell, acting Attorney-General, has announced that he has instructed Dist.-Atty.-Gen. Tinsley, at Covington, Ky., to make an investigation of the charges that the Louisville and Nashville Railroad has threatened to dismiss certain employés because of their membership in labor unions.

If the District Attorney finds the charges have foundation in fact, he is directed to bring the matter before a grand jury and ask for an indictment. It seems that the District Attorney has thus far failed to act on the charges laid before him, and, accordingly, has been subjected to an effective reminder from Washington.

ACT OF JULY 1, 1898.

H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, recently informed acting Atty.-Gen. Russell that the secretary of the order had already laid before the District Attorney at Covington certain affidavits showing that the Louisville and Nashville Railroad had violated the law. Section 10 of the act passed by Congress July 1, 1898 provides that no employer or agent thereof shall require, as a condition of employment, that the employé shall not become or remain a member of a labor organization.

MILLIONAIRE "CLIFF DWELLERS."

Millionaires and multi-millionaires of Chicago and Middle Western cities to the number of fifty, or more, have gathered their families as advisory boards in preparing plans for apartments which they contemplate for homes the remainder of their lives. These possessors of great wealth have had opened to them a community of the most ultra exclusiveness in the proposed hotel of dazzling magnificence to be erected at a fabulous cost on the Otto Young property, Michigan avenue, where the prevailing feature in construction will be that persons with sufficient wealth may lease for a long term of years, or for life, apartments contructed according to the lightest wish or most fickle fancy of the occupant.

ZION'S FIGHTING FACTIONS.

War between the fighting factions in Zion City broke out afresh today, when Alfred E. Bills, who has openly supported John Alexander Dowie in his fight against Wilbur Glenn Voliva, filed a petition with Judge Landis in the United States District Court, announcing his candidacy for the office of general overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. The supporters of Voliva profess to see in the candidacy of Bills an attempt on the part of the First Apostle to complicate the situation and create excitement among "the faithful." Bills was formerly a banker in South Dakota, and is considered wealthy.

"SAMMY VELLER'S" BREACH.

Suit for $25,000 for alleged breach of promise against Samuel Weller, a Dearborn-street broker, was filed by Miss Olive Sells in the Circuit Court today. At the office of Miss Sells's attorneys it was said that the young woman is the daughter of a wealthy retired capitalist living in New York, and that she is at present in Chicago visiting friends.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOOM FOR CUMMINS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The talk of Gov. Cummins's enthusiastic friends to the effect that his recent great victory in securing the third nomination in the face of the two-term rule, which has rigidly been enforced since the beginning of Iowa's Statehood, will cause the Governor to loom large as a Presidential possibility and has raised the question as to what strength he might be able to develop outside of his own State.

Contingent upon Senator La Follette remaining out of the race, it is insisted that Wisconsin would quickly come into line, as La Follette and other "progressive" leaders of that State have taken great interest in his candidacy, and have offered him every assistance necessary in his present fight.

Ex-Gov. William R. VanSant of Minnesota has maintained a similar attitude.

Telegrams by the score have been received from Nebraska congratulating Gov. Cummins and connecting his name with 1908.

It is confidently predicted that this sentiment will spread to other Western States.

ROOT LEAVING RIO.

Pays Farewell Visit and Boards the Cruiser Charleston, Where He Holds Reception.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 3.—Prefect Passos today took Secretary and Mrs. Root on an automobile trip to Tijuca, a mountain resort. Later, Mr. Root paid his farewell visit to President Alves, after which he went on board the United States cruiser Charleston, where the Secretary held a reception.

FORESEES CLOSER RELATIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—A special to the Herald from Asbury Park, N. J., says:

"The most brilliant speech on the subject I have ever heard. It will do much good to all the countries concerned," said Señor Ignacio Calderon, Minister from Bolivia to the United States, when seen at the Colonial Hotel, last night, and asked for his views on Secretary Root's speech at the Pan-American gathering at Rio Janeiro.

"We of the Americas should be brought closer together," he continued. "I have always favored such a move."

Mr. Root's reception on the Charleston was well attended and the utmost cordiality was displayed. President Alves boarded the cruiser at 4 p.m. and was saluted by Brazilian, Argentine and German warships in the harbor. He went ashore at 5:30.

In the name of the nation President Alves presented to Mrs. Root a large and beautiful Brazilian diamond. The Minister of Finance, Señor de Bulhoes, gave her a golden casket inset with a watch. Secretary Root was made an honorary member of the Institute of Brazilian Lawyers.

The Brazilian cruiser Barroso and the Argentine cruiser Buenos Ayres convoyed the Charleston to Montevideo.

"Widespread Enthusiasm" for the Dollar Feed Extends from Pennsylvania to Wilmington, Del., and Washington in Spots—Somebody Gives Eight Hundred.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In spite of the enthusiasm and widespread interest aroused by the coming reception to William J. Bryan, on his return to this country, August 30, the managers of the reception are puzzled by the failure of the plan of a popular subscription for raising the $10,000 required to defray the expenses of the celebration.

It was expected there would be a flood of $1 subscriptions from the admirers of Bryan, but up to tonight exactly $3 had been received from this source.

One of the dollars came from Pennsylvania, another from Washington, and the third from Wilmington, Del.

Not one dollar subscription has been received from this State. Altogether, the total amount so far raised is about $800.

WINERIES UNDER WATCH.

EMPLOYEES TO BE APPOINTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The department today authorized the appointment of forty-six storekeepers and gaugers in the San Francisco internal revenue district to supervise the use of brandy and water in making sweet wine at the California wineries during the coming season. The appointments will be made by the collector at San Francisco. All must be Californians under the law.

The civil service eligible list for this position numbers only thirty, and the collector can reject one-third of these if he chooses, so that many will have to be employed from outside the civil service. The employé's compensation will vary from a per diem rate amounting to $500 a year upward.

It is expected that more storekeepers and gaugers will have to be appointed to watch the operation of the Needham sweet wine law, as there are said to be about seventy-five wineries in California.

TUNNEL BURNS, TRAINS HELD.

Locomotive Sparks Do Serious Damage to Road.

Job of Retimbering Bad, and Work Is Dangerous.

"Swiftwater Bill" Seeking His Fourth Divorce.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

REDDING, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Timbers in tunnel No. 6, seventy-five miles north of Redding and one mile south of Gregory, took fire at 1 o'clock this afternoon from sparks of a passing locomotive. The watchman was unable to put out the blaze when he discovered it. Every stick of timber in the tunnel burned and at 5 o'clock this afternoon the earth caved.

Eighty-five section men are at work trying to clear out the tunnel. The track will not be cleared tonight. The northbound overland, No. 12, is held at Kennett and southbound passenger, No. 11, will be held at Dunsmuir.

RAD AND DANGEROUS JOB.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

REDDING, Aug. 3.—The blaze was discovered shortly after 1 o'clock but the flames had gained such headway that a hundred men could not have saved the timbering in the strong draft. Latest reports are that the tunnel is filled for seventy-five feet with rocks and dirt.

The tunnel is 200 feet long and will have to be secured by retimbering before the débris can be removed. Eighty-five Japanese laborers are at work and all the men that can be spared on this division will be put to work. The job is a dangerous one, as the ground is bad and as fast as the timbers are taken out more come down into the tunnel.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 3.—Two hundred men have been gathered in this city and are starting north to help reconstruct Tunnel No. 6.

GAGE HAD NO TROUBLES.

INQUEST NOT WARRANTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 3.—Coroner Carroll of this morning that the facts in the case here yesterday of Eli A. Gage, son of former Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage, did not warrant holding an inquest, as there is no question as to the manner of death.

The widow today wired to her father-in-law, near San Diego, asking his advice about the arrangements for the funeral.

A friend of Gage said last night: "Eli A. Gage was about 40 years old. He was the only child of Lyman J. Gage. Born at Evanston, Ill., he spent the greater part of his life there and in Chicago. He attended Chester Military Academy, in Pennsylvania. After making a tour of the world he took a position in his father's bank in Chicago. There were no family troubles. He was devoted to his wife and children, while he often talked of them, and once took out a letter from his wife and read it in short of his friends. There were no business reasons why he should have killed himself. No one knew of any business difficulties."

CORONER SCORES AUTO DRIVER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OAKLAND, Aug. 3.—A Coroner's jury summoned to investigate the death of Earl Haskell, the boy killed on Sunday by an automobile operated by J. H. Baxter, last night embodied in its verdict a recommendation applying to the qualification requisite to operation of motor cars. The verdict was, in part, as follows:

"Death resulted from deceased being struck by an automobile which was being driven on the wrong side of the road by one J. H. Baxter, and was due largely to the inexperience of said Baxter in operating said automobile.

"For the better protection of the traveling public, we recommend that such law be enacted as will require persons proposing to operate automobiles or other motor carriages to pass an examination as a condition precedent to their being permitted to handle such vehicles."

ROCKEFELLER'S COIN MISSING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Information is wanted at relief headquarters of $130,000 contributed by John D. Rockefeller and the Standard Oil Company.

Shortly after April 18, it was widely heralded that the richest man in America had donated $200,000 to San Francisco and the corporation subscribed as much more. Of this sum $70,000 has been received by the committee. No one knows what has become of the rest, except that $1500 worth of oil was received.

Some time ago James D. Phelan, as chairman of the Finance Committee, received an order on the mint for $70,000. It was signed "W. S. Miller," and purported to be part of Rockefeller's Standard Oil contribution. Of this sum $25,000 was supposed to have come from Rockefeller and an equal amount from the Standard Oil, while Charles and Edward Brown, two Standard Oil men, each were credited with $5000.

That is all the Finance Committee saw of the Rockefeller money.

STANDARD STATEMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In reply to a statement from San Francisco setting forth the desire of James D. Phelan, chairman of the Relief Committee, to receive $150,000 more of Standard funds out of a subscribed fund of $200,000, a statement was given out at the offices of the Standard Oil Company today, in which it appears that the total amount contributed by the Standard Oil was $230,000. Of this amount, all but $52,000 has already been spent.

The statement ends: "It is not clear why Mr. Phelan should be ignorant of general facts."

Committee Which Will Put Fire Victims on Their Feet by Advancing Cash for Building Purposes Announces Four Propositions Involving $3,600,000.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—San Francisco's most notable organization of bankers, commercial men, manufacturers, owners of real estate and holders of fire insurance policies, representing hundreds of millions of dollars and every material in the city, under the name of the Policy Holders' League, has given out its plans and made public the personnel of its governing body.

The following are the purposes of the league as they have been agreed upon by the men constituting the board of trustees: To induce insurance companies to make prompt adjustment; to investigate and report upon companies declining liability on technical or legal grounds; to secure by suit or otherwise from insolvent insurance companies the best possible results for policy holders; to give public indorsement to all insurance companies that treat San Francisco fairly in the present calamity; to make efforts to induce reasonable rates of insurance; to suggest and watch insurance legislation; to endeavor to secure the adoption of a uniform form of fire insurance policy.

BUILDING PLANS ANNOUNCED.

Thomas Magee, chairman of the Lands and Buildings Committee of the San Francisco Relief and Red Cross Funds Corporation, has, with the formal sanction of the latter, announced what his committee intends to do toward building homes for San Franciscans who were burned out, or advancing them cash for that purpose. His announcement involves four distinct propositions, aggregating $3,600,000.

One proposition sets aside $500,000 to be used in sums of $500, the latter being amount to be given to the owner of a lot as a bonus toward paying for a new home. The sum of $2,500,000 is to be used to build cottages, two-story dwellings and flats. These are to be sold on the installment plan, or easy terms. The third proposition is to spend $100,000 for a home fo aged and infirm people on the Almshouse tract. The fourth proposition involves the use of $500,000 in loans to owners or tenants for building purposes.

SPECULATING OVER FIGURES.

The net registration of voters of this city, after all cancellations have been made, is 22,026. This is the number of electors entitled to vote at the primary election to be held August 14. For the election held four years ago, at a corresponding date, there were 40,612 registrations.

There was a falling off in all the districts except three. The heavy decrease in the nine burned districts is, of course, explained, but the falling off in all but three of the residence districts untouched by fire is a subject upon which officials are speculating.

SEEKING HIS FOURTH DIVORCE.

"SWIFT WATER BILL" AGAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Swift Water Bill," divorced less than six months ago from his third wife, is now applying for separation from the fourth spouse, formerly Kitty Brandon of Sacramento.

Under the laws of this State, Gates was forbidden to remarry within six months after the decree separating him from his third wife, but the divorce papers show he ignored the court's orders.

It is stated Gates has chosen a fifth wife, still in marital bondage to a Fairbanks merchant, and will wed her if he is set free by courts.

Infidelity is charged by Gates against his present wife and the co-respondents are hidden under the legal designation of "John Doe" and "Richard Doe."

Mrs. Gates will fight. She has asked the court for $1000 temporary alimony and attorney fees.

CHILDREN HORRIBLY LASHED.

TAKEN FROM BRUTAL FATHER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Letters of guardianship were issued today to William Shaffer for Albert, Clara and Annie Evans, minor children of Thomas Evans, who was arrested last night on complaint of his wife.

The children, who are 13, 11 and 9 years old, are frightfully marked from a horsewhipping by the father. The whip was applied to the bare backs and the marks of the lash extend like knife cuts around the bodies of the children.

Mrs. Evans begged the deputies to take her and her children away. The deputy searched the house and found a shotgun in the bedroom and shells on the bureau. He also found a revolver and a rifle. The belongings of Mrs. Evans and children were removed today.

FEARS ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE.

Claus Spreckels Will Abandon San Francisco and Make New York His Home.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fearing a repetition of the earthquake which reduced San Francisco to ruins, Claus Spreckels, the famous beet sugar refiner and planter has decided to at andon that city as his home, and has bought from Isaac Stern the marble residence at 858 Fifth avenue, this city. Mr. Spreckels will occupy the house in the near future, and New York will henceforth be his home.

Mr. Spreckels's purchase adjoins the home of George J. Gould, at Sixty-seventh street. The dwelling is one of the show houses of Fifth avenue. Adjoining it on the north side is the mansion of the late Charles T. Yerkes, while on the block above is the home of James H. Smith, which was formerly the residence of William C. Whitney.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

waters during the Russian-Japanese war devolved upon Admiral Train.

He was 61 years old and would have retired from active service in May of next year. During his service of almost a score of years at sea he served on many stations.

During the Spanish War he commanded the auxiliary cruiser Prairie in the North Atlantic patrol squadron, and he had been a rear admiral since 1904.

Admiral Train originally came from Massachusetts, and was appointed to the navy from that State November 26, 1861. From 1861 to 1864 he was stationed at the Naval Academy, and his promotion to the rank of master took place two years later, December 1, 1866.

On March 12, 1868, he was promoted to the position of lieutenant and became lieutenant-commander June 30, 1869; commander January, 1886, and captain November 22, 1898.

He has served on many stations and duties; was naval officer of the Atlanta Exposition, 1894 to 1896; commanded U.S.S. Prairie, auxiliary cruiser in the North Atlantic patrol squadron from March to November, 1898, and later commanded the Puritan.

JUDGE KINCAID UPHELD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOLEDO, Aug. 3.—Judge Babcock in Common Pleas Court today handed down his decision in the ice cases, sustaining Judge Kincaid in every particular and exonerating him from having made any promise or any suggestion of leniency as claimed by the attorneys for the ice trust.

Should the attorneys for the ice men appeal from Judge Babcock to the Circuit Court, which they are likely to do, that court will either send the cases back for rehearing in Common Pleas Court or by declaring there is no error, cut off the last hope of the ice men to escape imprisonment.

MAYOR JOHNSON NOT GUILTY.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 3.—Judge Kennedy of the Common Pleas Court today decided that Mayor Johnson was not guilty of contempt of Court as charged in connection with the tearing up of the tracks of the Cleveland Electric Railway Company last week in Fulton street. The court held that W. J. Springborn, director of public service, had violated the temporary injunction issued by Judge Ford in the case. Springborn was fined $1000 and costs. An application for a new trial was at once filed by the attorneys for Springborn.

GOT THE UPPER HAND OF THE CZAR'S MIND.

"Caught in the Door" Twixt Proletariat and Plutocrat, the Russian Autocrat Finds "Where He's At." Liberals Now Will Bat.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—The report last night that Emperor Nicholas had flatly refused to accept the conditions to which Premier Stolypin agreed in his negotiations with Count Heydon, Alexander Guchkoff, Prince Nicholas Lyoff, Paul Vinogradoff and Senator Koni, for the reorganization of the Cabinet, and which the Premier expected the Emperor to accept, turns out to be true. Official confirmation came this morning in an announcement as follows:

"The reports that the non-bureaucratic elements will enter the Cabinet are untrue."

LIBERALS GUESSED IT.

"Count Heydon."

Count Heydon and his confreres have now washed their hands of the government. The Count himself has already left St. Petersburg for his estate in the country, and all M. Stolypin's glittering promises of "strong-handed reforms" are suddenly dashed to the earth. At his first encounter with the influences at court he has been worsted, and the predictions of the Liberals that the dissolution of Parliament would inevitably lead to a dictatorship appear on the point of realization.

There is no doubt that the panic created at court by the mutiny at Cronstadt, within earshot of the Emperor, made the victory of the camarilla easy. It is difficult to understand how M. Stolypin can now remain in office without stultifying himself in the eyes of the nation and the world.

GUARDS CALLED BACK.

The guard regiments which were sent back to their camp at Krasnoye Selo at the end of last week, when the government was flattering itself with the belief that the country had accepted the Emperor's fiat, are again returning to the capital. They have been marching all night. The patrols in the streets have again been reinforced; all the public buildings are heavily occupied by troops, and the number of domiciliary visits and arrests has been redoubled.

The authorities act as if they were dazed, not knowing what to expect next. The searchlights of a cruiser stationed in the lower reaches of the Neva and similar lights on the roof of the Baltic works were played last night on the river as if St. Petersburg were besieged by a foreign foe.

NEWSPAPERS SUPPRESSED.

The Reich has been confiscated, and even such a high-toned paper as the Ravitstvaie ("Quality") and Prof. Kovalevsky's Extrana have been suppressed. Only the Novoe Vremya and the Swet of the unofficial papers seem to be immune from seizure.

Last night's incendiary fires did not spread, giving relief to those who feared the whole city might be set on fire.

EXECUTIONS RESUMED.

The reports from Cronstadt, today, say that all the sailors have not yet surrendered. Trials by drumhead court-martial were resumed at 10 o'clock this morning, and it is believed that further executions are in progress.

The officers at Cronstadt showed splendid courage, and those killed died fighting. Col. Alexandreff received the mutineers with a revolver and Capt. Tyroschinsky of the submarine miners, after a desperate struggle, was bayonetted by his assailants and his head split open with the butt of a rifle.

Rear-Admiral Beckleneschefi, who received many wounds, died during the night. When the sailors mutinied, the Admiral immediately went out with his staff, heedless of warnings, and entered the barracks. Within a few seconds he and two captains were shot down.

WOMEN IN THE FRAY.

The crowd of civilians who joined the mutineers included a large number of women. They were armed with rifles, revolvers and swords. One of the wounded captains was spared because he wore the St. George cross.

Capt. Trodioneff, who was killed, fought in the battle of the Sea of Japan on one of the Russian ships which foundered. He was fourteen hours in the water before he was picked up.

It has been ascertained that the Yenesie Regiment played the most prominent part at Cronstadt in quelling the mutiny of the sailors. The latter had broken into the arsenal, after overpowering the Guards, and had seized a quantity of arms. After firing several volleys the Yenesei Regiment charged driving out the mutineers, who fled into the streets, pursued by the men of the regiment, who continued their rifle fire to which the mutineers replied. Some shots were fired at the loyalists from houses.

Many of the mutineers sought to escape from the town, but they were met by a hot fire and driven to their barracks, where they were surrounded.

An attempt was made by one party of mutineers to capture the harbor batteries, but it was repulsed by the fire of machine guns.

"RED AND YELLOW CATCH A FELLOW."

Kaiser Follows Up Japan's Victory By Telling the French of a New "Peril" That Colors His Horizon. "Anti-Militarism" Alarms Him.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, Aug. 3.—The Matin today publishes an interview had by its Berlin correspondent with Emperor William, in which his Majesty said concerning the "red" danger.

"The heads of states whether absolute or constitutional monarchies or republics, hourly risk their lives.

"President Falliere runs the same risk as does the Czar and President Roosevelt and the same risks as does King Alfonso.

"Those aiming at the abolition of all authority and order by governments are thoroughly agreed, while those charged with the duty of making order respected are unfortunately disagreed."

The correspondent says that at the Kiel regatta the Kaiser noticed that the French armored cruiser Leon Gambetta was not present. He thought the warship had been invited to be present during the regatta and he said to the French naval attaché:

"It is a pity the Gambetta is absent. Come, come, I know what this means. We are still suspected and are kept in punishment."

The Kaiser enforced his remark with a genial laugh. Speaking to another French naval officer, the Kaiser said: "It is freely reported that I am pleased when I learn that some fresh scandal has broken out in the French army. It is absolutely false. We Europeans live too closely together and our national lives are too determined for us not to feel an evil occurring to any single member. Any harm befalling the French army fills me with uneasiness.

RED GUARD'S LEADER AT HELSINGFORS TAKEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HELSINGFORS, Aug. 3.—The leader of the Red Guard, Capt. Goch, has been arrested.

A number of workmen are on strike and the street cars are not running, but there have been no disturbances today.

Sveaborg fortress is completely in the hands of the government, this morning. The prisoners have been marched out and sent to Skatunden Island, where they will await trial.

ATTEMPT TO FORCE STRIKE.

The Socialistic Red Guard yesterday evening made a last effort to bring about a general strike. They marched in force to the power-house of the street railroad and ordered the men to strike. Upon their refusal, the men attempted to destroy the buildings.

Police and communal guards were summoned, and a fight followed, resulting in the killing of an assistant chief of police and several communal guards and a number of the Red Guards. Cossacks were summoned, and separated the combatants.

The Red Guard consists of the greater part of the Finnish proletariat, while the communal guards are made up of the moderate and wealthy classes, and are organized to maintain order and protect property. They are armed with rifles, and are under almost military discipline.

HANDLING IT CAREFULLY.

The government is handling the situation carefully, fearing that the movement may spread throughout the country. The Cossacks are used only in extreme cases, and then they disperse crowds with more gentleness than they do in Russia.

It transpires that the sharp firing heard from Sveaborg between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday morning came from the reinforcements dispatched there for the purpose of constructing pontoon bridges from island to island, in order to wrest the fortifications from the mutineers. The troops were supported by a cannonade from the fortress on Sandham Island. The attempt was successful, and the government flag was hoisted at noon, showing that the Sveaborg fortress was in the hands of the loyalists.

CUTTING THE LINES.

During the night the telegraph lines were cut, severing communication with Viborg, and a small railroad bridge between here and Viborg was blown up. The bridge was subsequently repaired. Trains from St. Petersburg are arriving here after great delay. One of the railway bridges has again been blown up with dynamite, but it was soon repaired.

The officers' wives showed untiring devotion as nurses. The wounded mutineers suffered severely, as they were ill-provided with medical supplies.

A messenger who came from Sveaborg fortress during the day said that the casualties would be shown to number many more than 500, expressing the opinion that the totals would run into the thousands. The garrison consisted of 6000 men.

GERMAN COMPANY HARD HIT.

HAMBURG, Aug. 3.—At an extraordinary meeting of the stockholders of the Hamburg-Bremen Fire Insurance Company today, the directors informed the stockholders that the total losses of the company as a result of the San Francisco fire amounted to $4,365,000. The reserve on hand amounted to $2,500,000, and it would therefore be necessary for the stockholders to pay 50 per cent. on the capital.

CZAR'S FAIR PLAY.

strikes. Practically all of the street cars in the city have stopped running, and the cab drivers are threatening to cease work today.

POURING IN REINFORCEMENTS.

A dispatch received by the Associated Press from Sestroretz says that heavy reinforcements are being poured in there, evidently in fear of an attack upon the government large and small arms factories located in that suburb.

HOLDING THE 'PHONES.

The long distance telephone station was occupied last night by half a company of infantry, in order to prevent the anticipated attempt of the revolutionists to secure telephonic communication between here and Moscow, and the last train in from Moscow brought railroad officials, who had collected the funds on hand at the various intermediate stations to prevent their seizure in case of a strike.

SEVEN TO DIE.

It was announced at the Admiralty last night that the drumhead court-martial proceedings at Cronstadt probably would be suspended with the execution of seven ringleaders of the mutiny, who were condemned to death Thursday. The other mutineers will be subjected to trial by the regular court-martial, which will be convened after the customary delays.

PAMYAT AZOVA DEATH LIST.

It has now been ascertained that the death list on board the cruiser Pamyat Azova included Capt. Sosinsky, the lieutenants, the chief engineer, the junior engineer, the surgeon, a midshipman and the chief petty officers. Captain of the Second Class Mozyroff was mortally wounded. A private and two lieutenants were slightly wounded. About fifty sailors were killed or wounded.

The three petty officers who organized the local sailors to retake possession of the ship have been singled out for imperial commendation. The mutineers will be court-martialed at Reval.

MUTINY AT REMBERTOFF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WARSAW, Aug. 3.—A portion of the troops in the summer camp at Rembertoff, near here, mutined yesterday, and are in open revolt today. The artillerymen have driven their officers out of their quarters. A squadron of Cossacks, sent to overpower the mutineers, were received with grapeshot.

PAMYAT AZOVA MUTINY.

CRUISER ONCE HELD NICK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—The accounts received here of the mutiny on the armored cruiser Pamyat Azova, August 1, show that the sailors expected to obtain the support of the garrison of the fortress at Reval. A student agitator, probably one of the emissaries sent from St. Petersburg, was stowed away on board.

When the crew mutinied, the cruiser was anchored twenty miles down the coast. Evidently her commander, Capt. Sosinsky, had been warned, for he arrested and sent ashore a sailor named Tarosoff who was regarded as the ringleader.

Two hours afterward, the sailors rose and killed Capt. Saborvsky, the officer on watch. When he saw the mutineers approaching, Saborvsky made a rush for the cabin, but the sailors had jammed the breech blocks of the carbines there and Capt. Saborvsky was shot.

CHASED THE OTHERS ASHORE.

The firing aroused the officers below, who ran up on deck, and taking in the situation, crowded into a launch moored alongside the Pamyat Azova and started for the shore. The mutineers manned a cutter and put off in pursuit of the launch. Three officers were killed by a shell from the cruiser and others were wounded.

The mutineers in the cutter were rapidly overhauling the launch when, on reaching shallow water, the surviving officers jumped into the bay, and made for the shore. An attempt was made by the fugitive officers to drag along with them one of their wounded comrades, but he was evidently abandoned and drowned. Eight officers escaped into the woods.

Later, the mutineers hove up the anchor and headed the cruiser for Reval. Her consort, a torpedo boat, followed under fire from the Pamyat Azova, but was not hit, as she succeeded in keeping out of range.

ARRIVAL AT REVAL.

On arriving at Reval some of the mutineers put off in a boat for the fortress in order to request the artillerymen to join them, but the authorities had in the meantime been apprised of what had happened, and the mutineers were arrested as they landed. This being seen from the cruiser, the main portion of the crew, who in the meantime seem to have remained neutral, suddenly turned on the mutineers, overpowered them, replaced the red flag at the masthead with a white flag, and sent word ashore that the mutineers were confined below decks, whereupon the Governor-General sent off soldiers in boats, and the mutineers were taken ashore.

About 150 sailors were arrested, and a number of students found among the crew were also made prisoners. The Pamyat Azova was the cruiser on which Emperor Nicholas, then heir to the throne, made a voyage to the Far East, in 1893.

SPOKE THE SALINEA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HELSINGFORS, Aug. 3.—The Armored cruiser Pamyat Azova, whose crew mutinied off the Esthonian coast, spoke with the steamer Salinea between this port and Reval. The mutineers of the Pamyat Azova ordered the Salinea to stop, and asked for news from Sveaborg, evidently with the intention of going there to help the mutineers, but when informed that the mutiny at Sveaborg was over, the Pamyat Azova was headed for Reval. The battleships Slava and Czarevitch were sent from here in pursuit of the Pamyat Azova.

LOOKING OVER THE FORTRESS.

SVEABORG SHOWS EVIDENCES OF MUTINEERS' STRENGTH.

Until the Warships Arrived the Government Forces Were Virtually Powerless—The Commander Was Forced from His Headquarters. Over Six Hundred Men Missing.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HELSINGFORS, Aug. 3.—The correspondent of the Associated Press was permitted, today, to look over the fortress on the main island, as well as all the other fortifications overlooking the town, although the officials who complied with his request were careful not to allow him to see the guns.

The scene proved the truth of the statements previously cabled, that the mutineers had the upper hand in practically all the fortresses until the arrival of the warships.

Escorted by an officer, the correspondent was shown all the minor barracks and fortifications and the wharf and neighboring quays, which bristled with machine guns. Flagstaffs had been splintered as if the mutineers had tried to shoot away the Russian colors.

THE COMMANDER FLEW.

The most severe fire from the fortress was directed on the headquarters of the commander, who, the second day of the battle, was forced to seek shelter in a better-protected place.

The barracks in the vicinity showed plainly the effects of the fighting. They today are nothing more than tottering ruins, upheld by iron girders. The church in which hang the memorials of the French and English bombardment of 1855 was struck several times, but it is evident that the mutineers did not wish to destroy the building. In spite of the fact that none of its windows remain whole.

WARSHIPS CREPT UP.

There is no question that until the warships came up the government was powerless adequately to reply to the mutineers, and was simply able to hold its positions. The commander had scarcely fled from his headquarters, leaving them a heap of fallen ruins, when the warships crept up the coast and opened fire. Taken unawares, without leaders and with but little food, the mutineers gave up.

TWO OFFICERS THERE.

It now transpires that there were two officers among the mutinous men, Lieut. Kokhensy and Lieut. Emiljanoff. The latter was wounded. Kokhensy gave himself up to the Bogatyr, and asked pardon.

A special court is coming here from St. Petersburg, next week, to try the prisoners. One hundred men are confined in Helsingfors and Skatunden. The casualties are not yet known, but 650 men are missing. It is impossible to say how many were wounded. As previously cabled in these dispatches, only five officers were killed.

BLACK HUNDREDS' "TIP."

STOLYPIN INVESTIGATING IT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MOSCOW, Aug. 3.—Premier Stolypin has given orders to investigate the remarkable evidence that Black Hundreds of Moscow were aware in advance that M. Herzenstein, the Constitutional Democratic leader, was to be murdered at his country residence near Terioki, Finland.

It develops that it was a correspondent of the Associated Press who asked St. Petersburg, by telephone, two hours before the assassination, whether there was any truth in the report in circulation in Moscow that M. Herzenstein had been murdered. The correspondent obtained his information from a local evening paper, the Malk.

The editor of the Malk has informed the police that he obtained his information from the editor of the Vieche, a Black Hundred paper of Moscow, which has been publishing provocative articles against the Jews and revolutionists.

HILL AND MORGAN PRESS THE FIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 3.—The Journal today says that the three-cornered war among the Harriman, Hill and Milwaukee Railway interests in the Northwest is reaching an acute stage. It developed yesterday that James J. Hill is behind the Dakota Midland Railway, which is about to invade the Milwaukee territory between Sioux City, Iowa and Pierre, S. D. The new road is to run through part of the great corn belt of Iowa in competition with the Milwaukee.

Having failed to get control of the Milwaukee in 1901, Hill has now started to parallel the system wherever possible, in retaliation for the Milwaukee's construction of an extension to the Pacific Coast.

J. P. Morgan and his interests are allied with Hill, and the Harriman interests are believed to be in close alliance with the Milwaukee.

CHICAGO-CUBAN TRAVEL.

BLOW AT COAST INTERESTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Elaborate preparations are being made by roads interested in Chicago-Cuban travel for next winter's business, which is expected to exceed last winter's many fold. The Illinois Central will run a fast service from Chicago to New Orleans steamship service. The Alton and Mobile and Ohio also are having new boats built especially for the Mobile-Havana service.

ROADS ASK NO REDUCTION.

NORTHWESTERN, NORTH SHORE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 3.—Thomas Mellersh, secretary and treasurer of the California Northwestern and the North Shore Railroads, was before the State Board of Equalization this morning and gave his statement of railroad matters.

The California Northwestern, which is a lessee of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railroad, reports 215.27 miles of track, valued at $1,076,350. Its rolling stock is valued at $347,450. Its gross earnings were $1,455,651; its operating expenses were $935,423, leaving a net income of $570,728. The deductions for interest, etc., amounted to $460,797, leaving a surplus of $59,430.

The North Shore has 81 miles of track. Its rolling stock is valued at $140,025; its gross earnings were $766,034; its operating expenses, $660,999, leaving a net income of $105,304. The interest on funded debt, etc., amounts to $328,650, leaving a deficit of $223,346.

In closing his argument, Mellersh said his roads would ask no reduction but if left alone this year they hoped to be able to voluntarily raise their own statement of valuations next year.

ARTISTS TO FIGHT COMSTOCK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—A statement regarding the raid of Anthony Comstock, head of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, upon the art students Thursday and the arrest of the young woman book-keeper on the charge of dealing in obscene literature in circulating the league's fall catalogue, containing pictures in the nude, was given out by the league tonight, and it says, in part:

"That a school of this character should be subjected to the sensational attacks of Mr. Comstock is outrageous, and the league had not the slightest intimation that its publication could be considered objectionable until Mr. Comstock's sudden arrest of an entirely innocent and unprotected girl employé.

"Concerning the pamphlets, copies of them were transmitted through the mails with the full knowledge and consent of the postal authorities. This attack is not on the league alone, but on all artists, and it is needless to say that the league will push the fight vigorously."

ENTHUSE OVER VERSAILLES.

Kentucky Girls in Paris Take in the Sights, Though One Remains to Catch Count.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unaccompanied by any mob, twenty-nine of the Kentucky girls went today to Versailles. One of the thirty remained behind. She was Miss Mary Lear of Paint Lick, Ky., who is quoted in her home paper as having expressed the determination to become a Countess.

The party left the hotel for Versailles at 10 o'clock in the forenoon in a brake drawn by six horses, and passed the entire day in charge of the conductor furnished by Cook's, who guided them through the grounds of the palace and the Trianons.

On the way back to Paris Miss Mattie Hughes of Midway, Ky., prevailed upon the driver to intrust the reins to her. To his delight and admiration, Miss Hughes tooled the brake as well as any exhibitor at the Madison Square Garden horse show might have done.

The young women are enthusiastic over Versailles.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Following the theories of the country's foremost physicians and the recent ruling of the juvenile courts, the Pennsylvanian Society to protect children from cruelty has instituted the practice of performing operations upon the children in its charge where medical opinion is that such a course is likely to prevent a criminal career.

The first subjects were operated upon yesterday at the infirmary of the society. In all, seven children were put under the knife by a number of the city's most prominent surgeons. The physicians who either participated or were interested in the operations were:

Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, Dr. A. C. Abbott, Dr. G. W. Dougherty, Dr. E. H. Doey, R. W. W. Hawke, Dr. Alfred Gordon, Dr. C. K. Mills, Dr. Louns Starr and Dr. Fred Frawley.

Dowie for the second time announced that he would not be a candidate.

LABOR.

COPPER MINES WILL RESUME.

Great Falls Smelter Strike of Short Duration.

Whole Trouble Is Caused by One Union Miner.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELENA, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a meeting of the strikers tonight it was decided to return to work tomorrow. The five discharged men will remain away from the plant until a grievance committee can take up and adjust their affairs.

HELENA (Mont.) Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The strike declared by the mill and smeltermen at the smelter of the Amalgamated Copper Company in Great Falls today, resulted in a complete close-down of the plant, one of the largest in the Northwest, as well as five mines of the Boston & Montana Copper Company in Butte. About 1200 men are out at Great Falls and 1500 in Butte.

The mines affected are the Leonard, East Colusa, Pennsylvania, West Colusa and Mountain View, and these are among the largest producers of the camp.

The stopping of work was necessitated because the ore bins were full. The smelter management has issued a statement calling upon the men to return to work, declaring the strike to have been precipitous, hasty and not fully considered by the men.

Business men, however, do not look for a prolonged shutdown as the officials have expressed a willingness to adjust any grievances in a deliberate manner, "in due course."

It develops that one man who was in arrearages on his union dues is the cause of the whole trouble which thus far has thrown 5000 men out of employment. Five smeltermen, constituting a committee, became too insistent in demanding the discharge of the smelterman behind in his union payments, and the quintet was discharged. Their dismissal precipitated the trouble, the union demanding the reinstatement of the five men, and upon the company's refusal the strike was ordered.

LABOR LAW OVERRULED.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS INFRINGED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The law limiting labor by women and children to ten hours a day or sixty hours a week in a factory was declared by Justice Olmstead to be an unwarranted infringement of constitutional rights. The ruling was concurred in by Justices McLean and Deuel. Judge Olmstead held that the law was class legislation.

Justice Olmstead said in his decision:

"To labor and employ labor are the natural and inalienable rights of our citizens and cannot be taken away in whole or in part unless upon the foundation of public good, which is not apparent and cannot be predicated upon legislative dictum.

"It may be stated as a well-settled proposition that the right to labor and contract for that labor is part of liberty and property right; and, therefore, the Legislature enacts a statute such as that under consideration, if must be admitted that it has infringed, in the enactment, the rights which are very clearly guarded by the Constitution to individual citizens."

Gen. Mayer announced tonight that he would appeal from the decision of the court.

"We will carry the case, if need be," he said, "to the Supreme Court of the United States, so long as the question of the constitutionality of the State law is raised."

STRIKERS FAIL TO FEAZE.

RAILROADS INDIFFERENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Despite the difficulties that confront the Railroads and threaten, any time to tie up the entire system, the city has assumed an indifferent attitude toward the various unions that have declared a strike, and expressed confidence in handling the situation.

Darnwall Mullaly, assistant to Mr. Calhoun, has decided to employ non-union men to take the places of the strikers until Mr. Calhoun arrives from the East to take action on the problem.

The walk-out of firemen, oilers, wipers, boiler cleaners and pump men is added to the difficulties of the operation, although non-union men have been secured to take the place of the more recent strikers.

The differences with the linemen will be held in abeyance, and, with four lines working, the company claims to be able to cope with the situation in this direction.

Mullaly says he has 100 track men to perform a portion of the work that was being done by the union men who gave up their jobs.

The sympathetic strike took place on the Oakland pier last night, when the oilers, firemen and wipers struck without warning and shut down the Bryant-street and North Beach power plants, and, for a short time, tied up several ferries.

Forty-eight men walked out early this morning, ostensibly to reinforce their demands for an eight-hour day. The real reason is said to be that the oilers, wipers and firemen are in sympathy with the striking electricians and do not wish to work with non-union men.

The delay to traffic was of short duration, and the company claims that it put thirty-two men at work in place of those that struck, in less than half an hour after the strike took place.

Mayor Schmitz was in conference with Mr. Mullaly today.

TRADES DISPUTES BILL PASSES.

BRITISH LABOR MEASURE FAVORED IN COMMITTEE.

Extraordinary Scene in House of Commons When Balfour Accuses Premier of Deliberately Breaking His Pledge—Government Amendments Defeated by Narrow Margin.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The Trades Disputes Bill, which is a direct outcome of the Taffvale decision that trades-unions funds are liable for the illegal acts of individual members of a union, passed the committee state in the House of Commons this morning, and was reported to the House amid ministerial cheers.

Considerable excitement marked the debate, during which several amendments opposed, by the government, were defeated by narrow majorities, in one case the government being saved from defeat by a few Unionist votes.

There was a somewhat extraordinary scene after midnight, following Prime Minister Campbell-Bannerman's refusal to accept Lord Robert Cecil's motion to report progress. Lord Robert announcing that the Prime Minister had pledged that the debate should not continue after 11 o'clock. When the motion was defeated by a government majority of 212, Mr. Balfour accused the Prime Minister of deliberately breaking his pledge. He declined to take further part in the proceedings, and invited his followers to leave the House.

The invitation of the former Prime Minister was accepted by all the three score members of the opposition present, amid ironical Ministerial, Nationalist and Laborite cheering. A few of those who left the chamber returned subsequently, but the front opposition bench remained empty, and several Liberals and Radicals took seats on it amid Radical cheering. The debate then proceeded without interest to its close.

FIRE RUINS FINE MILAN EXHIBITS.

SUPPOSEDLY INCENDIARY FLAME SWEEPS EXHIBITION.

Palace of Decorative Arts Mass of Ruins—Priceless Paintings Damaged by Mud and Water—Works of Great Historic Value Lost—Damage Estimated at $3,000,000.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MILAN, Aug. 3.—Fire which broke out here this morning in the international exposition did extensive damage. The sections devoted to the decorative arts of Italy and Hungary were destroyed, as also was the pavilion in which were installed the exhibits of Italian and Hungarian architecture.

The fire was discovered at 5 o'clock in the Hungarian section and spread rapidly to the art sections, situated in an adjoining park. For a time, British, Swiss, Japanese and Netherlands sections were threatened, but by energetic work the firemen succeeded in saving them.

The jewelry and fine arts sections were also threatened, but a large force of carbineers carried the pictures, many of them of almost priceless value, from the gallery of fine arts into the corridors of sections beyond the fire zone.

At noon the fire was considered under control.

DOUBT AS TO ORIGIN.

The origin of the fire is attributed to an electric short circuit. The authorities are of the opinion that the fire was of incendiary origin.

The scene of the conflagration was the center of the most active portion of the exposition.

The palace of decorative arts is a mass of ruins.

The architectural pavilion, which was also destroyed, contained many exhibits of historic value, including the original model of the dome of the cathedral of Milan, many original documents referring to Milan's famous scientist, Volta, relating to voltaic electricity and numerous documents referring to Napoleon I.

Although the fine arts pavilion was saved, many fine paintings were damaged, being splashed by mud and water, while the firemen were hastily carrying them to places of safety.

Owing to the value of some of the exhibits destroyed, the loss is now estimated at $2,000,000 to $3,000,000.

OLD-TIME PRINTER DIES.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Isaac D. George, former president of the International Typographical Union, died yesterday at the Presbyterian Hospital after an illness of eight weeks. Mr. George was 69 years old. GOV. PARDEE'S HOLD-UP GAME.

Keeping Back Appointments to Trade for Votes.

Slick Political Scheme of the "Weak Brother."

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—A Sacramento paper, which, until recently, insisted that the Espee had thrown the doctor down because it could not "use" him, said the other day that Pardee was the most "industrious" Governor the State has ever had. Another Sacramento paper a few days later declared that the doctor was entitled to another term because he had "stuck" to his desk in the Capitol day in and day out, in season and out of season, despite the hot weather and mosquitoes.

All this and similar stuff is now being unloaded on the public by the Alameda office-holding machine in the vain hope that somehow or other it will influence somebody's vote at Santa Cruz.

It must be admitted, however, that if "sticking" to his desk and being a "good" and "industrious" Governor consists in never acting until the last moment, in holding up appointments until the applicants and people to be served are worn out, and in dealing out daily bushels of letters filled with guile and misrepresentation, then Pardee is certainly at the apex of the political pyramid. For four years he has practiced thus on the State until many people believe that he is never in his office and never attends to business.

Indeed, at this very moment there is a roar all over Northern California at his conduct. Nor is this roar confined to the practical politicians. Many people interested in public affairs complain that, in using his patronage to further his renomination, Pardee has demoralized the public service and actually damaged the interests of the State.

It is a notorious fact that ever since he began his wire-pulling to secure control of the Santa Cruz convention he has filled vacancies in State offices only under protest. Evidently his idea has been that the more "pap" he could hold out the more apt the political bosses would be to do "business" with him in delegates. At one time it was rumored that he had thrown a bundle of offices at Abe Ruef, the labor-union boss of this city, but if this was true Ruef resisted the temptation, for he has since shown no signs of having been so bribed.

It is also notorious that Harbor Commissioner Spear and Pardee's secretary, A. B. Nye, are traveling about the State among the politicians and hinting that if things "go right" at Santa Cruz a flood of appointments will follow the adjournment of the convention. Of course, the Governor has written to all the office holders of his machine, to wake up and rustle for delegates, which does not help him nor hurt them, but the use of patronage in the manner indicated is not only disgraceful and unjustifiable, but a detriment to the State.

In Sacramento, where Pardee and Spear set out a month ago to get a trading delegation, this patronage lever was used to the breaking point. "Jim" Gillis, the Republican boss, was appointed two months before his term as State Librarian expired, in order to prevent his jumping the traces, and half a dozen other political powers were placated with notaries, etc. The patronage of the State Hospitals at Napa, Ukiah and Stockton has been used in the same way. In Mendocino, however, resulting in a failure. In that county the people, at a primary, voted Pardee's delegates down.

OFFICES HELD UP.

Here is a list of the principal offices Pardee has held up during the past year, and with which he is now seeking to force his renomination:

John D. Mackenzie, Harbor Commissioner at San Francisco; term expired March 14, 1906; salary $3000 a year.

Charles M. Shortridge of San José and D. W. Field of Los Angeles, Building and Loan Commissioners; terms expired long ago; salary $2400 a year.

Z. S. Eldridge, Bank Commissioner, resigned several months ago; salary, $3600 a year.

Is. E. Aubury, State Mineralogist; term expired February 25, 1906; salary, $3000 a year.

Louis Janin of Santa Barbara, Harold T. Power of Placer, C. H. Lindley, F. W. Bradley and E. A. Stent of San Francisco, comprising the State Mining Bureau. The terms of all expired early in the year.

Frank D. Ryan, Commissioner of Public Works, term expired March 5, 1905; salary, $3000 a year.

A. B. Lemmon of Santa Rosa, Joseph Steffend of Sacramento, B. W. Lee of Los Angeles and W. C. Van Fleet of San Francisco, comprising the Board of State Library Trustees, all terms expired. About two months ago this board met and elected James L. Gillis Librarian, although his term had not expired, and would not expire for two months. Gillis is the "boss" of Sacramento. Evidently in this case delay was dangerous, since shortly after his election Gillis put up a delegation to the State convention pledged to vote for Pardee. The trustees, however, have not been reappointed. The annual salary of Gillis is $3000.

Among the other offices vacant and being held up by Pardee which involve patronage are those of James H. Wilkins of San Rafael, prison director; John G. Murray, Harbor Commissioner at Eureka, deceased; W. W. Greer, G. W. Vice and W. N. Lamphrey of Sacramento, Trustees of Sutter's Fort; Thomas Fox, William Land, C. W. Paine of Sacramento, James Whittaker of Galt, L. J. Rose, Jr., of Oxnard, E. W. Howard of San Mateo, and Senator Rush of Solano, members of the State Board of Agriculture.

Besides these, there are many notaries and other minor places which have continued vacant for months, notwithstanding the clamor of candidates and the people affected to have them filled.

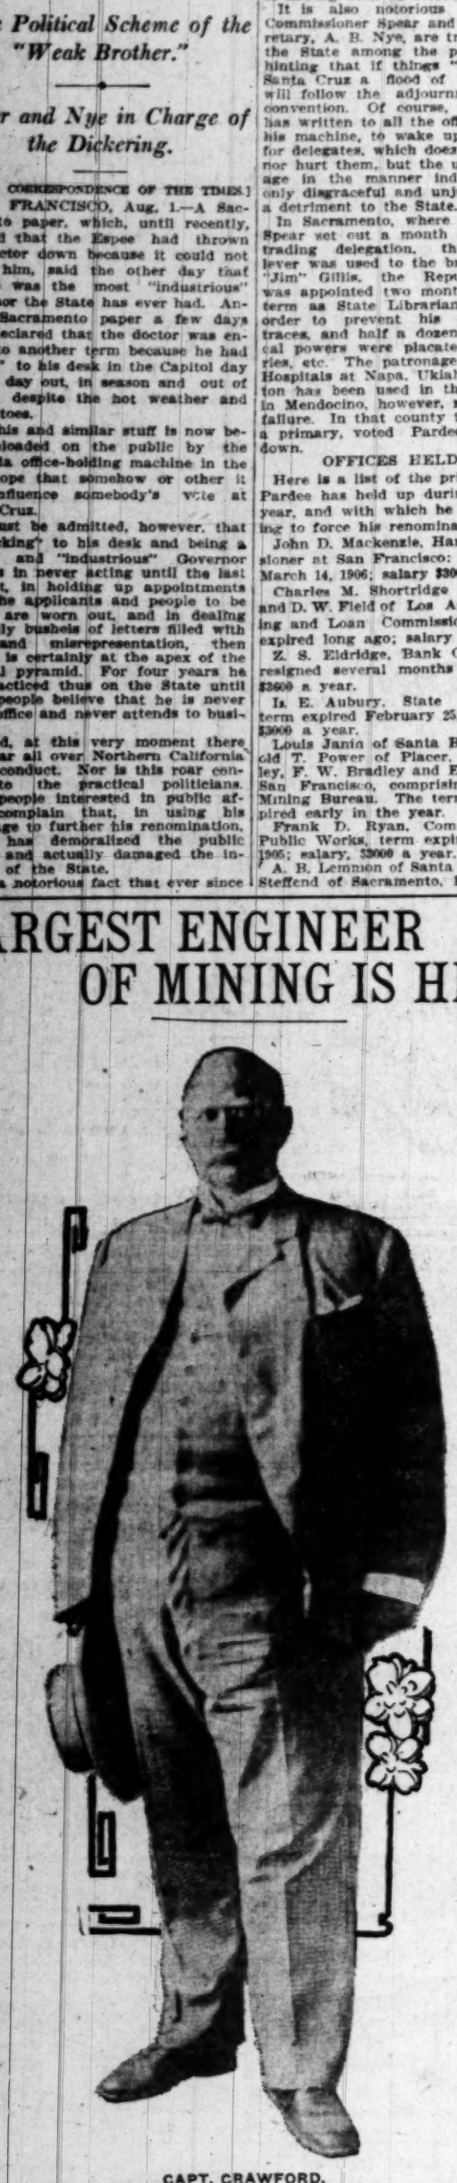
TIRED OF HIM.

For a year it has been evident in Northern California that the people want no more of Pardee. His fight for renomination was dead long before the fire, and is now rapidly reaching a state of decomposition which requires the attention of his own Board of Health and the application of a disinfectant. Yet he will not subside. This "good" and "industrious" Governor proposes to make the people vote him into oblivion, and he is not only holding up appointments to the detriment and utter demoralization of the public service, but he is willing to exchange them for votes in the open market; a flagrant form of political bribery.

There is no doubt about this. Every Oakland politician knows that the places named above are being used by Charles H. Spear and A. B. Nye for this purpose, and every politician in this city is now talking about the peculiar "goodness" of the Governor, who is authorizing them to be so used.

Primary elections will be held in many locations besides this city on August 14. At that time what the people think about the methods of this "good and "industrious" Governor will be registered.

LARGEST ENGINEER OF MINING IS HERE.



CAPT. CRAWFORD,

mining engineer, who has visited every district in the world, and is the largest active man in his profession. Weighs 348 pounds; tipped scales at 380 pounds one year ago. Yesterday jumped and kicked an electric chandelier eight feet from the floor.

CAPT. G. C. W. CRAWFORD, one of the most widely known consulting mining engineers of the United States, who has visited every mining district in the world, is a guest at the Angelus Hotel.

Capt. Crawford is the largest active mining man in the country, and is also big mentally. Physically he measures over 6 feet 2 inches in height, weighs 348 now, when in training, and has a chest development that makes Mr. Jeffries blush with envy. A year ago, he neglected exercise a little and soon weighed 380 pounds. He is athletic and spry. Yesterday he demonstrated this by jumping and easily kicking an electric chandelier eight feet from the floor.

Capt. Crawford is now consulting engineer for the Death Valley Corporation of New York, and has just come to Los Angeles after a fifteen-day journey through the burning sands of Death Valley and vicinity.

The thermometer registered as high as 142 deg., while Crawford was on the desert, and part of the time he was scrambling over mountainous trails on foot, as the mines he was investigating were located where no horse could go. Crawford said he stood the heat excellently, and that the nights on the desert during the last week have been very hot, lacking even the usual coolness.

Speaking of the future of the mining districts of Southern Nevada and the Death Valley region, Capt. Crawford said:

"With but one exception this district is the richest in the world. The Rand of South Africa cannot be compared with Southern Nevada for richness. The mines of Australia are not so good. The only country that can boast of mines that surpass Nevada is Bolivia, South America, which I think is the treasure-house of the world."

The last visit Crawford made to the Southwest of the United States was thirteen years ago, when he looked over the greater portion of the then known mining districts in the interests of various companies.

He said that the fever for gold mines has resulted in hundreds of worthless claims being located. A great part of his work, he said, has been the throwing aside of worthless mines.

Capt. Crawford has a host of friends in Los Angeles, and has been kept busy at his hotel receiving them. He will return to Death Valley within a few days and continue his investigation of the mines of the corporation that now retains his services.

FIRE AND CARELESSNESS.

Blaze Started to Burn Off Weeds Nearly Takes Residence, and Does Considerable Damage.

Henry N. Elliott, a pioneer resident who lives on Reservoir street, in the northwestern part of the city, had a narrow escape from seeing his residence go up in flames, yesterday between 1 and 2 o'clock. The owner of three olts, fronting on Ivers avenue, south of Reservoir street, showed gross carelessness in starting a fire to burn off the weeds, while a brisk breeze was blowing in the direction of Elliott's cottage. The fire soon got beyond control, burned a part of the fence in the rear and an outhouse, and in a few minutes more would have reached the cottage, had a chemical engine and a hose cart not arrived, in the nick of time. As it is, the damage done to outbuildings and to some fine trees amounts to several hundred dollars.

The police are said to have directed owners of vacant lots to burn the weeds off them. It looks, however, like criminal folly to attempt this in the midst of residences, after the seabreeze comes up. There is a law providing for certain hours in which such burning may be done, but more stringent restrictions are needed. Residents there claim this fire shows the need for a fire engine house in that rapidly growing section of the city. At present the nearest is on Temple street, a distance of half a mile, and by the time the engine gets to the upper hills the horses are exhausted. A short time ago the City Council purchased a lot on Sunset boulevard, near Peabody station, for a fire house, but nothing has been done toward the construction of one.

An alarming percentage of the young men of the cities of the south are physically unfit to enter the army, owing to cigarette smoking, late hours and other bad habits, is the statement made by Lieut. W. E. Bennett, Jr., in charge of the New Orleans recruiting office. Lieut. Bennett says that out of a total of 106 applications during July only twenty-nine men were accepted.

City Engineer Succumbs to Poisoning by Gas.

Widow Stricken Seriously by Sudden Blow.

Physicians Scout Rumor of Suicidal Intent.

City Engineer Harry F. Stafford, who was discovered night before last nearly asphyxiated in the bathroom of his Highland Park home, died shortly before 9 o'clock last night at the residence of W. J. Rudesill, No. 149 East Avenue 58.

Mrs. Stafford, entirely unnerved by the shock, is under the care of doctors and fears are entertained for her mental condition. She, accompanied by her two young daughters, was hurried home from Catalina Island early yesterday morning and arrived knowing nothing beyond the fact that her husband was seriously ill.

For more than twenty-four hours Drs. J. T. Stewart and J. T. F. Jenkins labored to strengthen the heart beats of the dying man, and for a time during the morning there was some hope that his life might be saved. At 1 o'clock he began to sink, and only strong stimulants kept him alive.

"I believe that his condition never really improved from the time we first began working over him," said Dr. Stewart to a Times reporter last night. "He never regained consciousness and while we were able to overcome to a certain degree the immediate effects of the poisonous gas, the remoter effects were baffling. His heart failed very rapidly."

East Avenue 58 was a sad neighborhood last night. The pretty homes on either side of the short thoroughfare were thronged with relatives and friends. Little groups walked up and down the pavement talking in hushed tones; automobiles came and went, and telephones were kept busy in response to messages of sympathy from all parts of the city.

At the Stafford home, No. 120, were gathered practically all of the relatives of Harry Stafford, three brothers, a sister, his mother and three sisters of Mrs. Stafford, with their husbands. All efforts to comfort the heart-broken widow failed; her cries of anguish were heartrending, and finally the doctors administered opiates to quiet her.

"I wish you would quote me as saying that there is almost nothing to lend any foundation for the suicide theory that has been rumored about town today," said Dr. Jenkins. "So sure are we that it was all an accident that we will not ask for an inquest, but rather that it be waived."

Dr. Stewart, the Stafford family physician, scouts the idea that the City Engineer committed suicide. "I have known him intimately for eight years and never knew a happier family than I have always found at his home," said the doctor. "There has been some report also that he was subject to fainting spells. In all the eight years that I have known him, nothing of this kind has been brought to my notice."

While no arrangements have been made for the funeral, it has been decided to ship the body to Santa Ana tomorrow afternoon and the funeral and interment will be held there, where Mr. Stafford lived for years.

The relatives of the deceased are the widow, Lottie Gronard Stafford, two daughters, Dorothy, 13 years old, and Helen, 9 years old; the mother, Mrs. R. J. Blee of Santa Ana; three brothers, N. O. Stafford of this city, F. P. Stafford of Santa Ana and W. A. Stafford of Oakland, and a sister, Mrs. J. W. Flagg of Santa Ana. Three sisters of Mrs. Stafford are Mrs. A. R. Bristol, L. L. Shaw and Ed. Tedford.

Harry F. Stafford was a native son of the Golden West and was born in Petaluma, Sonoma county, in 1864. When he was 8 years old his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Stafford, moved from Petaluma to Santa Ana. Educated in the Santa Ana public schools, the young man was then sent to Napa College where he graduated, then took a course in engineering at the University of California.

Upon his return to Santa Ana he practiced his profession, served as county postmaster under C. E. Pleak and in 1886 was elected Surveyor of Los Angeles county.

When the county was divided three years later it became necessary for him to move to Los Angeles. At the expiration of his term he worked under former City Engineer Compton and then left his position when Dockweiler (a Democrat) succeeded Compton.

He found no difficulty in getting a responsible position with the San Gabriel Electric Company.

In 1899 he was appointed Deputy City Engineer by F. H. Olmstead, and two years later his work as deputy had given him confidence to contest with Olmstead for the office of City Engineer. Stafford won and was serving his third term in this position when the unhappy accident called him from his labors.

Harry Stafford was a member of the Santa Ana Lodge of Native Sons, belonged to the East Gate Lodge of the order of Odd Fellows, was a Forester, a member of the Union League Club and had joined the Woodmen of the World.

NEW INTEREST IN THE NORMAL.

PLAN OF STUDENTS TO SECURE VALUED DIPLOMAS.

Progressive Methods in State School Bring Promise of Great Increase in Its Usefulness to Southern California—Elective Studies a Feature, Changes Also—New Teachers.

Hundreds of applications pouring into the office of the president of the State Normal School of Los Angeles from prospective students are an earnest of the large enrollment promised for the opening of school on September 5. Work in all branches of study is to be done by the faculty, which has been greatly strengthened by recent additions.

Of interest to many is the announcement that the two years' course is to be done away with, and students desiring this particular work may graduate and secure a grammar grade teacher's certificate. Such a course will be able to complete the two years' course in three years. The course of study, covering three years, and offering increased opportunities for advanced work, will lead to A certificate of graduation from this course will give students the required credits for the first two years' work at Stanford or Berkeley, a saving of time in securing the higher and secondary grades of credentials. The economic and educational advantages of the three years' course will undoubtedly retain a large attendance.

Those from the Normal will be given an opportunity to complete the additional year's course and thereby secure the two years of university credit. This applies to those who have previously graduated from an accredited high school, though others may arrange to make up a year's credits and enter the second year of university work.

An important step will be taken this year, as it is proposed to introduce a liberal number of elective subjects. The aim of the faculty is to make the required subjects the minimum, while the electives are to be the maximum. This applies especially to the upper grades. Specialization will be made practicable in certain departments, and especially in manual training, agriculture, nature study and music.

In selecting the new members of the faculty for 1906-7, only teachers of experience in down-to-date methods were chosen. The old members retained are among the most progressive, as it is determined to broaden the ideas of the students who attend the Los Angeles Normal School.

MANY NEW TEACHERS.

Among those who have been added to the teaching force is Ernest Babcock, who will have charge of the work in agriculture and nature study, and also of the museum of the school. He is a graduate of the Los Angeles Normal School and of the Agricultural Department of the State University, and for some time has been actively connected with the experimental work of the State Horticultural Department. During vacation Mr. Babcock is dividing his time between Columbia University and visiting the leading museums of the East, especially the Field Columbian Museum in Chicago, and the National Museum at Washington, in order to complete plans for a museum on strictly modern lines at the Normal School.

Lewis M. Terman, the newly-elected teacher of pedagogy, is a graduate, with the degree of A.B., from Central Normal College, Danville, Ill., has the degrees of A.B. and A.M. from Indiana University, and the degree of Ph.D. from Clark University. Dr. Terman has had several years of practical experience in teaching in the grammar and secondary schools of Indiana, and was last year principal of the High School of San Bernardino. He has published several papers of considerable value on pedagogical subjects.

John B. Cleveland, who will teach mathematics, was a student at Stanford University, Knox College, and then at the University of Chicago, where he gained the degree of B.S. Mr. Cleveland has taught successfully in common schools, was principal of the Kewane (Ill.) High School for two years, and then tutor in mathematics at Knox College.

ART AND ORATORY.

The new teacher of drawing, Miss Nellie M. Gere, has studied extensively, both in this country and abroad, and has for several years been one of the four supervisors of drawing in the Chicago public schools.

Miss Alice M. Osden, teacher of reading, is a graduate of the Emerson School of Oratory, Boston, and was for many years teacher of reading in the Moorhead Normal School, Minn., and for the past six years in the Macomb Normal School, Ill.

The position as critic teacher in the Training School, made vacant by the marriage of Miss Reeves, will be filled by Mrs. Beatrice Chandler Patton, who is a graduate of the Los Angeles Normal School, and received her B.S. degree from the University of Chicago. Mrs. Patton is also a member of the Phi Beta Kappa of Chicago University. Her practical experience has been gained, for the most part, as a critic teacher in the Educational School of Chicago University.

Everett Shepardson, who will have charge of the Training School, has been connected with the Normal School for many years, during this period developing and organizing the work in pedagogy and the study of children in a very satisfactory manner. During this vacation he is studying at Columbia University, acquainting himself with the methods and ideals of the practice schools in connection with the university and the Teachers' College.

ATHLETICS NOT NEGLECTED.

Special attention is to be given at the Normal this year to all branches of athletics, and the school will put a track team, baseball and basketball team into the local field. The determination of students and faculty to take a lively part in athletics is attracting athletes who desire to take pedagogical work, and already there is a promise of a strong track team from among those already in school and the men who will enter this fall.

A good gymnasium is a feature which will lend itself to the training of the sprinters and weight men, and there is reason to believe Normal will be an important factor in the race for championship track and field honors. It is barely possible the school will place a football team in the field.

WIDOW'S BLIND PORKER ROUTED.

TELL-TALE SQUEAKS REVEAL WHEREABOUTS OF STY.

Paradise of Thirsty Street Car Men Broken Up by Arrest of Mrs. Jackson, Who Claims She Is Only Trying to Procure Money to Educate Daughters.

Mr. T. P. Jackson, residing at Avenue 66 and Robles street, was arrested last evening on the charge of conducting a "blind pig." Complaints have reached the Central Station recently that men were frequenting the house at all times of the day and night.

Officers disguised as real estate dealers gained entrance and are said to have bought quantities of liquor. When the police were admitted, Mrs. Jackson required them to order liquor and sign the order, which was sent to the bottling works.

She mentioned that it was customary for the "favored" to leave a quarter for each bottle of beer.

Mrs. Jackson is a widow and among her patrons has made a special plea for protection on the ground that her husband was a "prominent member" of one of the old-time fraternal orders. She wears her husband's emblem on a chain about her neck so that it will be seen by the men who patronize her.

Many of her customers are said to be street car men. On several occasions, late at night, when few if any passengehs were on the street cars, conductors and motormen are said frequently to have stopped their cars long enough to procure some of the "bottled moisture."

The tent house at the corner of Avenue 66 and Paso Robles has long been a veritable oasis for the thirsty in the parched and arid stretches of Garvanza.

Hither, Sunday and week days, the dry disciples of Bacchus have stealthily betaken themselves under pretext of purchasing ice-cream soda or lemon phosphate. Once on the inside of the quiet-looking little tent house, the proprietress of the "pig" slyly informed her caller that there is something stronger in the refrigerator if they desire it. Thus are the unsuspecting initiated. Once "onto the ropes," they return regularly.

The first requisite at the tent house is an "order." Mrs. Jackson keeps a pad of blank orders on one of the Los Angeles brewers and every prospective patron is asked to sign one of these, which in effect is a request that "Driver No. —— is to deliver to Mrs. Jackson two dozen bottles of beer." The order is marked paid and goes on file. The driver never takes them. Immediately this order is signed, the patron becomes a life-long member of the Garvanza Brotherhood of Blind Piggers, entitled to anything in the booze line.

If an absent-minded policeman happens so far to forget himself as to pry into Mrs. Jackson's business, or to peep into her ice-chest, he is merely shown the orders and informed that her customers leave their booze with her to be kept on the ice. She keeps it there, of course, simply as an "accommodation." Naturally, she would have him infer, there is no profit in it for her.

It is a noticeable fact, among her patrons, that one order always suffices. No matter what amount is purchased—whether twenty or fifty bottles—the order for two dozen covers everything. You pay 25 cents a bottle for the beer, just as you drink it.

Mrs. Jackson has two children—one of them a pretty girl, about 17, and the other about 7. Both of these girls know that she sells liquor. She declares that she deals in it "in order to procure money for the education of the girls."

For some time the neighbors of Mrs. Jackson have complained of the close proximity of the "joint." People who live near-by report that men can be seen visiting the place at all hours of the day and night.

Mrs. Jackson cautions them to be quiet, but frequently a number of half-drunk men have sat out on the back porch, imbibing "the juice that cheers," until 1 and 2 o'clock a.m., telling stories and indulging in boisterous talk and laughter. On several occasions, too, singing of a non-musical brand has been loudly indulged in.

Mrs. Jackson, it is reported, is planning a similar place in South Pasadena. She intends to build a two-story structure near Lincoln Park.

RANSACKS ROOMS AS GUESTS CHAT MERRILY NEARBY.

Daring Burglar Enters the Barnard House During Progress of Lawn Party and Is Frightened Away. Detectives Say He Committed Two Other Robberies.

Near the merrymaking of a fashionable garden party and while lights gleamed brightly throughout the house and about the lawn, a daring burglar entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnard in Barnard Park Thursday night and ransacked two rooms, the smartly-clad men and women guests being unaware of the robber's presence until some of them noticed a roughly dressed man hurrying away from the rear of the house.

Those who saw the fellow suspected that he was a burglar, but when they voiced their expressions the idea was dismissed as too improbable for belief. After the guests had departed, however, Mrs. Barnard went into one of the bedrooms on the second floor of the house and found the contents of the bureau drawers dumped on the top of the dresser and everything in disorder.

An investigation was immediately made and it was found that the burglar had climbed on a shed and then crossed to the rear portion of the house, which is one story high. He had walked up the roof of this portion to a window in the second story of the main wing of the house and, after prying this open, had climbed in, and gone through the two rooms.

The intruder had evidently been in the place but a few minutes before some guests entering the house frightened him away. Nothing was missed, though he had evidently selected a number of articles of value to carry away with him when the noise made by the guests caused him to flee as quickly as possible. The matter was reported to the police yesterday and detectives are now looking for the man described by the guests.

The detectives say that they believe the burglar is the same robber who entered a West Twenty-first street residence Wednesday night and secured $65 while the family were entertaining guests in the parlor, and who also robbed the home of Mrs. R. Fisher, No. 315 Boyd street, the same night, while the family were seated on the front porch chatting with friends.

When the Fischer family started to retire for the night they found that all the bedrooms had been ransacked and a pair of diamond ear rings, a gold signet ring, a gold watch, a pair of opera glasses, three bank books and $15 in cash had been stolen.

SNEAK THIEVES BUSY.

Two daylight robberies were reported to the police yesterday. Henry Burbridge notified the detectives that a sneak thief had entered his home at No. 817 East Third street and stolen a gold and a silver watch, a gold watch fob and a stick pin set with a pearl and an opal.

Miss J. Carter reported that her room at No. 632 South Flower street had been entered and a gold watch and fob and a gold locket stolen.

SOCIETY GIRL DARED AT BANQUET TO WED.

Holds Host to His Wager Until the Marriage Clerk's Smiling Face Looms Up at Courthouse—Then She Remembers Aunty.

A DINNER in the Angelus grill yesterday noon and a wager made in jest won Samuel Taggart a beautiful bride—almost.

But when it came to the crucial moment under fire not all of the persuasiveness of Mr. Taggart nor the banter of accompanying friends was sufficient to overcome the prospect which arose in the mind of Miss Mary Stanton of the horrified dismay of the aunt whom she is visiting in Los Angeles.

Therefore it fell out finally that Sam Taggart, dashing Lochinvar that he is when not acting in his official capacity as assistant manager on the works of the government dam at Roosevelt, lost a bride, but he won his bet, insofar as it was permitted him to follow out the conditions.

The thing began in merry banter at the table, where Taggart was giving a party to several friends, among them being Miss Stanton of Wheeling, W. Va., who is visiting relatives in Los Angeles, and who has figured in recent social functions.

Taggart in the course of the jollity dared Miss Stanton to marry him.

"Wait until after lunch, you silly, and then I will," replied Miss Stanton. Whereat all laughed and were for forgetting it. But not so the young woman in question. She was not in the habit of taking dares, and when the party fared forth she reminded them of the banter and invited all to come along as witnesses.

To this proposition they delightedly agreed, and the party went at once to the Courthouse. There they made their way directly to the office of the County Clerk.

Miss Stanton and Taggart led the way. The young woman was blushing freely; getting licenses to marry was not an every-day sort of stunt with her. Even Taggart seemed to be startled a little but of his usual hang-froid. But all went bravely enough with the laughing, "joshing" friends bringing up the rear.

At every step they expected to see Miss Stanton or Taggart weaken, but they gave no sign, until they entered the office and asked for the marriage license clerk. As that smiling individual came forward, the young lady, who, until that moment, had carried herself as jauntily as any of the others, took sudden fright and stepped hastily back to the doorway.

Her action was greeted with roars of laughter on the part of her friends, especially when she declared firmly that there would be no license-getting that day, at least not until she was more certain as to how her aunt would regard the proposition.

Nor could entreaties of her friends, who now seemed determined to see the thing through, nor the influence of Taggart himself, who was not averse to going ahead, shake the young woman in her determination.

HUNDREDS PLAY "NAME-GETTING."

Young Men and Women of Two Christian Associations Meet to Become Acquainted in Honor of Miss Tatham Who Has Been Traveling Abroad—Parents Join Jollification.

Young Men's Christian Association "girls" and the Young Women's Christian Association "boys" met last night at the men's temporary headquarters, No. 621½ South Broadway, nearly 500 members of the two associations congratulating Miss Cora L. Tatham, head of the Women's Association, upon her safe return from a long trip abroad.

"The Young Women's Christian Association boys and the Young Men's Christian Association girls pledge good fellowship toward each other here tonight," said Miss Tatham, in responding to Secretary Luther's welcome. "Our two organizations in Los Angeles are to have an opportunity of getting better acquainted, and we women intend to do our part."

Marking an epoch in the history of association work in this city, the affair last night was important. Arranged in honor of the first young woman of the Y.W.C.A., the occasion is memorable as being the largest joint gathering of the kind ever held in this city.

Because the prime object of last night was the promotion of acquaintance, a "name-getting" contest engaged the entire attention of the company for fifteen minutes, and prizes were awarded those securing the longest lists.

Mothers and fathers who had "come to watch the fun" were persuaded to enter the bout, and soon the whirling, wriggling mass told how successful was this particular brand of entertainment. It was a capital way to become acquainted, and sober-faced matrons became happy, laughing girls, and aged veterans, who spend most of their evenings in the reading-room, trotted through the crowd asking for "names."

FIRE ENGINE HORSES FALL.

During a Fast Run Mishap Occurs and Serious Injury Is Narrowly Averted.

A serious accident was narrowly averted as engine No. 16 reached First and Spring streets at 11 o'clock last night on its way to the fire on San Pedro street. Running well the three big grays reached the street intersection and were starting on a stiff spurt along East First street when the middle horse stumbled and dragged the off horse to the ground. At once horses and harness became a confused tangle and the heavy engine seemed about to crush the lives out of the struggling beasts.

Driver Greenwood managed to stop the plunging steeds just as the wheels grazed the rump of the off horse. Men adjusted the harness and the fallen animals were enabled to gain their feet. The off horse was severely bruised from sliding on the car tracks, but no serious injury resulted and the engine proceeded on its way to the fire.

SHOE SOLE AND SKIN SLICED.

Man's Foot Slips Under Car and Wheel Removes Leather and Epidermis.

To have the sole of his shoe and the skin on the bottom of his foot torn off by a trolley car wheel and to escape with no worse injury than the wounded member was the experience yesterday of Murray Mitchell of No. 416 Custer street. He attempted to board a moving car at Temple and Custer streets and in some way his foot slipped from the step and his hold on the hand bar was jerked loose by his weight as he fell. His left leg was thrust under the side of the car and the wheel of the coach cut the sole from his shoe and the skin from the bottom of his foot. He was removed to the Receiving Hospital and after the wound was dressed was taken to his home.

LIVERY STABLE BURNS.

Man Asleep in the Place Has Narrow Escape from Death in Flames.

While a Merchants Fire Dispatch patrolman was dashing for a fire box, W. Groves, No. 702 Stephenson avenue, ran into the flames in the burning livery barn, No. 305 East Third street, last evening at 11 o'clock and began to liberate the horses. Patrolman H. B. Henderson heard the cries of fire and was soon on the scene. Knowing that Charles Harman slept in the barn, the officer risked his life to awaken the young man and then assisted Groves in removing the horses.

Until the fire engines arrived on the scene the loose horses stood in the street. Before the attendants at the Wall-street stables, No. 513 East First street, could take care of the animals they began to stampede and narrowly missed running down several persons going to the fire. About twenty horses were at large.

What the origin of the fire was is not known. It started after Harman went to bed at 10 o'clock, and spread to the Los Angeles Carriage Works, No. 301 East First street, a horse-shoeing shop, No. 303 East First street, and caught at the rear of the Wall-street stables.

The carriage works and the blacksmith shop are owned by Charles G. White and Bros. W. L. Louis, C. G. Mills and the Hefner Transfer Company are the owners of the stables at No. 305 and 313 East Third street. It is estimated that the loss to the building and contents will not exceed $2000.

LONG BEACH MAN TRIES SUICIDE.

J. D. BOLTON CUTS HIS THROAT WHILE WILD FROM DRINK.

Goes to Arizona City With Considerable Money to Invest and Indulges in Much Liquor—Heavy Rain Is General in Salt and Verde Valleys—Monster Bites Savant.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Aug. 1.—J. D. Bolton of Long Beach, Cal., made a desperate attempt at suicide yesterday at Douglas by cutting his throat with a pocket knife. He had been in Douglas only about a week, coming with considerable money, which he announced he intended to invest in real estate. Instead, however, he proceeded to invest it in the wares of the bar rooms, and soon became afflicted with something like delirium tremens. He was taken to a hospital. His condition is not considered serious.

TRIES TO KILL WOMAN.

At Bisbee, Monday, the wife of Pedro Ortiz was shot three times, with murderous intent, by Miguel Dominguez. It is feared that at least one of the wounds is a fatal one. The woman states that Dominguez entered her house, where she was playing the guitar, spoke civilly to her, and then commenced shooting, without even a threat. Dominguez appears to have made good his escape.

BOY GETS LOST AND DIES.

On the desert plain, near Altar, Sonora, Eliasor Mendias, the 15-year-old son of an Altar farmer, lately perished from heat and thirst. After the lad had been missing for nearly two days, trailers were sent out after him. They discovered where the boy had abandoned his horse, which had given out, and later found the boy's body, lying face downward in the sand. It was evident he had become blind hours before his death, for his indistinct trail led through cactus and rocks, where his body had been lacerated and torn.

BITTEN BY GILA MONSTER.

Prof. F. H. Snow of the University of Kansas, now investigating the insect life in Southern Arizona, was bitten yesterday by a Gila monster. Prompt remedial measures were taken and no ill effects have manifested themselves. Inasmuch as the Gila monster has no poison glands, it has been considered by scientists that the animal should not be feared. On the contrary, instances have been known of persons bitten barely escaping with their lives. W. L. Vail of Los Angeles, who was bitten on the shoulder, still feels the effects of the poison, after many years. Persons best informed believe that the Gila monster's poison is like that of a mad dog, deposited upon the teeth, rather than in poison glands, as is the case with snakes.

HEAVY RAIN IS GENERAL.

This morning, after many days of excessive humidity, there descended upon Phoenix the heaviest rainfall for the period of time ever known to the local Weather Bureau, 1.18 inches falling within a few hours. The rain was welcomed, as the roads and country generally were parched as rarely ever known. The rain was a general one in the Salt and Verde valleys. Down the Verde Valley came a wall of water several feet in height, raising the Salt River and tearing away much of the temporary heading of the Arizona canal, just below the junction of the two streams. The canal also is badly damaged by reason of washouts from small floods in the foothills along its course.

DOWN-TOWN HOLD-UP.

W. C. Crain, No. 1211 West Tenth street, and H. M. Dougherty, No. 2110 South Figueroa street, called at the Central Station at 12:15 o'clock this morning and reported that a man, whom they did not know, held up and robbed them about a half hour before at San Pedro and Second streets. W. H. Bolge, No. 228 East Second street, heard cries of "stop thief" and chased the man some distance, but could not catch him. The two men say that they met the stranger at a Spring-street café and spent some of the evening with him. He suggested they walk to the scene of the fire on Third street, and they followed him. When he reached an unfrequented spot he placed his hand on his hip pocket as though to draw a gun, and demanded their money and valuables. Both men lost watches and a small sum of money.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

There are undelivered telegrams at the office of the Postal Telegraph Company for Hon. E. Myron Wolf, Harry Willmott, Jennie L. Smith, Herbert Smith, M. Shanks, J. C. Phillips, C. C. Miller, Miss Maye Kilcourse, Mrs. M. E. Knapp, J. M. Fisher, Miss Ella Emmich, Thomas Egan, Mrs. B. Davis, C. T. Dodds, J. J. Cluxton, I. W. Bertheim, Harold R. Bacon.

WORKS WITH ARM BROKEN.

No longer able to bear the pain of a fractured right arm, which was strapped to his side while he worked for the past two days, A. Nelson, No. 142½ North Main street, went to the Receiving Hospital last evening and was attended by the police surgeons. He was injured by a derrick and did not realize his serious condition.

ACTS AS HIS OWN SURGEON.

R. G. Doyle of No. 737 South Sichel street, a real estate dealer with offices in the Frost building, fell from a Los Angeles railway car at Second and Main streets last night about 11 o'clock and his left arm was dislocated at the shoulder. Realizing what had happened, Doyle neatly pulled the arm into place and then went to the Receiving Hospital, where he was told he had done it just right.

Classified Liners.

Times "Liner" Advertisers—Important. Note change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, the rate for Sunday "Liners" was raised to 1¼ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the presen. Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 70,000 copies. (When the 1-cent-per-word rate was established in 1893, The Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention. Rates one cent a word each insertion in the Daily; 1¼ cents per word in the Sunday edition; minimum charge, 25c.

"Liner (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday nights. Rate 1¼ cents per word.

HARD MILLING AHEAD OF NEIL.

HARRY BAKER DEVELOPS PACE BACKED BY LUNG POWER.

Adopts Neil's Style of Training Quarters and Sets Fast Pace for His Trainers—Wonderful Lung Power Gives Him Chance at Long-Distance Milling.

There will be a fight at Naud Junction Tuesday night when Harry Baker and Frankie Neil clash for twenty rounds and indications are it will not be a one-sided affair.

If there is any one who thinks so, he should have seen Harry Baker go yesterday afternoon at Baldwin's ranch, when he hooked up with Eddie Menney and Jack Brown for some heavy milling. Instead of his heavy trainers having to slow up on their charge they are satisfied to take care of themselves and let Baker look out for his own hide.

Besides Brown and Menney, Montana Kid worked with Baker and no one is more confident that he will win than Montana, who says he has never seen a fighter improve as Baker has in long-winded fighting. Instead of showing a change for the worse in extending himself, Baker appears to improve as the work grows harder and he has developed lung power capable of carrying him any distance.

Baker has been training for rough work, knowing full well that Neil will set the pace from the start and allow him no rest.

Coupled with his superb condition is a world of confidence, and one would suppose Baker to be the veteran rather than Neil, from the way he sizes up the situation. Neil's dangerous left is what Baker will watch and he has developed a defense along this line that will save him much trouble when Neil begins dishing up the red-hot article.

Baker goes into the rough work with his heavy men and keeps well covered. In a flash he is away pelting them with rights and lefts, footworking away from danger and keeping the pace at a whirlwind.

Big Shipment of Apples.

Shipping coals to Newcastle is looked upon as something of a joke, but shipping fruit to Los Angeles is a good thing when it is good fruit. That is what happened yesterday, when Watsonville shippers consigned to A. B. Lettunich, No. 817 East Third street, the biggest carload of apples ever received in this city. There were 1391 boxes, a total of 70,000 pounds of this fruit. The biggest single carload before this was one of 1032 boxes.

AN, ABOU BEN ADHEM IS HE.

Angeleno Praised for Relief Work at Golden Gate.

Chief of Bureau Finds Rival for Leigh Hunt's Hero.

Says Cook Train Was Chief Asset in Emergency.

"And lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest!"

Lieut.-Col. George Febiger, U.S.A., chief of bureau for the relief work at San Francisco, has paid a high compliment to an Angeleno which recalls the story of how Abou's name was written in a "book of gold" by the heavenly messenger who appeared to him in a vision.

"Write me as one who loves his fellow-man," said Abou.

When the news reached Los Angeles, April 18, that San Francisco was in flames, D. J. Desmond went to the Chamber of Commerce managers in this city and suggested sending a relief corps to help take care of the 300,000 people burned out of their homes.

The Chamber of Commerce agreed to do this provided Mr. Desmond would take charge of it. He immediately organized a relief corps, which was known as the Desmond cook train. Every other relief organization relied upon cold food for the people who were sleeping in the parks and suffering from the chill winds from the ocean that make San Francisco a somewhat uncomfortable place to live, even for those who have houses to take refuge in.

The Desmond cook train furnished hot meals. The machinery was put in motion on the way from Los Angeles to Oakland and when the train arrived, Desmond and his aides were ready to furnish piping-hot meals for all comers.

This Desmond cook train was known as the best organized relief combination in San Francisco for weeks after the fire occurred.

The following letter, addressed to the manager of the relief corps by Lieut.-Col. Febiger, Third Infantry, U.S.A., chief of the Bureau of Consolidated Relief Stations, will show the esteem in which the work was held:

Mr. D. J. Desmond, San Francisco, Cal.

Dear Sir: Having this day been relieved from duty as Chief of the Bureau of Consolidated Relief Stations, in connection with the relief work of the sufferers from the recent earthquake and fire in this city, it gives me much pleasure to express to you my appreciation of your work in connection with your agreement made with me as Chief of Bureau, for the supply of hot meals to the indigents of the city.

Your compliance with the agreement has been to me most satisfactory; where faults were discovered I had your hearty co-operation in their immediate correction, and your liberality in details, when not clearly expressed in the agreement, in furnishing articles in addition to those prescribed, is fully appreciated.

The benefit to the community at large and saving of the relief funds is exemplified by the reduction in number of those receiving free food on May 12, when your first kitchen started, amounting to 167,325, to 15,553 on June 20, when the military control ceased, and which is approximately the number at date.

From what I have read of the organized charities in large cities like London and New York, the meals supplied and the service were far superior to them, and the almost universal dissatisfaction can be entirely ascribed to pride and sentiment of all Americans, who are most decidedly opposed to receiving public charity in such an open way. These are the factors that were calculated upon in inaugurating the system as the greatest factors in elimination.

To your energy, resourcefulness, tact and good nature is principally due the speed with which these kitchens were established, and I fully appreciate the excessive expense in starting of the original ones, due to lack of supplies and material, which you had to secure from other cities at express rates, and the expense of which was entirely borne by you without complaint or claims for assistance.

I wish you all success in future, of which I feel assured, as I have seldom met a man of equal talents for organization and application of the means at hand. Your very truly,

GEORGE FEBIGER,
Lieut.-Col. Third Infantry, U.S.A., Chief of Bureau.

San Francisco, July 13, 1906.

D. J. Desmond is Los Angeles born and bred. He has been engaged for many years in the railroad grading business here. He has taken a place with the United Railroads in San Francisco and will organize a large gang of men to work in rebuilding the street railroad system.

Desmond has always lived up to Los Angeles ideas in labor matters. He is known as a good employer, but stands for American principles, among them the open shop. He asks no man whether he is a member of the union-labor organization or not.

BIMINI BATHS OPENED.

Large Crowd Gathers to See and Hear Programme at the Local "Swimmin' Hole."

The prospect of a long car ride on a beautiful moonlight night drew about 1500 people to the Bimini baths last night to take part in the formal opening of this hot-weather resort, and the crowd was entertained for several hours by water sports and a band concert.

The programme was disturbed by the failure of mechanics to put in the trapeze apparatus in time, but there were several swimming races and some fancy diving by a number of good water sprites, chief among these being Prof. Cox, R. P. Gwinn and Jack Connors, who came especially from Venice; F. B. Raymous, the high diver, and E. L. Stevens of this city.

In addition a number of boys had tub races and pole-walking contests in the south end of the big building and an electric fountain was a pretty feature.

The building and plant represent an investment of over $250,000. The new structure is a roomy place in the old mission style, and in addition to a pool for men, there is a smaller one for boys and one for women in the south end.

MOTORCYCLE FOR POLICE.

Burglars in Outlying Districts Will Have New Danger to Compete With.

Capt. Bradish of the University Police Station yesterday secured a motorcycle to be used in answering burglar and emergency calls.

An officer will be detailed to remain at the police station to assist the desk sergeant and do special duty with the wheel.

There are few officers patroling the large beats in the outlying districts of the city, and the police say that it is often difficult to locate an officer when emergencies arise. Patrolmen Walsh and Graham have been detailed under the new arrangement.

MAYOR'S CONDITION IMPROVING.

Mayor Moore of Seattle, who is at the California Hospital with acute inflammation of the middle ear, has improved in condition during the last twenty-four hours. It occasionally happens in summer time—that something happens to your trousers—vacationing leads one into paths full of danger for one's nether garments. But don't you care. And it always happens that we make to order $9 trousers for $7.75; $8 trousers for $6.75; $7 trousers for $5.75; $6 trousers for $4.75, during this sale. THIS SKIPPER MUST WIN OR SKIP O'ER THE HILLS.

Captain of San Diego's Aeolus Can't Face Town Again if the Yacht Loses. Priming for Regatta.

SOME one of the patriotic yachtsmen around here would better grab that Lipton Challenge Cup and run for the timber.

When the commodore of the San Diego fleet gets out in his bare toes and personally scrubs down the decks of the challenger, it is evident that something fierce is about to start.

The pretty new challenger Aeolus was paid for by popular subscription in San Diego. Every man, woman and child, from the policemen up, owns an interest in her.

They wake up in the middle of the night and find themselves hauling in the sheets, dreaming about her. Each time anything is said in church about wind or raging waters the congregation sits up with a guilty start.

If they don't get a grappling hook into that cup furniture at next Monday's regatta, San Diego will toll the bells and turn off the climate—sure. What they will do to the captain and the crew is a sin.

ONLY ONE THING TO DO.

"I will never be able to face the town again if we get left," said Capt. Gould, on board the yacht, urging the commodore to new efforts with the swab.

"If you see us disappearing over the brow of Point Loma hills, running for life, next Monday afternoon, you will know by that token that we didn't win the race.

"If you own a bomb-proof cellar, barricaded and provisioned for a long siege, we would be glad to take a long lease on it—beginning immediately after the race—provided some one else wins."

Frank Wyatt, the comedian of the cup challenger.

All of which makes it evident that the coming regatta—which will be sailed off Coronado—will be the biggest yachting event that ever happened in Southern California waters.

One by one the yachts from San Pedro are seen tearing around the heads, bellying clouds of canvas, and at evening drop anchor in the soft shadows of the Point Loma cliffs.

GAY SCENE OFF MOORINGS.

Scooting little racing yachts come sliding frivolously in on one ear from the white-capped bay into the lee of the cliffs.

Girls in natty yachting clothes and brown arms can be seen at the tillers of their own yachts, whirling into the moorings, letting out their own anchors, clewing down their own sails, or do you clew up a sail? Or suppose you can't find a clew at all!

Well, anyhow, you have a very charming picture of a girl climbing out on a bobbing, careening bowsprit with an armful of sail—a vision of white tennis shoes, blue skirts and brown arms.

ROMEO IS THE AEOLUS.

The Hamlet and the Romeo of this show lies a white streak on the water—an object of reverence and adoration.

The good ship Aeolus looks like a sliver that has sprouted an electric-light pole.

On this occasion they had just brought her back from a flying cruise down the bay in the sight of the anxious but prideful town.

A good-looking man in bare feet and flying locks stood on the side porch of the racer and fended off the bow of the launch.

"No, sir," he said meekly, in answer to a question. "I am just the commodore of the fleet."

Another pair of bare feet came paddling around from the other side. They belonged to Capt. Charles Gould, one of the crack yachtsmen on this Coast. He sailed the Detroit so fast they used to win the race with her and then go back and root for the losers. When the Detroit was captured by Los Angeles money he sailed the Butcher Boy against her to a gallant defeat.

IMPORTANT BARE FEET.

Until after the regatta, next Monday, the Mayor of San Diego is a person of trifling insignificance compared with this skipper.

While the boat was being looked over came a furious, agitated storm of barks as a yacht glided by with a girl in command and a little black dog, his paws out on the bowsprit, noising himself into fits.

He is Curly, the mascot of the challenger; he has sailed in nearly all the big races, will be in the race Monday.

The crew of the challenger is made up as follows: Charles Gould, captain; H. H. Remmert, Ed. Halloran, Frank Wyatt, Alonzo De Jessop (commodore of the fleet.)

LIVING ON STILTS.

While this speed question is being decided, they all live at the clubhouse, which juts out from the Point Loma cliffs on stilts in the water. No one thinks of such trifles as business, not since the yacht was launched, ten days ago.

The atmosphere about the place is charming. The real article in yachtsmen are nearly always jolly good fellows. The men of the Aeolus are all of that, and then some.

Around some clubs you hear horses and records and book-making talked; and this talk is understandable in parts. And about other clubs they talk golf and at others army and rifles and big guns and the advantages of subcaliber practice.

HERE THEY DISCUSS.

But this yachtsmen's club—and yachtswomen's club—beats them all. They sit around on the porches with the gentle lap-lapping of the waves on the piling underneath, and discuss the pull of balloon jibs, spreaders, waterline measurements, the philosophy of jibing, and many other strange and mysterious subjects upon which you are mildly surprised to hear a pretty girl wax warm.

The interior of the clubhouse is decorated with photographs of the big American cup defenders in the act of beating the wadding out of the foreign challengers. Around on the walls hang trophies of previous triumphs.

One of these is Willie.

WILLIAM, RAG DOLL.

William is a most forlorn, woe-begone, outrageous-looking rag doll, whose subtle influence is alleged to bring almost any old yacht in a winner.

On Monday he will ride the waves on the spreaders of the cup challenger.

Willie is a dissipated-looking old party, but he is said to be "good medicine."

There was one who was not in the happy little chats on the yacht club porch and who did not sit down at the jolly little yacht club supper, but who is a figure in San Diego.

JANSEN!

Go into almost any office at random and murmur Jansen and the San Diego man will begin to jabber insane things about water lines, overhangs, bowsprits, without waiting to see who you are, exactly as though he had been turned on from an intellectual faucet.

For Jansen is the designer who built the boat.

For many nights Joe Fellows and Joe Pugh, designers, of San Pedro, and this Swedish Jansen have lain awake in their beds pounding the pillows in the effort to figure out the exact effect of widening the thing-a-mug jib two inches and making a one degree more curve in the thing-a-bob.

Monday, in the presence of crowds that will throng the shore, it will be shown which Joe was right and why; and San Diego will get the Lipton cup back or tear her hair.

The crew of the San Diego cup challenger is made up of well known yachtsmen, all acting as meek and lowly common seamen, under Skipper Gould. On the right is Alonzo B. Jessop, commodore of the fleet; center, H. H Remmert, a yacht owner; left, Ed. Halloran.

And this is what it's all about—the Lipton challenge cup, and Byron Erkbrecher, who has held it two years.

MAN HURT BY ODD MISHAP.

Seltzer Bottle Explodes on Sidewalk and Glass Cuts Hand of Pedestrian.

The old saying that one never can tell where it is dangerous to be safe received new exemplification yesterday in the strange mishap that befell F. Smith of No. 1511 East Fifteenth street. He was passing the entrance to Levy's Café on Third street, while a number of men were engaged in carrying cases of Seltzer water into the restaurant. One of the bottles exploded, hurling fragments of glass in every direction. The man carrying the bottles escaped injury, but a piece of the glass struck the back of Smith's left hand, inflicting a three-inch laceration. He was assisted to the Receiving Hospital where the Police Surgeons found it necessary to take nine stitches in the cut in order to dress it.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Board of Public Works slyly reduced the expenses of street lighting recently by $25,000 a year, and the people are just finding it out.

The widening of Hill street was discussed at yesterday's session of the board, a strong petition being brought to bear.

The preliminary examination of Alfred E. Lane, charged with killing John A. Smilde, was begun yesterday. Lane appeared calm and confident. The case will be concluded this morning.

Gustave Mox, a Palace waiter convicted of selling liquor in violation of the city ordinance, was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 yesterday by Justice Rose. The liquor men have appealed the case and may test the law.

Mrs. H. C. Todd was granted a divorce yesterday from a commercial traveler, on her showing that he had forsaken her and their child for the company of a Miss Oliver.

The name of Harry Thaw, the New York murderer, was mentioned in a local divorce case yesterday, it being testified to that Thaw had held a bond on some mining claims.

Arguments were heard in Judge Bordwell's court yesterday in the suit of a liquor dealer to compel the City Clerk to issue to him a license, granted and later denied by the Police Commission.

Eight divorce decrees were granted yesterday, seven of the plaintiffs being women.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MONEY SAVED ON STREET LIGHTS.

SLY DODGE OF ECONOMICAL PUBLIC WORKS BOARD.

Launching of Big Project for Opening Hill Street South to Jefferson. Use of Sewage for Gardening Will Probably Be Stopped on Recommendation of Official Investigators.

How easy it is to waste $25,000 of public funds, or funds of any other character, nobody needs to be told, and everybody is ready to make a squeal when they find it out.

The Board of Public Works has recently found a way of saving $25,000, and even those persons who are supposed to be "wise" on the subject of street lighting, never knew it until they were told.

When everybody was talking of the size of the light bill paid monthly by the city, as a result of the new ornamental systems taken under the public wing by the City Council, and the Board of Public Works was trying to figure out where the money was to come from, they tried an experiment, whereby the bill might be cut in two. It worked so charmingly that a month ago they slyly tried it on the public, and the "wise" public never "savvied" the difference.

By an arrangement with the electric companies, all the lamps on the Spring street and Broadway systems were changed a month ago to others of just half the candle-power of those put on when the handsome new systems were installed. For a month the streets have been lighted in this way, and the city has been saving money on this one item alone at the rate of $25,000 a year.

Now that it is known, some people will glibly cry: "I thought so," but the board is confident most people will indorse its economical action and will be glad to see it continued at the same price. If the time should come when a little more light is needed it may be easily secured by changing the lamps. It was first contemplated cutting down the service by taking the current off the circle of lamps at the base of the big globe at 10 o'clock each night, leaving only the latter burning till midnight, but the plan adopted is much better, as the appearance of so many "dead" lamps would be a disfigurement to the whole system.

M. Lissner appeared in the interest of the proposition to light West Ninth street, from Main to Hill, all that portion west of Hill having been dropped on account of opposition. A protest was also presented, but as a majority of the frontage asks for the improvement and binds itself not only to install the system but to pay for the lights, it will be granted, though the decision was not officially made yesterday.

BIG PROJECT.

HILL STREET BOULEVARD.

The proposition for the widening of Hill street between Pico and Washington and opening it from Washington to Jefferson, was considered in the meeting of the Board of Public Works yesterday.

The petition asking for the improvement was signed only by M. Lissner and the Hamburger Investment Company, and requested that the street be made ninety-two feet wide the entire distance from Pico to Jefferson, which would transform it into a fine thoroughfare.

While this preliminary petition may be intended only to stimulate public interest in the project, there was a rather decided expression on the part of some members of the board as to the desirability of carrying it out, but if steps are taken in that direction it will be done in two sections.

First, the effort will be made to accomplish the widening of that portion now open between Pico and Washington, the opening between Eighteenth and Washington streets, through Praeger Park, having been accomplished some time ago. This done, the benefits would at once become apparent to the land owners between Chutes Park and Jefferson street, and it is thought that then, despite the anticipated strenuous opposition of the Chutes Company, that portion of the street would speedily ask for the improvement. It is a long block from Main street to Grand avenue, and values would be enhanced by cutting it in two.

M. Lissner was before the board and gave his views on the subject, both as to the widening and opening, and as to the scope of the assessment district to pay for the improvement. The Hamburger Company has now considerable holdings along that portion asked to be widened, and will be a strong factor in bringing it about.

RANK CABBAGES TABOOED.

SEWAGE-GROWN DANGEROUS.

An inspection made of the Tweddy ranch outside the city limits by Health Officer Powers and A. A. Hubbard of the Board of Public Works demonstrated to the officials that corn, potatoes and cabbage were growing there under the influence of sewage.

While those directly interested say no danger attaches to the use of sewage in growing these vegetables, there was, nevertheless, a strong expression from President Anderson of the board that he is absolutely opposed to permitting it in any way, and the board will do its utmost to prohibit the city from selling sewage to anybody.

CITY HALL BRIEFS.

FIRE BOARD FAILS TO MEET.

A representative of Munger's Laundry had an interview with the Board of Public Works yesterday, with reference to the construction of a sewer on Los Angeles street for the use of the laundries. It will be put in at a cost of $1650, and the city will pay half the bill.

There was no meeting of the Fire Commission yesterday because of the failure of the members of the board to appear at the City Hall.

Mr. Alsop of the Alsop Engineering Company loitered about the corridors and offices at the City Hall yesterday, getting in a timely word here and there on his chances for a crack at the construction of the outfall sewer.

The Board of Public Works opened bids yesterday for furnishing an automobile for the use of the board. Only one bid was on file, the Auto-Vehicle Company offering to sell one at $1250. It was taken under advisement.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

HUSBAND LURED FROM FAMILY.

WIFE GETS DIVORCE BECAUSE OF HIS DESERTION.

Harry O. Todd, a Commercial Traveler, Forsakes Spouse and Son to Enjoy Company of Miss Oliver, Who Ignored Mrs. Todd's Earnest Pleas to End Her Conduct.

Begging the paramour of her husband to release him from the toils of her wilful fascinations was the pitiful role filled by Mrs. Myra A. Todd, of Long Beach, as testified to yesterday in her divorce proceedings. Her husband, Harry O. Todd, had become enthralled with the superficial attractions of Miss Rose Oliver, who was then living at the Hotel Munn, and in the clash of conflicting interests the wife went to the wall.

Mr. Todd is a traveling drapery salesman for a large firm and receives $200 a month salary, and was consequently able to keep his wife in comfortable style. He had married Mrs. Todd at Omaha in Nov., 1903, and, after coming to Long Beach to live, established her in charge of a boarding house, so that she might not feel his prolonged absence so much. All went well until last year when Mrs. Todd noticed that her husband's affections had perceptibly waned. She had been in poor health and a trip was made to Colorado, and while there Todd came out flatly and said that he had fallen madly in love with another woman, Miss Oliver, and that he neither could or would banish the charmer from his mind.

Then began the time of the wife's greatest suffering, for beside being in poor health she was compelled to realize that much of her husband's time was being spent with Miss Oliver. Mrs. Todd finally decided upon heroic measures to save her husband, so that he might still be all to her and her boy that he had been in the past. She went to the Hotel Munn and called upon the woman whose attractions threatened to disrunt the Todd home, and appealed to Miss Oliver to cease associating with her husband.

Dollars and cents were uppermost in the mind of Miss Oliver, according to the testimony. She said that she was ill and that Mr. Todd was supporting her, and that without his assistance she didn't know what she would do. Then it was that the humiliated wife reached a height of self-abnegation seldom attained. If only Miss Oliver would cease associating with her husband Mrs. Todd said that she would take the young woman to her home and care for her in her illness, and support her afterwards until she decided upon what she could do to maintain herself.

The appeal fell upon deaf ears, and Mrs. Todd was obliged to return to Long Beach with the additional grief of knowing that she had scourged herself for nothing.

In asking for a decree Mrs. Todd's attorney had sought to secure only $25 a month from Todd for the support of the child, but Judge York spoke with some indignation regarding the smallness of the amount. He said that he thought that $100 a month—half of Todd's salary—would be reasonable enough. Inasmuch as the smaller amount had been asked, and the defendant had received no notice of any larger amount, he could not make the order covering more than $25 at this time. At any future time, however, an application may be made for an increase of the amount.

Judge York made an order granting to Mrs. Todd a divorce decree and also the ownership of the boarding house and $25 a month alimony for the support of the child.

HARRY THAW'S BOND.

FIGURES IN DIVORCE SUIT.

The name of Harry Thaw, the noted Pittsburgh profligate being held in New York for the murder of Stanford White, was mentioned in a divorce case heard yesterday in Judge York's court.

Mrs. C. M. Franklin several weeks ago put in most of her testimony against G. W. Franklin for a divorce. It became necessary, however, that certain testimony given by the defendant husband by deposition be submitted to the court. This was done yesterday by Attorney J. W. McKinley.

Franklin is a mining man, and stated that he had a number of mining claims, among others those held by the War Eagle Mining and Milling Company, and others by the Mucha Oro company. He said that negotiations had been opened in New York for the sale of certain of the mining properties, which are situated in the Bullfrog mining district.

"This murder business of Harry Thaw put a black eye on the proposed transfer," he said. He related how his agent had given a bond on the properties to Capt. W. R. Wharton and Harry Thaw. Just what the outcome would be he was unable to forecast.

This testimony was taken more particularly to show Franklin's resources. Judge York made an order granting a divorce to Mrs. Franklin, and awarding her all the community property, consisting almost entirely of the mining claims spoken of in the testimony.

COMMISSION'S POWER.

LICENSE REVOKABLE FOR CAUSE.

Judge Bordwell is having another trial of a case wherein the powers of the Police Commission have to be defined. William N. Schmess applied to the court for a writ of mandate to compel City Clerk Lelande to issue a wholesale liquor dealer's license, enabling Schmess to carry on business at No. 5722 Central avenue. Assistant City Attorney Lester Hewitt appeared to sustain the position taken by the commission, which had denied a license to Schmess. Isidor Dockweiler and S. C. Pardee appeared for Schmess.

On May 29 the Police Commissioners issued a permit to Schmess for a license and it was filed with the City Clerk in the usual way. But on June 5 it was brought up again by the Police Commissioners for reconsideration, was laid on the table for one week, and on June 12 the application was denied. Those were the conceded facts.

Hewitt claimed that the Police Commission is not bound by any set of parliamentary rules inasmuch as no set of rules have ever been adopted, and that it is a body having discretion as to how it will proceed in any matter and subject only to the rules of law. Hewitt contended that Schmess was out nothing, and had not been injured in any way. Dockweiler took exception to this, and reading from the petition showed that just as soon as the permit was granted Schmess purchased property, and made arrangements for a building at an expense of $1500, for the special purpose of carrying on the business for which he had just before been granted a permit. He had invested his money on the strength of the action of the Police Commission, and would be injured just so much if a license should be denied to him. Dockweiler maintained that the commission cannot grant a permit without any reservation, and then, at later date, rescind their action.

Judge Bordwell reserved his decision until he thinks the matter over.

SON FINED TEN DOLLARS.

Because Arthur Baker called his father a liar in Judge York's court yesterday he was obliged to pay a fine of $10, with the alternative of going to jail.

The fine was paid with comparatively good grace, and then, ten minutes later, the father was fined $25 for contempt of court in not obeying an order of court to pay his wife alimony.

Joel Baker, the father, was formerly a police detective, and is now a collector for the Sentous Packing Company. On April 3, of last year, Emma L. Baker obtained a divorce from him, and an order was then made that the husband pay to his wife $40 a month alimony. Since October last she has received only $20, and Baker was cited to appear and give his reasons for not complying with the order.

He went on the witness stand, and was explaining in a rather labored way that his son had told him that Mrs. Baker had received $7000 from her father. "That's a lie," came in distinct and unmistakable tones from the rear of the court.

Judge York suspended proceedings, and ordered that the offender against the dignity of the court be brought forward. Young Baker, who is just of age, admitted that he was the one who had run a tilt with the judicial proprieties, but maintained that his father was a liar all the same.

"You are fined $10," said the court; "and you are under arrest until the fine is paid."

After this interlude the investigation was resumed. Baker, the elder, admitted that he had received $1700 within a recent period, but claimed that he had been obliged to pay a large fee to an attorney and return $600 that he had borrowed from his second wife. His excuses found little favor, and he was fined $25, which he paid.

EIGHT GET DECREES.

DIVORCE MILL REVOLVES.

Mrs. Gertrude Brewer was granted a divorce yesterday from Albert Brewer on account of his having been too frolicsome with female employés. They were married in July, 1905, and on June 19 last she left her husband's home. On three occasions she caught her husband spooning with girls in his employ, and when she surprised him on June 18 while he was sitting on an ice chest and hugging a waitress she quit him for good.

Lillian McCullough secured a divorce from George McCullough, a Southern Pacific brakeman, on his desertion. They were wedded in New York in 1892 and one morning, in 1904, the husband said that he was going down to the pay car and would soon return. He never returned to her.

Lulu C. Gregory was granted a divorce from Charles A. Gregory because he deserted her.

Sallie E. Rothery obtained a decree from William E. Rothery on the ground of failure to provide, profligacy an dissipation. They were married in Chicago in 1893.

A divorce was granted to Alice F. McAdams from George W. McAdams on desertion and failure to provide. They were married in Portland, Or., in 1899 and in 1905 the husband passed her up, never returning to her since.

Catherine Nichols was deserted by her husband in July, 1904, and yesterday obtained a divorce. The marriage took place in Colorado December 21, 1897, and there are two children.

Credonia M. Taylor was given a divorce from L. O. Taylor on desertion, and Joe E. Armstrong obtained his decree from Maudie A. Armstrong on cruelty.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

TRAGEDY HAS NO TERROR FOR HIM.

NODS AND SMILES AT FRIENDS WHILE FACING CHARGE.

Preliminary Examination of Alfred Lane, Charged With Killing Smilde, Was Taken Up Yesterday Before Justice Austin, but Case Was Not Concluded—Bruns Is Acquitted.

Alfred E. Lane, charged with manslaughter, is confident that he will escape punishment for striking the blow which caused the death of John A. Smilde. His preliminary examination was begun yesterday afternoon in the City Justice Court, but could not be concluded and the case was continued until 11 o'clock this morning.

The accused man occupied a seat in the prisoner's dock. He nodded and smiled to various friends and the serious charge which is hanging over his head seemed not to bother him in the least.

The story of the fight in which Smilde was killed was retold by the surviving members of the fatal automobile party. Mrs. Gertrude Wilcott, who lives with her parents at No. 717 Mateo street, was Smilde's companion at the time. She said the auto party was composed of herself, Smilde, W. L. Hickman and Mrs. Florence Trembert. The party left the garage in the machine early in the evening and after a ride out to Eastlake Park and about town a stop was made at Campi's restaurant.

After dinner they walked down San Fernando to Marchessault street, where the automobile was standing. Just as they reached the machine Mrs. Wilcott says Lane and Doble ran across from the opposite side of the street and roughly offered to shake hands with Smilde and Hickman, at the same time mumbling something which Mrs. Wilcott did not understand.

Smilde said "not tonight," and walked around to the front of his machine to crank it. Lane followed a few feet and the two men stopped for an instant, then Lane struck Smilde.

Mrs. Wilcott says she called to Smilde to run and he did so, Lane following. The woman said she thought Lane struck another blow, but was not sure. At the corner of Marchessault and San Fernando streets she says Smilde fell and Lane stumbled over his body, then ran away, disappearing in the darkness.

The story told by Hickman and Mrs. Trembert was the same in all essential details as Mrs. Wilcott's, but they saw no blows struck. Hickman and Doble started to scuffle and the former ran.

Harry Doble's testimony is considered important. He is the man who, it is said, posed as the husband of Mrs. Trembert, and with whom Lane lived. On the stand he said Lane arrived home early in the evening and as Mrs. Trembert was gone, asked where "Florence" was. Doble said she was at the beach but Lane refused to believe this, and declared that he knew she was automobiling with Smilde, and suggested they look for them.

Doble agreed to this and they started to hunt Smilde and Mrs. Trembert, finding them just as they were about to get into the automobile. Doble says he saw no blows struck and ran when one of the women called to him to do so. He says he boarded a car for his home at No. 139 North Avenue Nineteen, and arrived there five minutes ahead of Lane.

Liquor Cases Appealed.

Justice Rose fined Gustave Mox $25 yesterday morning for selling liquor on Sunday in violation of the city ordinance. Mox was convicted the day before. He is a waiter in the Palace Café and on Sunday, July 22, served two detectives with beer without a meal. Attorney Tod, representing Mox, filed notice of appeal and it is understood the liquor men will attempt to knock out the ordinance.

Auto Scorchers Fined.

Three more scorching automobilists found themselves in the clutches of the law yesterday and each was assessed $15. They were W. H. Faust, W. G. Dandy and C. A. Doran. All paid the necessary money and departed, promising to be more careful in the future and not "let her out" when Motorcycle Patrolmen Mojonnier and Berchtold are around.

D. Bruns, charged by Thomas Watkins with embezzling $26, was acquitted in Justice Chambers' court yesterday morning and discharged from custody.

RAILROADS WILL STICK TO TEXT.

LOCAL OFFICIAL RETURNS FROM CHICAGO MEETING.

Hepburn Law's Provisions Will Be Observed to Letter, He Says, and Country Editors Will Have to Give Up Summer Vacation Trips, or Pay Fares in Cash.

Perhaps no more interesting or significant meeting of transportation interests has been held in the United States than the one just closed at Chicago of the Transcontinental Freight Bureau, which sat with an advisory board of the legal representatives of the roads of the West and Middle West in consideration of the chief feature of the Hepburn Bill.

T. E. Gibbon, general counsel for the Salt Lake, has returned from that meeting, where he acted in his official capacity for his road in passing upon a number of disputed points.

"I can say emphatically," said Mr. Gibbon, "that the whole sense of the meeting on the part of the transportation lines was to learn just what the law is and how best its provisions may be met.

"It was for assistance in this direction that the traffic representatives turned to the attorneys, and combined to thrash the whole thing over together. It was soon agreed that there was no great difficulty in living up to the law, although there are some new provisions made which will require radical readjustments upon the part of the carriers.

"Every one was agreed that the law should be given a fair and thorough trying out, and that we should trust to time and experience to point out features which should be remedied.

"It must be admitted that there are some features not entirely plain. And to cover such cases it was resolved that the traffic officials should request the commission to favor them with its own interpretations.

"An interesting ruling made by the convention was on the matter of advertising transportation and tickets. It was agreed that the transportation lines would no more be allowed to exchange transportation for advertising than they would to exchange transportation for oil or any other commodity.

"So it will result, after the law goes into effect August 28, that there will be no more exchange of transportation for advertising. This, of course, applies to interstate transportation. Advertising tickets within the States will undoubtedly continue to be issued, but it is a point worthy of note that no advertising intra-state ticket so issued may be used as a part of any State trip."

The question of interstate advertising tickets under the new law has been hotly discussed among the country newspaper men since the passage of the bill, but Mr. Gibbon's interview is the first on the subject to be published on the Coast.

It is believed that the new law will result in largely curtailing railroad advertising, as all business between newspaper interests and the railroads will henceforth have to be conducted on a strictly cash basis. This will undoubtedly cause the withdrawal of railroad advertising from hundreds of small country papers and lesser periodicals, where heretofore transportation has been given as representing no cash outlay on the part of the carriers.

"Throughout my trip to the East," said Mr. Gibbon, "I saw every evidence of the greatest material prosperity, and found bankers and business men generally confident that we are about to have another year of unexampled prosperity, unparalleled, perhaps, in the history of the nation.

"In Chicago, building operations are scaling along the high-water mark, and this seems to be typical of the condition of the country as a whole."

NOW DOLLY CAN DANCE.

Judge Wilbur yesterday dissolved the restraining order in the suit wherein Harry James, recently of the Mason Operahouse, sought to stop Kolb and Dill from producing a doll dance by Charlotte Vidot at the Hotchkiss Theater. Under the action of the court the actress can continue to give the dance, which, it is claimed, she created.

CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS TODAY.

Browne and Sinsabaugh Will Meet Bell and Way.

Mrs. Bruce Gains Crown as Best in Ladies' Singles.

Braly and Hart Defeated in Brilliant Contest.

The tennis tournament at Ocean Park to decide the champions of Southern California is now all over but the finals in several of the events, which will be played today. There will be no challenge matches in the gentlemen's and ladies' singles as Overton and Mrs. Doeg, the former champions, are out of the game, at least for this year.

The challenge match in the gentlemen's doubles between Bell and Way, the champions, and Browne and Sinsabaugh, the challengers, will be contested this afternoon.

The committee has arranged to hold the dance of the Country Club in the casino in Ocean Park this evening, where the prizes will be presented. All tennis players are invited to attend.

The championship in the ladies singles, which was played yesterday afternoon between Mrs. Bruce and her sister, Miss Florence Sutton, was won by the former by the score of 6-1, 6-4. Miss Sutton was slightly out of form, while Mrs. Bruce played the strongest and headiest game of her career. The game that she put up would have made sister May hurry to beat her.

The slow, well-placed chop which Mrs. Bruce used continually, was the strongest thing in her favor and did more to unnerve her sister's undoing. Mrs. Bruce has long been considered the best net player of the four Sutton sisters and she had Florence at her mercy yesterday whenever she could gain that position on the court. Mrs. Bruce won the toss and Florence had to play against the wind the first set.

WINS TOURNAMENT MATCH.

Mrs. Bruce rapidly ran the score up to 5 love when Florence won the sixth game on her serve. The wind was blowing strongly and Mrs. Bruce had little difficulty in winning the seventh game, ending the set 6-1. When they changed sides, many expected to see Florence win the second set by the same score by which she was beaten in the former set, but Mrs. Bruce's strokes became sure and fast and she succeeded in annexing three games before Florence tallied. From this on Florence played better and pulled the score up a bit.

A new champion was due and for the first time in her life, Mrs. Bruce won a tournament match against Florence. This makes Mrs. Bruce the champion of ladies' singles, as Mrs. Doeg, who held the cup, is not playing this year. The finals in the gentlemen's doubles was won by Simpson Sinsabaugh and Art Browne, after a close, four-set match against Braly and Hart. The score, 2-6, 7-5, 7-5, 6-2, tells how the match was won. Braly and Hart played great tennis the first set, both men doing [illegible] beautifully and covering the court well.

BRALY AND HART LOSE.

The second set fell to Sinsabaugh and Browne by careful consistent tennis. The first was a little easier for the latter, Braly and Hart loosing several close dances at the net. Browne plays a fair single game but his double game is miserably weak yesterday. His service generally is the best ever seen on the local court and he made many aces for his team with this stroke. His driving game lost many points. Simpson Sinsabaugh is the best all-around player in Southern California, but the combination of Browne and Sinsabaugh won, was largely due to Simpson. At the net he is as quick as a cat and in the back court he places the ball just out of reach of the man at the net.

The score of the last set, 6-2, was easy for the winners. Hart played as well as he knew how but Braly did not seem to appreciate the responsibility of a match and played awkwardly and carelessly. The winners will play Bell and Way this afternoon for the championship.

CUT AND TUCK CONTEST.

The semi-finals of the gentlemen's singles, Braly and Hart beat Wayne and Variel in a slow three-set match. It was nip and tuck all the way, both sides playing brilliantly. The first set went to Braly and Hart 6-3—the second set Variel and Wayne took better and won by 6-3—the third set Braly smashed the overheads and won all the games on his side. Braly's serve is a puzzle to any one he runs up against and the secret of winning the match is largely due to his fine individual playing. The last set of the last set was 6-2, in Braly and Hart's favor.

Soon after this match was finished, Sinsabaugh and Browne defeated Holmes and Gorham in a hard contest, 7-5, 7-5. The winners played in poor form and won because Bundy and Gorham did not hitch. Both Bundy and Holmes are good single players, but their strokes, which went out of style more than in, lost them a good many points. Bundy played his usual steady game.

VETERAN TEAM WINS.

An exhibition of mixed doubles was afforded when Mrs. Farquhar and Bumiller defeated Miss Hall and Gardiner by 7-9, 6-1, 6-3. The veteran team played their usual steady team game and won for that reason. Mrs. Bruce is scientific in her play. Her placement shots yesterday were near-perfect. Mr. Bumiller did good work at the net and seldom took any of his partner's shots. This is not to be considered tennis courtesy but a good mixed-double players do a great deal.

Miss Gardiner played the game of his life, and handed everything that came his way in excellent style. Miss Hall was not so sure of her strokes, as usual, and played too much in the court. The first set, 9-7, in which Miss Gardiner and Miss Hall tired so that they, failed to make many of the following set, which went to the winners of the match by 6-1. The third set was a struggle from the start, the umpire called play and deuce tried for every point. Mrs. Farquhar and Bumiller finally forged ahead and won the set, 6-3.

Much amusement was expressed among the spectators when the announcement was made that Miss Florence Sutton and Simpson Sinsabaugh would have to default their match in the mixed doubles with Miss Bell and Miss Seymour, owing to the fact that Miss Sutton was withdrawn from the contest with her sister in the finals of the ladies' singles. Miss Bell and Sinsabaugh have been rated among the tennis enthusiasts as the strongest team of mixed doubles in the city.

BRUCE BEATS LAWRENCE.

The first match took place in the afternoon when John Holmes of Pasadena and Lawrence of Ocean Park met in the third round of the consolation singles. Holmes has a chop at his command which does not leave the ground and he used it to good advantage. Holmes took the first set rather easily but fell down on the second set. Lawrence returning a great number of the chops. The final set was hard fought and went to Holmes only after he had put the best there was in him in all of his strokes. The score was 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

In the afternoon Holmes went down to defeat in the semi-final round at the hands of Bob Variel. Variel took both sets, 6-4, the second set coming a little easier as Variel was occupying the side with the wind. Donnell and Variel will fight it out today for the first honors in the consolation singles. Variel plays a strong game most of the time and smashes with telling effect, while Donnell is probably steadier and less brilliant.

The last match of the day on court No. 1, was a ladies' doubles in which Mrs. Bruce and Miss Dobbins defeated Mary Browne and Miss Conger. It has been said that ladies' doubles are a bore, but it ceases to be so when Miss Browne plays the game. She plays up at the net like a man and places the ball on all sides of the court. It is particularly interesting to see her smash the overhead balls like a man. Alas for her, however, she tried to work too hard, but no one can cover the whole court and this is the real reason that the infants lost.

Mrs. Bruce, fresh from her victory in ladies' singles, played a good game and was seconded ably by Miss Dobbins. The scores of both sets were in doubt until the umpire called the set, but the older combination finally managed to walk away with the match, 6-3, 6-3.

MAC GATHERS HIS PUGLETS.

Tom McCarey is cooking up another batch of try-out medicine for his next big "prelim" night, when the lesser lights in the pugilistic profession will take another step toward Champion street.

The event will show local favorites under the best possible conditions, and at least one good match is scheduled. This is between Abdul, the Turk, and Frank Fields, who secured a decision over the Turk in the latter's first battle.

Indian Joe, the big fellow who made such a hard battle with Abdul, the Turk, gets a new one in Ward, a big San Francisco heavyweight, who has confidence.

For the past several days Kid Dalton and Caesar Attell have been mincing the linen over a return match, Caesar not being satisfied with the decision in the last fracas between these two.

PLAYA DEL REY RACING.

Los Angeles Athletic Club Members Will Be Out for Sunday Spin on Still Water.

A big bunch of the members of the Los Angeles Athletic Club will go to Playa del Rey tomorrow to take exercise in the racing shells of the club and from the interest shown in the sport up to this time, it is confidently believed that there will be a number of good oarsmen developed from the material now in sight.

Three new single gigs and a coxwain's gig are available and an old single gig and a six-oared barge can also be used and the members are anxiously awaiting the arrival of two single shells, one coxwain's gig and two four-oareds, which will complete the nine boats ordered from a builder at San Diego.

Rifle Practice.

The shooting section of Turnverein Germania will hold its monthly medal shoot today at Schuetzen Park. The weather is good for rifle shooting these days and as the regulation deer hunters have not started for the mountains as yet the usual old stand-bys will be out.

INVINCIBLE IS RANDOLPH.

NINTH-INNING FINISH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DETROIT, Aug. 3.—Up to the ninth Orth held Detroit to two scratch hits. Then Payne's single and an error put a man at third and Warner, while batting for Schmidt, tied the score with a hit. McIntyre's triple and Payne's single won in the tenth. Coughlin's playing was the fielding feature. Score:

Detroit, 3; hits, 6; errors, 4.
Batteries—Donovan, Schmidt and Warner; Orth and Kleinow.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 3.—Philadelphia bunched hits and bases on balls with Cleveland's errors in the ninth and scored five runs, winning the game by a score of 10 to 7. Both teams fielded poorly. With perfect support not a run would have been made. Score:

Cleveland, 7; hits, 8; errors, 5.
Philadelphia, 10; hits, 9; errors, 4.

ONE RUN, TEN INNINGS.

Ball Player Dies at First.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Having become overheated while playing baseball yesterday, Charles Arnold, a colored comedian, 34 years old, dropped dead. Arnold was the last man to go to bat in the ninth inning, and at the first ball pitched he struck it and ran toward first base. The ball rolled at the feet of the first baseman, and as the tired runner approached the base the umpire declared him "out." Arnold placed one foot on the first base, and then dropped dead.

PART II: EDITORIAL, LOCAL AND BUSINESS SECTION

Pen Points

In the language of a sailorman, Walking Delegate Craig was hit somewheres amidships.

Now maybe there will be a resumption of that lumber traffic at San Pedro and things will perk up a bit.

Evidently the parties who had the votes along shore put Boss Craig on a plank and made him walk it.

Apparently the situation as it is and the way M. Stolypin had it put up in the bulletins are a few laps short on striking a balance.

Lewis Mann, the clothespin king, began business on a capital of $400 and is now a multi-millionaire. He always stuck to one line.

They can usually tell where a policeman is to be found in any of those Russian cities by the heap of stones piled up around him.

The people of San Pedro have now started in to so arrange matters that they won't have to free that free harbor every other year or so.

After all, it seems that Maxim Gorky knew the situation when he said that "the black, blood-soaked wings of death will flutter over Russia."

From a nautical point of view, at least, the divine-right-of-kings theory needs to be taken in for the purpose of having its barnacles scrubbed off.

The establishment by the bureaucracy of a military dictatorship in Russia will probably be just the thing, provided someone will furnish the military.

And, while we are thinking of the matter, it may be remarked that the man who has the job of suppressing the newspapers in Russia has no easy thing of it, either.

Judging by the efforts they are making to get hold of the artillery, the Russian revolutionists evidently believe that God will be on the side that has the most guns.

A supreme effort will be made to save the one Democratic Congressman in the Pennsylvania delegation, and it may perhaps be done if no fight is made against him.

Now that Sam Gompers has come right out and said who should be elected to Congress and who should be defeated, the campaign ought to settle down to a dead calm and await results.

The English papers say that Bryan's speech to the Interparliamentary Union in London was "remarkable for its resonant platitudes rather than for its depth." He's the same old Willie.

The Czar still insists that Russia shall be governed by bureaus. But it will be more difficult to do so now since most of the money that used to be in the drawers has been stolen by the grand dukes.

The hat is being passed all over the country to elect members of Congress. Charity is making a great many calls on the average purse these days, but perhaps one more will not make much difference.

A tabulated statement of the dispatches, at a late hour this morning, gives the impression that while the Finns do not seem to be taking water the Poles are not standing up quite as well as was expected.

Mr. Bryan is now asked to also put Tom Taggart out of the Democratic party. But it must not be forgotten that if Mr. Bryan keeps up that stunt there won't be enough Democrats left to tender him a nomination.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon's boom continues to rip along at a great rate. He was recently placed on the black list of the American Federation of Labor; and other things are happening almost every day to boost him forward in the race.

Kipling's latest poem, which is really a political screed on the Transvaal situation, begins with the line: "Back to the ancient bitterness." What he really should have said is "Back to the mines," for it is over the mines that all the trouble came about.

One of the most rapidly growing cities on the Western Hemisphere is Buenos Ayres, which shows an increase in population of 74,762 during the past fourteen months. Buenos Ayres is perhaps the closest second to Los Angeles along the whole line.

One strange thing about the trouble over there in Muscovy at this stage of the game is the fact that the students of the universities no longer appear in the riot lists. We shall probably hear no more from them until it is time for them to return to school and resume their studies.

The "machine" seems to be a having a great deal of trouble in the Seventy-fifth Assembly District with a strong-headed young fellow named Ford who persists in being a candidate without the machine's consent. Ford is possessed with the crazy idea that because he is a native-born Californian, a graduate of the State University and a respectable person generally who hasn't put himself up for sale that he has certain inalienable rights as an American citizen. The impudence of him!

BRAVO, SAN PEDRO!

San Pedro appears to have "found herself" at last. Her business men and independent workingmen stood together yesterday at the polls and smashed the totem ticket to flinders in the election of Freeholders. Boss Craig, Grand Boojum of the boycotters, proved to be nothing but a sawdust-stuffed bogeyman when the decent, sensible citizens of San Pedro made up their minds to tackle him and find out what meat he fed upon to make him so great.

The emphatic defeat of Craig and his ticket should be the beginning of the end of totemite tyranny in the harbor town. It should be the promise and guarantee of that industrial freedom without which no community can achieve solid prosperity.

It was easy to overthrow the insolent lawsmiths and all his following of fools and bullies; so easy that the citizens of San Pedro doubtless are wondering why they did not do it long ago—why they ever were afraid of the windy boss and his men in buckram. It is easy for any city to free itself from the domination of perverted labor-unionism when decent citizens act together and decree that the walking delegate and the boycotter shall get out of the path of progress and quit interfering with the right of workingmen to work.

San Pedro has given an object lesson to other Pacific Coast cities that is worthy of their prayerful consideration. She has declared her independence of labor union bosses, and if she stands fast by what she has done she can bring back her lost commerce, restore her moribund business to life and activity, and realize her dreams of growth and a glorious future as the warden of the water-gate of the Imperial Southwest.

THE TURNED BAYONETS.

Students and close observers of Russian affairs have argued all along that the great menace which the autocracy had to fear was an awakened peasantry. It was felt that as long as the "man with the hoe" could be kept under restraint in his fields, the Czar's government would last indefinitely. And the way to keep the peasant under restraint was easy enough. It was to hurl the army down upon him whenever he showed signs of becoming restless. That a lot of unarmed farmers could not stand long against guns and bayonets was clear enough to anybody.

The whole theory of perpetuating the autocracy has, therefore, been based on the loyalty of the military. The soldiers and sailors of the empire were counted on to stand by the throne against every threat and in every emergency. They were expected to obey orders when given to them by their superiors, as is the habit of soldiers the world over. Especially has it been relied upon that the Cossacks, who are soldiers by profession and who have no other trade or calling, would carry out whatever commands they received.

Beyond a doubt this is the theory upon which the reactionaries, who appear to have the ear of the Emperor, have proceeded. It is doubtless the argument which influenced the judgment of the Czar. And when the loyalty of the army and navy was suddenly questioned, the Douma was dissolved to make a test. If the government could not depend on its military forces, the sooner the fact was known the better.

That at least a very considerable portion of the Czar's military establishment is disloyal must be plain now to him and to all the world. Regiment after regiment has mutinied, and one ship after another has hoisted the red flag of rebellion. How long that portion of the troops that still stand by the eagles of the empire will continue to do so is problematical.

The day when a discontented peasantry would have risen up and destroyed the rule of autocracies might have come in time, but that day would not be soon if the army stood firm in its allegiance to the throne. But a mutinous soldiery is something to be feared, not a generation from now, but today. If the Czar cannot hold the loyalty of his troops, his house will fall as though it were made of cards. It is not a question of right or wrong that the world has now to consider in viewing the situation in Russia, but how many of the bayonets that stood in the Czar's defense shall be turned against him.

THE MAYOR.

It requires no prophet to predict that Mayor McAleer will be a thousand times happier in the business career to which he has committed himself than he could be in the continued pursuit of the will-o'-the-wisp of political fortune.

Although he has not yet made an official proclamation of his intentions it is known that he proposes to devote himself hereafter to the upbuilding of his considerable industrial enterprise and is preparing to retire from office at the end of his present term without seeking another nomination.

The Mayor is an excellent maker of boilers and builders of smoke-stacks. He has made a success at that trade. He has the know-how. He will prosper. And he will go out of office with the good will of his fellow citizens generally. While he has not made many new friends in the Mayor's chair, he has made few bitter enemies.

It has been, and is recognized, that the Mayor is a good fellow with honest purposes, but withal possessed of confused notions of the duties and responsibilities of his position and hardly appreciating the weakness of giving overmuch consideration to the supposed claims of personal and political friends, shoulder-patters and dependents. While he has stood against one combination of pernicious influences, he has been beguiled by others wearing the cloak of friendliness. The Mayor has sometimes imagined himself a Stoic, but he has never come within a thousand miles of the part.

The people of Los Angeles will give him a hearty hand in the development of the factory that he now has under way. They will wish him good fortune. The few dissenting voices heard at this hour come from those on whose pet and particular corns His Honor has ruthlessly stepped in the performance of his functions as he saw fit. These unmannerly expressions of distress and ill humor from noodles who think the "recall," the City Hall, the business of newspapering and about everything else should be exploited for their personal and financial benefit, are uttered at this time with very poor grace.

The elimination of Mayor McAleer as a probable candidate to succeed himself simplifies somewhat the municipal situation. It should now be possible for the public-spirited leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties to unite with the sincere promoters of independent movements upon a candidate for Mayor, who, free from partisan machine alliances, may be best fitted to give the city the best service, and may best lead an overpowering phalanx of patriotic and high-minded voters against the common enemy—the combined agitators of unrest, disorder, lawlessness and economic damphoolishness.

LIBRARY ROOF GARDENS.

It was brought out at the recent conference of the American Library Association, held at Narragansett Pier, that Los Angeles has really the only library roof garden in the United States. In another year roof gardens in connection with public libraries will be common enough, for in this, as in many things, Los Angeles has proved a trail blazer for the rest of our common country.

The library roof garden was certainly a happy thought on the part of whoever conceived it. There is no one who likes and needs pleasant environment quite so much as your book reader. To the lover of books, the cool light of day, the touch of the cool breeze, the quiet of places uplifted from the noise and hurly-burly, the rush and roar of the town, all come as Godsends. And it is a delight to be able to state that nowhere can these pleasures be obtained so easily as in Los Angeles.

Now that our public library has been removed from the old, dark and stuffy quarters which it so long occupied in the City Hall building, it is not to be wondered at that the average number of daily visitors has increased until it has reached thirty-five hundred. It is surely worth while for the municipality to support a public library when so many people visit it every day in the year.

PLAYHOUSES AND PLAYERS.

The semi-annual Mary Van Buren announcement is ready for plucking, but on the present occasion it seems that there is really a chance for the actress to materialize.

Mr. Morosco has engaged Miss Van Buren to temporarily supplant Blanche Hall, with a possible hope of remaining for several months.

She will make her first appearance in about three weeks, re-entering the field of her old triumphs in a hit of those days—"Mme. Sans Gene."

She will start from New York, where she is at present, in a week or ten days. She will come West alone.

She has had unusual triumphs in New York during the past season, and especially the latter half of it. She is now a figure of really national reputation.

Kolb and Dill will play their last date here tomorrow night.

They propose to stay only three weeks in San Francisco, and after that will go out upon the Stair circuit, using as a principal offering a new play of Mr. Kolb's own construction, "Up and Down." The piece is a melange of comedy and music, constructed to admit of pretty choral numbers and the regulation bracers of Teutonic farce.

Not all the present company will go to San Francisco, in fact, only three principals—Kolb, Dill and Dillon—are to be included in the traveling list.

Frank Blair and George L. Towle, respectively stage and musical director of the Hotchkiss, are to remain here. Mr. Blair will make arrangements for another company some time during next week.

Too Brave.

"The bravery of young men," said Rear-Admiral Buhler at Atlantic City, "is a fact that I shall never cease to marvel over. Did you ever hear of a hope too forlorn, a risk too overwhelming, for the young men of the armies and navies of the world to undertake?

"If only the young men's wisdom equaled their bravery! But that is impossible. Sometimes I think boys have so much bravery that there is no room in them for anything else.

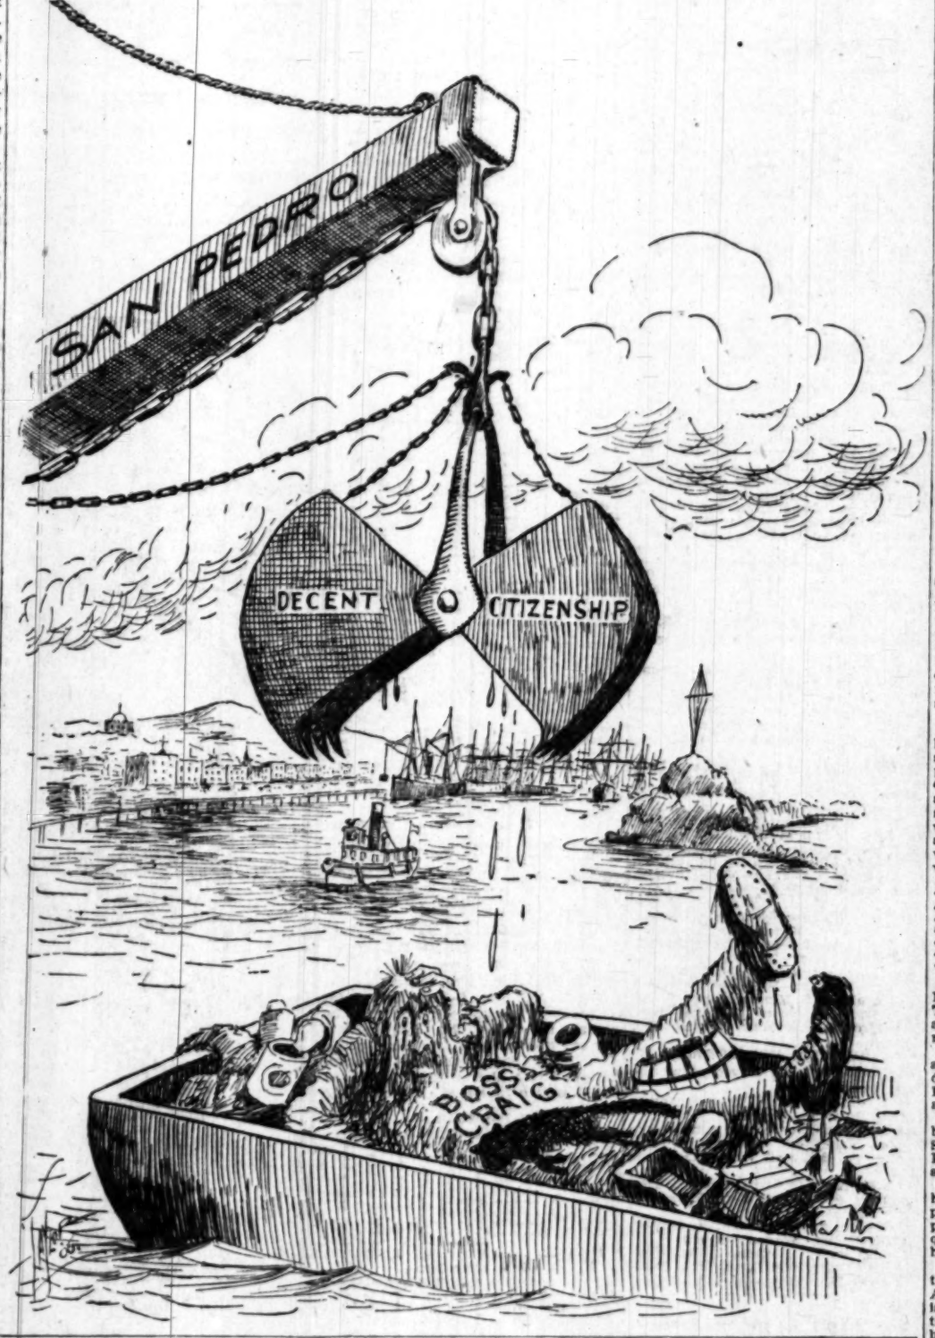
"I used to know a boy who was brave enough, but reckless, careless, extravagant. He accumulated a great quantity of debts.

"His father gave him a talking to one day.

"'Suppose,' he said, 'that I should be taken away suddenly, what would become of you?'

"'I'd stay here,' the boy answered, smiling. 'The question is, what would become of you?'"—[Chicago Journal.

DREDGED OUT AT LAST.



THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER.

The Patchwork Child.

When anybody sees me, they Look so su'prised, an' nen they say
"She's got her Uncle Henry's hair."
An' other folks, they say they see
Gran'mama's nose has growed on me,
Or "That's her pa's ears, I declare!"

My eyes are mama's; an' my teeth—
The ones that's crooked underneath—
They always say are Uncle Joe's;
An' once when I was wadin,' why
Somebody had to see that I
Have got my gran'pa's very toes!

They say my chin's from Aunt Louise,
An' gran'ma, every time she sees
My hands, will say: "Well, bless her heart!
She's got my sister Emma's hands,"
And says that's how she understands
My fingers all keeps held apart.

An' so that's how it is with me—
Why, Uncle Henry, one time he Said: "Now, just listen to her voice,"
An' said that every time he heard
Me sing a song or speak a word
He thought it was his Cousin Joyce.

It worries me to be so mixed;
I wish that I could get things fixed
So that myself belonged to me.
It's always one of papa's jokes
That I am lots of other folks—
He thinks it's funny as can be.

But sometimes, nights, I almost cry
Because somebody's found that I
Am like somebody else, an' nen
I feel so bad, an' almost bawf
For fear that some day they will all Get mad, an' want themselves

Consistent.

"Why have you sent all the furniture to the second-hand man, and replaced it with this new stuff?" asks the fond husband.

"Why, George," replied the trusting wife, "we have joined church, haven't we?"

"Yes, but I don't see what that has to do with it."

"I thought it was only appropriate that we should have nothing but mission furniture under the circumstances."

Another Crusade.

"I tell you," says the caller, "the reformers may be laughed at, but their work in the insurance field, and the foodstuffs affair, and in other lines has been splendid."

"Yes," sighs the host, "and next thing they ought to take up is the brutality of the manufacture of popular songs."

Even as he speaks the young lady next door begins to warble the latest hit, "Although Your Hand is Moist, I Love to Squeeze It."

WILBUR D. NESBIT.

Famous Poor Spellers.

Nowadays, if a man whose name was Brown should spell it Broun, Broon, Browen, or Brun, he would no doubt get into a variety of complicated troubles. Such a diversity of orthography does not seem to have annoyed the English poet Shakespeare, however, for his name appears with five different spellings, two of which are in his own handwriting.

In the register in the church at Stratford the name of the greatest English dramatist is written Shakspeare. It appears as Shakspeare in the body of his will, but this same will is indorsed, "Mr. Shackspere's Will." The poet himself wrote his name Shakspere and Shakspeare, and now it is spelled Shakespeare.

Sir Walter Raleigh had numerous ways of spelling his name. It appears at different times and places as Rawley, Raleigh, Raleigh, Rawleigh and Rawleley.

HUMOR OF THE WORLD.

FROM ENGLAND.

London is chuckling at present over a really good "bridge story, which Charles Hawtrey is telling in "The Man From Blankneys." Here it is:

A family which is passionately devoted to bridge is plunged into mourning by the loss of the father. A discussion arises as to whether the deceased would have chosen to be buried or cremated. The decision is left to the eldest son, who, looking at his mother, says, "I leave it to you," to which the lady replies, "I make it spades."

Mother (to Bobby who doesn't want to go to bed:) "But, dear, remember that the little chickens go to bed early."

A late judge whose personal appearance was as unprepossessing as his legal knowledge was profound and his intellect keen, interrupted a female witness. "Humbugged you, good woman! What do you mean by that?" said he sternly.

"Well, my lord," replied the woman, "I don't know how to explain it exactly, but if a girl called your worship a handsome man, she would be humbugging you."—[Tit-Bits.

Mr. Monk: What are you so miserable about, old chap?

The Giraffe: My best girl pinned a rose in my buttonhole and I'm so high up I can't smell it.—[Ally Sloper.

She: He is an awfully clever man, I think; he seems to know everything.

He: Yes, that's where George's cleverness comes in!

She: Why, what do you mean?

He: He seems to know everything.—[Tit-Bits.

Farmer Hayseed: My wife's learning the piano! My daughter's learning the violin! and my son's learning the banjo!

Mr. Buler: And you are learning nothing?"

F. H.: Oh, yes, I'm learning to bear it!—[Answers.

Something went wrong in a north-country manufactory last week, and the explosion which followed was so violent that hundreds of men were thrown out of employment.—[Tatler.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Just as we were getting along so nicely and becoming used to the deadly overhead trolley, which by the way, has not killed any one for some time, the men employed on track construction ask for more pay and in three different languages insist on a recognition of their demands. Unless something is done to insure permanent peace between the United Railways and the employés, the citizens who live at a distance from Fillmore street will always be in dread of walking for their health. The company now has a splendid uniform system with switches everywhere and the day of the underground conduit must have passed unnoticed.

The Supervisors ought not to feel hurt because the Merchants' Association did not invite them to the dinner the other night. The price of "vittles" is high now and the fewer the guests the smaller the bill. Besides it was the semi-annual feast and if the disgruntled officials will consult the precedents they will find that never in the history of the association has it been financially able to have the eighteen Supervisors dine with it more than once a year. The city fathers will be welcome when the glad Christmastide comes again.

Our $7,000,000 City Hall has not been officially condemned. For quite a while past it has been condemned by the popular voice but the taxpayers always stubbornly thought that it was good enough for the taxeaters to do business in. It never was a thing of beauty or a joy forever but it kept out the wind and the rain and it was a splendid home for a small army of professional jurymen who used to say that the accommodations were superior to many of the cheaper hotels. The foundations and the first story are as good as ever, but the official flat has not gone forth and in the future we may have a playground where once important matters of state were decided.

The accusation that two well-known Supervisors drank up the missing nine wagonloads of whisky is strenuously denied by themselves and by their friends. As a convincing argument that they are innocent of the foul charge it is urged that whisky is only an incidental beverage with them and that steam beer is their steady choice. Another cruel slander is that one of them after a few months in office owned and rented a valuable house to Chinese gamblers, whereas previous to his being officially at the public crib he was driving a delivery wagon at a small wage. It appears that he already had a lease on the house and that the agent rented it to Chinese without his knowledge.

When officials have dreams they ought to confide them to their closest friends and not to the public press. A case in point is our worthy esteemed and learned City Attorney. He has a dream about getting a million dollars revenue for the city for the right to run under the sidewalks. He urges the passage of a law, regardless as to how it will execute it. Chicago has a law, but it is poorly executed.

The community gave a sigh of relief when it was definitely known that the Relief Commission had voluntarily relieved itself of further worry. Practical charity is essentially a good thing, but when it is weighted down by a $18,000 a year bureau it becomes a delusion and a snare. The three commissioners were able sincere and energetic men, but the system under which they worked was repugnant to the popular mind. The five promising citizens who now serve without pay inspire much more confidence in every one who is vitally interested in the proper expenditure of the relief millions.

The indignant residents and property owners who are opposing the invasion of the Japanese in certain sections of the city are making a gallant but losing fight. In this city as well as in every other city in the country those who pay the highest rents can get the premises, irrespective of popular prejudices. A colony of negroes has invaded the most aristocratic section of New York City and no legal process seems available to prevent them from living where they choose. In this city it is the same old story over again. Forty years ago the Chinese took possession of the swamp section of the town.

Capt. Kilian, gallant and courteous, has at last been rewarded for his long and some work on behalf of the poor. His period of martyrdom in the Police Court charged with pinching a lady's arm for getting in the relief line when she should have crowded up to the window, unmindful of the line, was but a preliminary to his being presented with a beautiful watch by those who worked under him.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

There is to be a fight in the Seventh Congress District, after all. Prominent local Democrats are preparing to place a candidate in the field to make the race against Congressman McLachlan, who will receive the Republican nomination. The Democrats have been busily seeking the man. It was intimated to me yesterday that he already has been found. They say he will be a man of big caliber. Nomination of the candidate may be made at the State convention of the Democrats at Sacramento in September, under the law which makes it possible for Congress district delegates at a State convention to hold a subconvention and name a candidate. Advantage will have to be taken of this opportunity if the Democrats are to make a party nomination, as though individual nominations by petition may be made up to forty days prior to the November election.

A curious situation came to my notice yesterday in connection with the nomination of candidates for places on the District Court of Appeals created by the last regular session of the Legislature. Judges and lawyers tell me they have discovered that the nominations cannot be made at district conventions of the State convention, a procedure that it was expected would be followed at the session of Republican delegates at Santa Cruz on September 5. It is declared that the candidates will have to be nominated by petition, for the reason that the election laws make no provision for Court of Appeals district conventions. This seems, according to the conclusions reached by my informants after studying the act creating the new courts, that the Legislature failed to make provision for the separation of the State convention into district conventions to nominate candidates for the Courts of Appeal.

To get around the difficulty, it is said that the Secretary of State may refuse to place the names of nominees on the official ballot and that by mandamus proceedings the matter will be taken directly before the Supreme Court. There is the possibility, though, that a litigant may hold against the candidates so named. To be on the safe side candidates in this and other districts are said to be preparing to circulate petitions for nominations, an undertaking that will involve considerable work.

This is the day when Republican candidates—State, county and city—take to the woods, there to woo the prospective delegate, masticate the succulent bovine and to quaff from the Pierian spring that will inspire vote-getting valor. "Benny" Cohn turns the spigot at the spring. The affair, which is termed a "grand Republican rally," is to be held at Le Conte ranch, a few minutes out on the Pasadale line of the Inter-Urban railway. Fifteen special cars have been engaged, to leave Sixth and Main streets at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon. The Santa Monica Republican Club will send up two carloads of veterans from the Soldiers' Home, and it is expected that the rest of the county will swell the remaining thirteen cars. Senator Flint, in whose honor the affair was planned, in great state will not reach here in time, but Pardee, who says he came to "wash," is expected to tell of his undying love for Southern California, after which the band will play "It Is a Lonesome Town." It is planned to have the excursionists at No. 118½ South Spring at 1 o'clock and to march from there behind a band to the railroad station.

Talking about in 'um shoes, the "independent movement" advanced at the meeting of the Democratic Central Committee is bobbing up in unexpected places and then disappearing like an ignis fatuus, which smells of Market for the Irishman's potato. You hear about it and then you don't. Hear it creeping stealthily down the street and find yourself beating thin air as you jump from a chair to seize it.

Lo, the ghost of the Democratic party is walking. Those who were present at the Elks' Hall meeting two weeks ago look wise and speak in mystical whispers when it is mentioned. Some candidates for county offices say they have heard the swish of Bryan's skirts, but somehow they fail to recognize the face.

Still the wraith is slouching about, and county Democrats are planning for a convention, which probably will be held about September 25. The Central Committee will meet some time next week and fix the time and place. The date will be late enough to allow the Democrats will have an opportunity to take advantage of anything that may eventuate in the meantime—the naming of an independent ticket for them to indorse, for instance. They have declared they will not nominate a Democratic ticket, although they admit they would not oppose the election of some good Democrat to county office on a non-partisan ticket.

I get it on excellent authority yesterday that Judge Charles Monroe has previously agreed to take the unexpired term of two years on the Superior bench, provided, of course, that he get the nomination. This short term, the remainder of the term for which Judge Allen was elected, and which he gave up to accept an appointment on the Court of Appeals. Judge Monroe was appointed to fill the vacancy existing until the coming election, but it was the report some time ago that he did not feel it incumbent upon him to accept a two-year term after election, in light of the fact that there is one candidate not now on the bench who would be in the race for a longer term. It was even said that the judges had determined that the candidate receiving the smallest number of votes at the convention should take the short term. Judge Monroe's reported decision has changed all this.

A startling rumor was afloat yesterday that a man had seen a man who had seen a cut and dried Australian ballot for use at the coming Republican County Convention at Venice, and everything all printed, even the favorite candidates at the top of the ticket, and "programme" stamped thereon—figuratively, of course. No one has seen, however, who would admit he knew the name of the man who had seen the man who had seen.

Opinion is quite general among those that the Australian ballot system will be adopted at the convention. The candidates are agitated as to the order to determine in what order their names shall appear on the tickets. Alphabetical arrangement naturally is preferred by a number of candidates for each office, as the list be arranged alphabetically, the "Z's" will object loudly on the ground that they will have no walk, as a tough nut to crack.

REPORT ON OHIO TREASURY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

AKRON (O.) Aug. 3.—Examiners Paulson and Raleigh filed their report of the examination of the Summit county treasury with Probate Judge Pardee today. It shows that there is a deficit in the treasury of $272,454.

The examiners say this deficit was $892,154 at the time the examination was begun but since then a large amount of borrowed money has been returned.

The report declared that a large part of the loans are unsecured and that a considerable part of the securities representing loans of public funds are renewals of obligations taken by former treasurers and carried by the present treasurer, Fred E. Smith.

Treasurer Smith declares that the vault in the courthouse is unsafe to keep public funds and that the interest of his bond is so high and the salary so low that he had to loan money to keep ahead.

The score this morning presents no change as far as the first four rows are concerned. The Cucamonga candidate landed enough points to place her within hailing distance of the agile Pasadena maiden who insists upon leading the campaign whenever she gets a chance. Merle Prewitt's friends sent in about 1500 points and sent her safely over the 60,000 line and a thousand more for luck. Some who have been active in her campaign are a little anxious to know just how many who have promised to help her through may be depended upon. At the rate things are going now when scores are leaping no longer by hundreds but by thousands they feel that it will be necessary to calculate carefully.

The keenest kind of public interest is aroused in the contest and from now on heavy voting may be looked for. Each and every candidate has friends who are doing all they can to help. Every day an avalanche of mail reaches headquarters with coupons and subscriptions for favorite candidates and right here it may be mentioned that friends of contestants who send in coupons need not pay first-class postage on them. The coupons may be put up in packages as third-class mail matter at the rate of 1 cent for two ounces. It seems little short of ridiculous to send coupons singly under a 2-cent stamp to the office in a contest which will probably reach a couple or three million points with an average of thousands of points in Azusa who are so loyal to her interests.

Bertha Cohen took it into her wise little head to do an athletic turn and swung herself up onto the perch occupied yesterday by William Bolstad, who is chivalrous to a degree. He simply said "ladies first," doffed his cap and climbed down onto the perch below.

LONG BEACH ON DECK.

John Clayton thought it was about time for Long Beach to take a hand in the scramble for top-liners yesterday so he sent in a score of 5500 points just for a starter toward those high perches. This sent him up into the 40,000 column and past May Rickerich. Grace Allen turned in about 3000 points and holds John at a distance of nearly 2000. Some one in Bullfrog, Nevada, is taking an interest in Grace and sends her frequent envelopes full of coupons. A lady came to headquarters yesterday and left a bunch of coupons for Grace and said she should later send in subscriptions in her favor for she is anxious to see her go to the top.

HE PLAYS LEAP FROG.

Paul Steintorf is just making the Imperial Valley hum these days. He has formed a habit of jumping over a thousand or two every time he makes a jump. It is a sort of leap-frog motion that is very entertaining. A few days ago Paul was down in the 12,000 column. Then he leap-frogged over the thirteens and fourteens into the 15,000 row and now this morning he leaps into the 16,000 row. He is right hot after that Santa Barbara girl and only misses her this morning by a few hundred points. It looks as if Paul was hankering for a neck and neck race with Ignatius Parker. There'll be some fun if those two boys get going after each other.

A FOUR-LEAF CLOVER.

Ignatius has a little friend out at Hollywood whom he has never seen but who evinces great interest in his success and sends in bunches of coupons every few days accompanied by cheering messages. Yesterday she wrote in a round, childish hand: "Dear Friend, Mr. Parker: I shall do all in my favor to help you along. I hope you manage to get the school you are trying for, and I wish you——" and right here was pasted a four-leaved clover. The little girl inclosed 11 coupons for which Ignatius was very grateful and, especially so for the good luck wishes expressed so poetically. He turned in over 1200 points yesterday.

WILL THEY DO IT?

Mansie Kim advances one row, passing Gardena. Churches, Sunday-schools and missions declare a concerted movement in favor of this Chinese girl who is knocking at the door of the business world of America for admission. There is a strong desire on the part of some of these friends to bring her to this city that she may appear before different organizations in support of her own cause. Mansie writes however, that it is well nigh impossible for her to leave home as she keeps the books for her father who owns an extensive vegetable garden and supplies people for miles around Bakersfield with vegetables. It is just now the time of year when work on a fruit and vegetable ranch is most pressing and Mansie has her hands full looking after orders, etc.

A Hollywood sympathizer writes the following letter to the scholarship manager: "I am myself a girl of thirteen years and am interested in Mansie Kim and will send these thirty coupons hoping they will help along a little because I want her to win a scholarship."

Yesterday Mansie had the largest score that has yet been turned in for her in a single day since she undertook the campaign, almost 700 points being received in her favor. If the good Christian people of Los Angeles once took up her cause they could accomplish wonders.

UPS AND DOWNS.

Edith Farrell, the doctors' favorite, jumps up a row this morning and sits down in the San Diego girl's place. Edna Wagner, whose avalanche of birthday subscriptions gave her such a lift up the ladder rises another rung this morning.

Frank Wiggins is doing splendidly these days. This morning he passes his running mate, Harry Wood. Jennie Bloom also goes up a couple of rows and Ethel Burton jumps Hollywood. Myrtle McCarger came in from Compton yesterday and shoved up her score into the 7000 column.

SANTA BARBARA LIVELY.

Jennie Ortis of Santa Barbara seems to have suddenly woke up and begun a lively campaign. She, this morning swells her score to almost 4500 points and rises eight rows, passing Yuma, Hollywood, Bakersfield and several Los Angeles candidates in her upward flight.

Ethel Burton passes Hollywood, too, and Jennie Bloom passes Monrovia and Compton, and lands next to Harry Wood. This little miss will make things lively for those four in the 8000 row, once she gets to chasing them.

UPPER SOCIETY DUBBED ROTTEN.

PRESENT TIME LIKENED TO DAYS OF OLD ROME.

Rev. Joseph Toner Returns from Ireland and Cites the Thaw Case as Another Instance of the Moral Decline of the Rich of This Country and Expresses Fear for Future.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—After a record breaking trip to Ireland to cast his vo for T. M. Kettle, Nationalist M. P., Rev. Joseph Toner, pastor of St. Lawrence's Roman Catholic Church of Pittsburgh, returned yesterday on the Majestic. He had a denunciation of American society and Pittsburgh society in particular to deliver. Speaking of the Thaw case, Father Toner said:

"This is another evidence of the moral decline of the rich of this country. So-called fashionable society is so rotten now that it reminds one of the days of ancient Rome and Greece. And that is just what we are coming to. We are on the decline morally, and unless some great power makes itself felt in the near future this country will be as Rome was at the time of its fall."

He fully agreed with the views of Cardinal Gibbons and said that, although his home is in Pittsburgh, he must pronounce the so-called upper society of that city "morally rotten."

"This debauchery and immorality exists almost entirely," he continued, "among the millionaires—men who have come up from almost nothing. These men are really not Pittsburghers although they are casting a blight upon the name of the city. Just as soon as they gain their wealth they go to New York, London and Paris to spend it in pleasure and debauchery. Pittsburgh is too busy for them—too commercial."

BIBLE LESSONS.

FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE STUDENTS.

Prepared for The Times by J. S. Kirtley.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 5.

Luke xiv: 15-24. False Excuses.

THE CONNECTION.

They are still at the feast in the prominent Pharisee's house, of which we had an account in our last lesson. After his talk in connection with the healing of the dropsical man, about doing good on the Sabbath day and His direction to the guests about self-seeking and to the host about selfish invitations, some one present seemed to grow impulsively happy. He got to thinking about the feast which the rabbis had taught them would be celebrated when their Messiah came, and to which every true Israelite would be admitted. Or he might have simulated a pious interest in the Messiah in order to turn the talk from subjects that wounded his self-conceit. Jesus saw that there was need of further correction to show them how God was inviting them to His feast and they were even now treating it with contempt.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Feast Prepared: 15-17.

"And when one of them that sat at meat with Him heard these things, he said unto Him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the Kingdom of God. But He said unto him: A certain man made a great supper, and he bade many, and he sent forth his servants at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready."

This man represented in his general spirit the whole nation, whether his exclamation was a good-natured religious impulse or conventional cant, or the outbreak of conceit over the happiness that he thought was surely awaiting him, in virtue of his being a Pharisee.

(1.) The Prepared Feast.

They thought they had a proprietary right in the Messiah and all of His blessings, and now Jesus draws their picture in the persons who were so preoccupied with their own affairs that they would not attend a great joyous feast. He had corrected them about several other matters and will now correct them about this.

The figure of the feast was suggested by the feast then going on and by the idea of the Jews, as expressed through this man, that the blessing of the Messiah would be inaugurated by a feast.

God has truly made a feast, but they do not maintain the attitude toward it which they think they do. To the man himself Jesus speaks directly. The preparations had all been fully made. God had made the preparations with His unerring intelligence and His limitless resources. It could not but be a "great feast." Everything God does is great; its ability to satisfy every want of all the hungry makes it great; the ample banquet-room makes it great.

They were always part of the preparations for a feast, as is even now the case in the East. Both the preparation of the feast and the invitation to it had covered a great period of time. A second call was usually sent out, when the hour of the feast was announced. For centuries this two-fold preparation had been going on. God's plans were maturing. His servants were inviting. Prophet after prophet arose to speak the invitation, to train the minds and morals of the people for readiness and to give them foretastes of the great feast.

(3.) The final announcement and summons.

If by "his servant" is meant any one person, that person was, of course, the herald, John.

If any one of the various servants who were sent out is meant, then a great many would be included—John and the twelve who were sent out to preach, and afterward the seventy, and any others who, in any way, announced the fact that the Messiah had come.

God meant something by going to all this trouble and spending all this time and in inviting all these people. It is a solemn and a serious thing to receive such an invitation from God. The characters of men are revealed and their future decided by the way they treat it.

We can imagine that those men gathered there were listening to Christ, with some suspense and were beginning to suspect He was preparing to let a blow fall on their heads. To be told that a feast was already spread surprised them as if He was preparing to expose them made them wince.

II.

The Invitation Refused: 18-20.

"And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto Him, I have bought a field and I must needs go out and see it; I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen and I go to prove them; I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, therefore I cannot come."

(1.) The cause of the refusal.

The two invitations, through John and Jesus, were refused for one reason, for men are all of the same nature. The real cause of it was that they had something in hand that they preferred to do. Three representative instances are chosen and related. In those three cases the men were engaged in nothing wrong, but were preoccupied, by things, innocent and right in themselves, from doing something of very great importance.

For the time, the feast should have had precedence over everything else, since it would not, in reality, interfere with any right employments, relationships or duties. Each was preoccupied and the invitation was declined.

While there was only one cause for their refusal—preference for something else—the occasion for it varied with each person. Each one recognized some obligation as he asked to be excused, or each had already decided what he would do.

Some tried to be courteous and others flatly refused.

Their refusal was all the more flagrant because they had received and accepted the first invitation and the feast had been prepared with a view to their special needs, just as the Jews had received God's former invitations, and received in addition many honors and had pledged themselves to loyally accept the Messiah and his blessings.

It is very delightful to talk of eating bread in the kingdom till we learn that other things are to be subordinated, and then it is another matter. There was no incompatibility between the feast and their duties and engagements. If we put them first, there is room; if we put them second, there is none. The officers of the Jews as representing the nation were probably meant by the three men cited. They had, however, for all of the favored men who preferred worldly things to God; and for those who now allow the things of this world to blind them to the higher interests.

The first man had done right in buying a field, and he did the wise thing to go to see it in order to plan for the future use of it, and he did the natural thing in enjoying his new possession. His wrong was in not being willing to forego just one evening in being true to his word, courteous to his friend and loyal to himself in enjoying ennobling companionship. One evening of service, while the field would wait for the next day; his plans would not fail in one day and his enjoyment of it would be just as keen. In the second case, buying and providing a yoke of oxen need not prevent attendance at the feast. He preferred to do that. The third preferred to remain with his newly-wedded wife, though he had promised to go to the feast; though it would not diminish his love of her nor her love of him; though he had a responsibility that could not be evaded by staying at home. Though these excuses are ridiculous, they are not more so than those which the Jews gave for not accepting their Messiah, and it all meant that they preferred something else and were insincere.

III.

Other guests secured: 21-24.

"And the servant came, and told his Lord these things. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to the servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. And the servant said, Lord, what didst thou command and this done, and yet there is room. And the Lord said unto the servant, Go out in the highways and hedges, and constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled. For I say unto you that none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper."

It was right that God should be indignant at the Jews for their stupid, discourteous, dishonest, selfish, blind refusal. It was right to invite others, not because He was indignant, but they were needy.

(1.) A chance for others.

The invitation was then broadened to take in the lower classes in the city who were unfortunate and unattractive, socially and personally. Probably He meant by those Jews of the lower classes upon whom the Pharisees looked down with contempt. It was still further widened to take in the Gentiles, represented by those in the country. This thought he does not make prominent, but subordinates it to the idea that some others must enjoy the opportunity that had been thrown away.

(2.) A constraining hospitality.

He adapts his sharp lesson to their condition and point of view. As a matter of fact, "Yet there is room" till all the Jews and all the Gentiles are gathered in, but there is no room for those who imperturbably prefer something else. There is in this a message of hope to all generations. There are none too degraded to be included in this invitation. It is not only an invitation, but it is a minute and painstaking search for those who can be benefited, and Jesus is still sending out His servants on that search. It is more than an invitation and a search. It is all of that plus constraint, not compulsion, but constraint, the use of all the powers to lead to action. "See that ye refuse not him that speaketh," for honor us to accept; higher self-interest prompts it, and "refusal to accept cancels all invitations."

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

On oriental never gives a direct refusal to any request, but he is very ingenious in framing his excuses. He would be delighted indeed to do what you ask of him, but something unforseen has occurred which will render it impossible. Perhaps some other time, may it please God, he will be more fortunate. His excuses are often so thin as to be quite transparent, but he is not at all abashed. It is politeness in him to offer on your part to refuse to accept them.—[Long.

It is a grievous mistake that is made by the cheerful optimist when today he insists that every human being shall finally be saved. This to fly flatly in the face of innumerable scriptures, one of them being in our present lesson, wherein the Lord expressly declares that "none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper." The Jews were first bidden and they spurned the invitation, and multitudes of Gentiles have been guilty of like indignity. Then the Lord has exhausted all the resources of infinite wisdom and infinite love, and incorrigible sinners have despised them all. He asks in righteous anger, "What more could I do than I have done?"—[Hanson.

Acceptance is always possible, and nothing but final refusal will be the ground of final exclusion from the "feast of fat things," for all people, to which each of us is invited and may come, however often we may have said, "I pry thee have me excused.—[Maclaran.

POINTS TO IMPRESS.

1. That we accept Christ's invitation not to fast but to a feast.
2. That God has prepared it with infinite pains and is inviting us with infinite pathos.
3. That every refusal is not a reason but an excuse, shallow, impudent, unworthy.
4. That being a Christian fits one to his life's work.
5. That God has large plans for our good.
6. That He has patience with the weak.
7. That no one will lose heaven who longs for heaven.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

THE DOERS AND THE EXCUSERS.

Terse Comments Upon the Uniform Prayer-meeting Topic of the Young People's Societies, Christian Endeavor, Baptist Young People's Union, Epworth League, etc. For August 5. "Duty privilege and excuses."—[Luke xiv, 15-24.

By William T. Ellis.

Most excuses are foolish. They are really needless and seldom are they sound. Generally, too, they fail of their purpose, and only bring the excuser into further condemnation. They are a sign of weakness and of failure. Absence of excuses from the lips means the presence of strength in the life.

As the Christian grows in grace, desire and duty become one. In the perfect life they are identical. This is not so with the Godless man. His desires are always at war with his duty, and this conflict robs his heart of the peace which is one of the Christian's dearest treasures.

"A poor excuse is better than none," runs the saying, but its opposite is really true, that no excuse is better than any.

Our duty is never completely hidden from us. God will always give us light enough to see our next duty. This is a great truth and the understanding of it brings much peace. For the serious problems of life are generally the deciding of what is our duty. Now any one who is honest with God, and willing to walk in the path of duty when it is indicated, may know clearly and beyond a peradventure what is his duty. It is possible for each of us to be certain whether or not he is at present at the post of duty. By his providences, by his word, by his Spirit, and by his reasoning faculties with which he has endowed us. God will plainly show the way of duty to any earnest soul.

Excuses are rare on the lips of the excellent.

Excuses rob the heart of courage and the hand of power. It is a weak way of escaping from duty. Excuses are not a badge of the brave and the noble. A great man said, "I never explain." It takes a great man to say that. Small and cowardly souls are full of explanations and excuses for their conduct, because they have not the pluck to stand a misjudgment.

Duty is a big word. It is a king among words. It is a word that begins to walk with us in the earliest conscious years of childhood and never departs from us until we enter the greater life where duty is never difficult to discern and where it is always synonymous with love. Moreover, duty is an expanding word. At first it represent sto our minds restrictions and limitations. "Duty" and "don't" are very much akin in the understanding of a child. But as we advance in years and wisdom, duty broadens into privilege. All the bigness and beauty of life crowd into it. The word once dreaded becomes a word well beloved.

When God asks of us a deed, is it not foolish as well as faithless to offer Him instead only an excuse? Excuses are no substitute for actions. Not all the excuses in the world can fill the place of a duty well done. When we present ourself before the Lord it should be with arms full of sheaves of labor, not of sheaves of excuses.

Excuses are never steps to progress; usually they are barriers.

Excuses are easy. It does not take any great amount of ability to devise an excuse. In fact, the persons who are most adept at giving excuses are usually the shirkers, the cowards and the inefficient. Short of that great day when they shall stand speechless, the unfaithful persons never lack for excuses. We suspect that Satan does a thriving business in supplying earth with excuses.

There cannot be a good excuse for not becoming a disciple of Christ. All such excuses are inventions of the evil one.

No calls come to the unfaithful.

Duties enlarge in the doing. By way of small duties we rise to the greater; this is the natural law of progress. Only they who are faithful in the least are appointed to have charge over the most. By doing little duties well we become equipped for great duties.

The phrase "love and duty" has become a proverb. In truth, the two are not widely separated from each other. Duty is really only the expression of love. When we do our duty we are showing our love. A husband manifests his love for his wife by living a life of loyalty to duty. If he failed to provide for her needs, all the words of love in the world could not atone for his neglect.

We are true to God when we are true to duty.

The great soul—and without this there is no greatness—is the one which fears not to follow duty anywhere.

NEWS AND NOTES.

The labor unions of Chili are uniting in an effort to establish laws which shall make Sunday a day of rest among all classes of workingmen in that country.

In Paotingfu, China, where Dr. Hodge of Philadelphia and Dr. Taylor, two young Presbyterian missionaries, lost their lives in 1900 at the hands of the Boxers, there stands today as their memorial, a self-supporting hospital.

The Protestant Episcopal Church has recently commissioned Rev. Dr. R. F. Alsop, a Brooklyn pastor, and Rev. Dr. Arthur Lloyd, a missionary secretary of the denomination, to tour the world and inspect the missionary work of that church.

The People's Palace for Workingmen which the Salvation Army is erecting in Boston is approaching completion. This combined club and hotel for workingmen includes the best features of the Workingmen's Temple in London and the Mills Hotel in New York. It is built in the armory style, in keeping with the military idea of the army. The hotel proper numbers 287 single rooms to be used as dormitories.

Mr. Grenfel's story of his work among the fisherfolk on the coast of Labrador led several physicions of high repute and professional standing to join him last summer in volunteer service. This year among a party of excursionists who have recently sailed for Labrador there goes an expert teacher of handicraft whose purpose is to spend her vacation during the coming summer in forming classes among the women, teaching them various forms of useful handwork.

Methodism in the land of Wesley is inaugurating a Forward Movement. It is specifically an endeavor to reach the multitudes of the unchurched in the great cities. A work which began at Manchester about twenty years ago has, under this new impulse, grown into the great Manchester Mission, in whose various organizations, it is estimated, 15,000 people hear the gospel every Sunday under Methodist auspices.

At the meeting of the General Assembly of the United Free Church of Scotland in Edinburgh, recently, it was announced that legal complications had delayed the final decision as to the distribution of the funds and properties of the uniting churches. Many people among the Wee Frees have expressed the wish that the church should receive back from the courts the property which they consider should never have been taken from them. Dr. Hutton, who is the newly-elected Moderator of this assembly, is expected to visit America this summer.

At the Twelfth Conference on International Arbitration, Dr. Trueblood, secretary of the American Peace Society, reported that China and Persia have during the year ratified the treaty for obligatory arbitration, and appointed representatives in The Hague Court. The total number of treaties now signed is forty-four, an increase of fourteen during the year. Two of these, between Denmark and the Netherlands, and Denmark and Italy, are without limitations. They refer all controversies for all time to The Hague Court.

The work for the child widows of India which was begun by Pundita Ramabai seventeen years ago, has now grown from the orignal home into a populous village where 1500 child widows are sheltered and trained. No effort is made to gain proselytes from Hinduism to Christianity, some of the teachers even still adhering to their Hindu faith. Ramabai is acknowledged to be the most learned woman of her race as the title Pundita signifies—a title which she alone of all the women of India bears. "A statesman-like servant of God" and "one of the great personages of her generation" is the characterization which Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hall gives to her personality.

ADRIFT ON SCOWS.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3.—News that two men are adrift in the Gulf of Mexico on scows without food or water was received here today by agents of the ocean-going tug R. W. Wilmot. Four days ago these men were cast adrift in a storm which broke the towing line between the Wilmot and four scows. The tug was then sixty miles out from Mobile, which port she left last Monday. When the seas broke the towing line the men were helpless before the storm.

Catspaw Customers.

The story of the monkey who used the cat's paw to pull the chestnuts out of the fire, finds new illustrations daily. When a dealer sells a customer a sustitute for MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM, he does so because the substitute pays him a bigger profit. He makes the customer his catspaw to rake in a few extra dollars.

It is not pleasant to be made a catspaw, especially when you pay for the opportunity of being injured. Is it not foolish to pay for the opportunity to use injurious imitations of MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM, the standard powder of the world? Think it over.

Have you tried MENNEN'S VIOLET BORATED TALCUM TOILET POWDER? Ladies partial to violet perfume will find Mennen's Violet Powder fragrant with the odor of fresh plucked Parma violets.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

SAVES BOYS BY DARING LEAP.

TWO LADS IN DIRE PERIL IN PASADENA RUNAWAY.

Man Seeing Danger Jumps to Rear of Buggy, Grasps Lines Which Youngster Holding Them Is Unable to Pull Hard Enough, and Brings Flying Animal to Standstill.

Office of The Times, No. 36 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Aug. 3.—But for the prompt action of A. E. Stone in coming to their assistance, two little lads, the older of them but 8 years old, probably would have been seriously injured in a runaway accident this morning. The two boys were driving in a buggy, when their horse took fright and dashed down the street despite the futile efforts of the youthful driver to stop it.

Little Johnnie Hicks had hold of the reins and he strove manfully to bring the frightened animal to a standstill, but the horse was frantic and the small arms of the boy were unequal to the task imposed upon them. The other boy in the rig, who was not more than 7, hung on to the seat for dear life to keep from being thrown to the ground. The Hicks boy, when he saw that he could not stop the horse, devoted his efforts to keeping it in the middle of the road and by his presence of mind averted several collisions.

A number of men, seeing the plight that the boys were in, made efforts to stop the horse, and several of them narrowly escaped being run down. Finally Stone came to the rescue, and, after one or two efforts, got hold of the back of the rig and climbed over into the seat. As soon as he got the reins in his hands he stopped the horse without difficulty.

Y.M.C.A. IN EXTENSION.

The directors of the Y.M.C.A. have decided to appoint an "assistant secretary and head of the boys' department," to take charge of a part of the work which was in the hands of Physical Director Braden last year. The name of the appointee will probably be announced in September. It is felt that Mr. Braden had more work than he could handle last year, and the directors have determined to relieve him of a part of the strain. He is now in the East attending a summer school for Y.M.C.A. physical instructors, and when he returns he will be able to devote his entire time to the care of the physical welfare of his charges.

It is the intention to secure the services of a man thoroughly trained in boys' work to fill the position of assistant secretary and probably the Bible classes will be under his charge. The most suitable man for the position has not been decided upon, but it is understood that the directors have several men under consideration.

INJECT OIL IN DEEP.

The work of oiling North Grand avenue is progressing rapidly, and before the rainy season arrives the street will be in a condition to resist any floods. The oil is being applied by a new method, in that instead of being sprinkled over the surface and then driven in by the use of a harrow, it is being applied with a heavy implement which grinds it into the ground to a depth of six inches.

Extensive building operations are now going on along North Grand avenue and Arroyo Drive. In nearly every block there are one or more new houses in course of construction. Improvements in the grounds are also being made and several pieces of property that have been eyesores to the neighborhood for years are now being parked and put into salable condition.

Property owners on Euclid avenue are planning to delay the oiling of their street until the different methods now being tried in Pasadena have been given a thorough test. It is the desire of the residents to make their street one of the finest in Pasadena, and for that reason they do not want to take any steps until they are certain that they have hit upon the right methods for doing the work.

A thorough system of street cleaning is now being practiced, and daily the rubbish is swept up and carried off. This will be continued, and in addition the avenue will be watered daily that it may be kept solid and free from dust. The cost of caring for the street will be divided among the property owners, and no expense will be spared to keep the avenue in the best possible condition.

CROWN CITY POINTS.

Mayor Waterhouse has gone East on a business trip and will be absent until August 12. When the Mayor first left it was rumored that he had gone to make arrangements for the sale of the electric lighting bonds, but attachés at the City Hall who claim to be posted declare that his departure had nothing to do with the bond issue.

The programme of the sports for the Pasadena picnic at Long Beach on August 9 has been made public. There will be twenty events, and three prizes have been donated for each. The programme includes races, jumping and swimming contests and old-fashioned picnic sports. Arrangements have been made with the different transportation lines whereby the Pasadenans attending the picnic will all be taken into Long Beach at the same hour.

A project is on foot among prominent Pasadena business men to form a trotting horse association in connection with the Tournament of Roses. If the plan is carried out, Tournament Park will be improved and the track laid out in such a manner as to furnish a suitable half-mile course for trotting races. Races held under the auspices of the association will be limited to gentlemen drivers, and only amateur sport encouraged.

Albert Harris, charged with cruelty to animals by Humane Officer McAney, is still missing and the humane officer is at a loss to know how to proceed with the case. Harris, together with two of his employés, was arrested some time ago on a cruelty charge. The employés appeared in court and pleaded guilty but as the employer was not at hand sentence was suspended until the justice could look into the matter more thoroughly. At that time it was thought that Harris had left town for a day or two only but as yet nothing has been heard from him.

The members of the City Council are now at work on the budget for the coming fiscal year and it will probably be presented to the Mayor for his approval about the middle of the month. According to the law the budget must be submitted between August 15 and 22, and the Mayor has five days in which to accept or reject it. If the estimates presented by the different department heads are not shaved down by the Council the tax rate this year will be nearly if not quite as high as last, despite the increase in assessment valuation.

An excited, bare-headed man rushed up North Fair Oaks avenue this morning asking if any one had seen a runaway horse hitched to a light road buggy. He stated that he had left his horse hitched near the corner of Cedar street while he went into a near-by house and that when he came out his rig was missing. As no one had seen a runaway the man concluded that his turnout had been stolen and he started to report the matter to the police. At the corner of Washington street he found the rig hitched to a telegraph pole.

"DRY" FOR SCARBOROUGH.

MONROVIA, Aug. 3.—W. B. Scarborough, a member of the Board of Trustees, whose vote shut out the restaurant liquor license from Monrovia a few months ago and precipitated balloting on the question of wet or dry, has been made the victim of a "joker" who persistently cuts off his water supply.

Five times this week has the Scarborough residence been in a state of water famine, and constant vigilance by the city authorities failed to discover the miscreant. The gate that controls the city water pipes to Greystone avenue, in the neighborhood of the Trustee's residence, is located on Banana avenue. On several occasions when there was no flow to the hydrants on Scarborough's place, inquiry was made of the water superintendent, and the latter, who is under the supervision of Trustee Scarborough, was considerably upset by finding that his care could not secure water for the place.

After four attempts to keep the gate open, Superintendent Willetts locked it open with a padlock. That was at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At 6 o'clock he received a telephone message that water was again lacking. Upon investigation he found that the private gate to Mr. Scarborough's residence had been maliciously closed.

As Police Commissioner of Los Angeles, this member of Monrovia's legislative body has been threatened with murder and arson by malefactors, but it remains for Monrovia to produce an artful villian who would make a desert of one of the most beautiful residences in the city. The malice may be directed against the water superintendent, as the action has caused him more annoyance than it has Mr. Scarborough.

STRIKE ORDER OBEYED.

Even the clocks in Monrovia obey the preachers. At a surprise party tendered Mrs. Alice Morris Gaver last evening her pupils and their friends were listening attentively to a funny story that Rev. H. Russell Greaves was relating. They held in reserve a gift package. As the preacher reached the dramatic point of his incident the heroine of the story called out to the man who held a club over her to "Strike! Strike!" Solemnly, then, the striking began. It was loud, persistent and sonorous. Clyde Burr grabbed the tell-tale gift package, which insisted upon making its own presentation speech, but it was proven he was no strike breaker by full ten gongs. The handsome onyx and ebony clock was only one of the presents to Mrs. Gaver.

JUST ANOTHER EXAMPLE.

Union Carpenters at Santa Monica Show How Silly It Is Possible, Sometimes, to Be.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 3.—The union carpenters demanded a closed shop at Santa Monica, and before the committee of the Master Builders' Association, which was named for a conference with a like committee from the labor organization, could even make a report, every union man engaged on George D. Snyder's building contracts walked out. Mr. Snyder says no notice was given, and it is not contended that there was any trouble over wages or hours of work.

When the master builders met last night to hear the report of the conference committee, the walk-out had already occurred and there was therefore nothing for the builders to consider.

As yet the walk-out has not involved any of the other members of the Master Builders' Association, but Mr. Snyder says he will "stand pat." He says some of his best workmen are non-union men. They have been with him for years, and he does not intend to discharge them simply because some organization says so. He also declares it is not any of his business if these men refuse to join the union.

Mr. Snyder states that he will continue to manage his own business in his own way, independent of labor organizations and "boss" dictation. He will employ whomsoever he pleases, without regard to whether they belong to one or a dozen unions, or to any.

ALONG THE BEACH.

The Board of Education will receive bids until August 23 for the erection of two new brick schoolhouses in Santa Monica. The one at Sixth street, near Oregon avenue, is to be of two stories and will cost about $30,000. It will occupy the site of the first school building erected here. The other, at Sixth and Washington, will be of one story. Both are to be ready for occupancy by December 1.

The attraction on the Nevada-avenue polo grounds tomorrow afternoon will be a regulation contest in which Riverside, Los Angeles and Santa Monica players will form two teams. The social part of the affair will be looked after by the ladies, who have arranged for tea.

POLITICIANS MAKE PEACE.

SUPPRESSED IS THE REVOLT AT LONG BEACH.

Complications Owing to Rival Claims of Wilson for Sheriff's Office and Heartwell for County Treasurership and to Matters Affecting Postmastership Smoothed Out.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 3.—The reason for the sudden collapsing of the revolt started Wednesday against the Long Beach Congress district leaked out today, when it was announced that Postmaster Hersch, against whom the revolt was directed, had declared that he was no chronic office seeker, and if any political friend had aspirations he was willing and ready to step aside in his favor, and agreeable to going into the ranks and work for such men as might be selected for future political honors.

The strong race made by Frank H. Downs in the spring election developed him as a party leader and his friends for the past month have been quietly grooming him for the postmastership. This brought them into antagonism with their own friends with whom they have recently worked so successfully and incidentally threatened to still further complicate the situation which exists in the rival claims on Long Beach of Harry Wilson for Sheriff, and Charles L. Heartwell for County Treasurer.

A hurried conference between the opposing elements led to a satisfactory agreement by which Mayor Downs can have the postmastership if he wants it and the revolt was a thing of the past. It is understood that the other faction also have a candidate but that the fight is to be settled by the Congressman.

TOLD BETWEEN TIDES.

The City Trustees are arranging to give West Long Beach fire protection. A hose cart and the old hook and ladder truck will be sent there and a volunteer company organized. The hook and ladder truck will be equipped with two forty-five gallon chemical tanks.

Representatives of the Metal Stamping Works met the Chamber of the Commerce committee yesterday, and arranged final details for the establishment of the works in Long Beach. Only one minor difference exists and this is expected to be cleared away Saturday at the latest.

Saturday afternoon the baseball teams of the police and fire departments will contest for honors on the High School grounds, and as there are several semi-professionals on both sides, an interesting game is looked for.

OIL PRODUCTION LARGE.

Whittier Wells Make Good in Spite of Fires and Explosions—Output for Month of July.

WHITTIER, Aug. 3.—The July production of Whittier crude oil aggregated 95,000 barrels, in spite of the unusual hindrances caused by the explosion of a tank belonging to the Whittier Crude Oil Company and by the destructive fire which a few weeks ago swept a portion of the field.

No new wells have been finished during the month, but at least one of the six new wells now being drilled in this field will be completed during August.

The Central and Warner companies have rigs in place for new wells, drilling on which will begin at an early date. At present about 100 wells are being pumped, this total being divided approximately as follows: Central, 30 to 40; Murphy, 20; Home, 15; Turner, 8; Whittier Crude, 7; Warner, 7; Fidelity, 6; Whittier-Fillmore, 2.

ORANGE SEASON GOOD.

With the close of the Valencia orange season the ranchers of this section have begun to figure out their profits, the season having been an eminently satisfactory one. One rancher, James McGee of East Whittier, picked from a four-acre tract of Valencias 4000 field boxes of choice fruit, which would amount to about 2500 packed boxes. He received for this fruit an average of about $2.50 per box, or about $6000 for the crop from his four-acre tract.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Cyrus Way of South Painter avenue has just received a consignment of seeds from Honolulu, and will experiment with the same at his ranch here. In the consignment are seeds of both fruit and shade trees, among them being bango seed, monkey food and algarroba seed.

Whittier voters this week registered their decision, two to one, to levy a special tax of $4000 to cover a shortage in the school funds. The shortage comes as a result of a combination of circumstances, among which was the receipt of a smaller amount of money from the State this year, by reason of the San Francisco disaster.

A t forty members of the local Friends Church went to Ramona, San Diego county, today to attend a Friends conference held there by that church.

Miss Ruth Fletcher began her duties this we as instructor in art at the Los Angeles College of Fine Arts, taking the place of Prof. Judson during the latter's absence in Japan.

W. H. Thomas has sold the rights to a patent door lock invented by him to Los Angeles parties for $25,000. The lock is said to be an improvement on anything now in use, embodying many new features.

PULL WIRES AT VENICE.

Linemen Are Putting Things in Readiness for the Republican County Convention.

VENICE, Aug. 3.—Electricians in the employ of the several telegraph and telephone companies are busy running wires into the auditorium for the convenience of the out-of-town newspapers and the general public during the trying days of the County Republican Convention.

With the unfortunate muddle over the recent Michigan picnic as a horrible example, arrangements of the most definite character are being made for the picnic to be held here tomorrow under the auspices of the Fraternal Brotherhood of America. Not fewer than 4000 visitors are expected. The auditorium will be used for the regular programme and competitive military drills. A baby show will add to the interest of the affair and there will also be foot races and other athletic contests. There will be dancing in the pavilion at night and a picnic dinner on the sand.

DIES OF HEART DISEASE.

Prominent Sierra Madre Man Succumbs to Ailment of Long Duration.

SIERRA MADRE, Aug. 3.—C. E. Cook, one of the oldest and wealthiest residents of this place, died this afternoon of heart disease. Though he has been a sufferer for some time from chronic heart trouble, it was never considered serious. When last evening he seemed to be in his usual health. Toward morning his wife was awakened by a groan. She found him unconscious and apparently lifeless, in which condition he remained till he died this afternoon.

Deceased was 54 years old and a native of Maine. He came to California in 1876, settling at Florence, where he lived five years. Since leaving there he has lived at Sierra Madre. While in Florence in 1878 he married Miss Belle Whitman.

Mr. Cook was identified with many enterprises. He was one of the organizers of the local water company, of which he was superintendent at the time of his death. He was one of the charter members of the Congregational Church, for nine years superintendent and assistant superintendent of the Congregational Sunday-school.

As a member of the Electric Promotion Committee he did some notable service for the town.

He is survived by a widow and one daughter, Miss Gertrude Cook.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the Congregational Church.

FIRE DOES DAMAGE.

Early Morning Blaze in San Pedro Results in Considerable Loss in That City.

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 3.—Fire was discovered soon after 2 o'clock this morning in the fruit and notion store of G. Bevenetto at the corner of Sixth and Palos Verdes streets.

The local fire department extinguished the blaze in about twenty minutes, but before this was accomplished several small shops located in frame buildings adjacent were burned. The Bevenetto Fruit Company, French Cleaning and Dye Works, Henderson Bicycle Company and James Kean's shoe shop were destroyed.

The loss to the buildings and stocks was about $2500, covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

"TOO MANY ELECTIONS."

F. W. Kellogg, a cripple, went to one of the polling places in today's freeholders' election and procured a blank ballot. He started to leave the place without casting his vote. When a remonstrance was directed against him he said, "There's too many elections in this here town," and walked away.

The man was arrested this afternoon and made to give up the ballot.

FUNERAL OF A PIONEER.

Mrs. W. C. Martin Laid to Rest at Pomona—Crossed Plains With an Ox Team.

POMONA, Aug. 3.—The funeral of Mrs. W. C. Martin, who died at her home, No. 362 East Third street, yesterday at the age of 82, was held this afternoon at the South Methodist Church, Rev. Youngman officiating.

Deceased was among the oldest settlers in Los Angeles county having crossed the plains with her husband in an ox team in 1853. They settled at El Monte, which was nearly as large as Los Angeles in those days.

MYSTERIOUS HUNGRY MAN.

Makes His Appearance Near Lordsburg in Quest of Food—May Be Crazy. Has Ravenous Appetite.

LORDSBURG, Aug. 3.—For some days campers in San Dimas Cañon have been alarmed at the presence of a man whose clothing is torn almost to rags and whose appearance would indicate that he is an escaped lunatic were it not for the "method" in his madness.

The man has appeared suddenly at a tent and demanded food which he eats ravenously, then asking for more. If no one is at camp, he breaks in and carries off all of the food.

Yesterday when John Beckett and W. Halliday returned to their mining camp in Wolfskill Cañon, which is east of San Dimas Cañon, they found the same man coming out of their cabin carrying away their "embalmed beef." They ordered the fellow to march ahead of them and get out of the cañon, but he disappeared suddenly in the brush and although several men hunted for hours for him he has not yet been found.

HORSE KILLED BY TRAIN.

HOLLYWOOD NEWS NOTES.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 3. — F. O. Bletcher has sold to a group of Hollywood and Los Angeles investors the Miller property, comprising about twenty-six acres, at the mouth of Miller's Cañon, and sloping to and across Prospect avenue. The land will be subdivided at once under the name West End Heights. The old bridge spanning a stream of pure mountain water will be razed and a mission-style structure will be put in its place. Part of the land will be reserved for a park, many rare plants, natives of the Indies, being planted on the grounds immediately adjoining the old Miller homestead. The latter family has saved several acres from the original estate, and will erect a handsome modern residence. Miller's Cañon is just east of Laurel Cañon, and is one of the most heavily wooded breaks in this range of hills.

Specifications and plans for the proposed lock-up have been accepted by the Trustees, and the work will be let at once by contract.

The City Trustees have allowed a levy of one mill on a dollar for library purposes.

BUY AT EL MONTE.

Covina Business Men Invest in Downtown Property—Others Buy for Subdivision.

The funeral of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. John Funk, who died Wednesday at Long Beach, was held from the Brethren Church this morning.

CATALINA ISLAND BRIEFS.

AVALON, Aug. 3.—There seems to be a hoodoo on yellowtail tournaments. Heretofore they have been held for one day only, and only once has there been any large number taken. To insure against a failure because of the fish not biting it was decided to continue the tournament four days. A day and a half of this time has now elapsed and the heaviest fish taken weighs but twenty-one pounds. Only one other was heavy enough to receive recognition, for nothing under twenty pounds counts. This morning only a few of the anglers found fish and not one weighing twenty pounds was reported. Curiously enough, this morning when the enthusiasts had left for distant points in search of game, a tremendous school of yellowtail ran into the bay here and churned up the water as if it were a boiling cauldron.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

"MAN ANGEL" IS WRECKED.

SAN BERNARDINO YOUTH HAS A NARROW ESCAPE.

Young Aeronaut Attempts Descent in Alva Reynold's Airship, and Strikes Network of Live Wires. Blown Into a Tree, and Finally Falls Into a Vacant Lot.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] M. A. W. Lee, a youthful aeronaut, narrowly escaped injury, if not death, this afternoon, while attempting a descent in Alva Reynold's "Man Angel" airship.

The machine first encountered a network of live wires, but Lee managed to prevent its destruction, and the ship was then blown westerly 400 feet into a large tree.

The gas bag was rent, but though thirty-five in the air, Lee managed to steer his machine into a vacant lot, where it dropped, badly wrecked.

The mishap was witnessed by several thousand people.

COURT HAPPENINGS.

Three suits of unusual local interest were filed here this morning. The first was brought by Ezra Crossman of Redlands against the Redlands and Alessandro Improvement Company, to recover $12,250.11, representing a judgment obtained six years ago by Crossman in a suit brought by John McBeth against the improvement company for money which McBeth loaned the company.

After the judgment was obtained McBeth died, and the heirs assigned the judgment to Crossman in full settlement of his fee. He has made numerous efforts to collect the judgment by foreclosing on lands formerly owned by the debtor company, but in all of these actions he has been defeated.

The last suit to come to trial was heard last winter, and made sensational by the deliberate theft of important papers from the court records. Crossman attempted to substitute other papers, but the court denied him this privilege.

The second action, filed this morning, was a suit brought by W. E. Van Slyke against the Arrowhead Reservoir and Power Company, to quiet title to 160 acres four miles west of the Little Bear Valley Reservoir. In 1891, Van Slyke transferred the land to the company for a damsite and reservoir.

The third suit is an action for damages brought by Albert Johnson against the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company for the loss of a hay bales, which was wrecked in a collision last year.

AROUND THE TOWN.

News has been received here of the destruction by fire of the Santa Fé timber-treating plant at Belmont, Ariz., resulting in a loss of several thousand dollars. This plant was used for chemically-treating bridge timber and ties to preserve them.

Wong Nim, known as the "mayor" of Chinatown, has brought suit against the city of San Bernardino and the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company for damages in the sum of $2000, which he alleges he has suffered by reason of the change made in the grade of lower Third street, to accommodate the Traction's company's new tracks cut-off. The City Council recently rejected Wong Nim's claim.

Leo Reif, known to the Los Angeles police as Louis "Weber," was sentenced this morning by Judge Oster to serve three years in Folsom, having been convicted of burglary in the second degree, in connection with the ransacking of the home of G. W. Sinsabaugh at Colton.

The petition for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Harry Leeds, now serving three months on the rock pile for failing to provide for his child, was denied by Judge Oster this morning. The petition was found to be full of errors.

A slight earthquake was felt in San Bernardino at 9:20 tonight. It lasted a little over a second. No damage of any matter was done.

Now for Mt. Wilson; $15 week.

LYTLE CREEK FIRE.

RIALTO, Aug. 3.—Just after noon today there was a call from Deputy Constable Showalter for men to fight a fire which had broken out on the mesa near the mouth of Lytle Creek. In a short time he left with a four-horse wagon load of men for the scene. The fire was reported this evening as under control. It was confined to a small area and did no damage. It was near this point that the fire the fourth of July did such damage to the flumes which measure the water in the cement canal which furnishes Rialto with her water. The damage done at that time had only just been repaired.

DELINQUENT PROPERTY SOLD.

Two Hundred Pieces of Orange County Land Sold at Santa Ana by Tax Collector.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 3.—Tax Collector Wilson today sold to the State about two hundred pieces of Orange county property, on which taxes were delinquent. The time for paying on the published delinquent list was up, and at 10 o'clock this morning the State's control went into force.

"The number of pieces of property that went through without payment of taxes," said the Tax Collector today, "is nearly twice as large as last year. I do not believe the value will total much above what it was in former years, for the property as a rule was in small parcels."

"What causes the difference?" was asked.

"I believe the reason for such a large number of properties going to the State is that some of the companies holding beach properties did not pay taxes on property assessed to them. The chances are that in their contracts of sale the new owners are supposed to pay the taxes and have overlooked it."

The property, according to the State law, may be redeemed any time in the next five years.

COURT BREVITIES.

This morning Superior Judge Z. B. West allowed a decree of distribution to be entered in a $600,000 estate. The estate in question is that of Mrs. Francisca Rimpau, who died in Anaheim on February 7, 1903. Most of the estate goes to persons residing in Anaheim. Among the heirs are her husband, Theodore Rimpau, who was administrator of the estate, and several sons and daughters. The estate has been in the courts of this county since 1903. At the time the appraisers reported its value to the court on August 1, 1903, the amount was placed at $48,875. This morning when the decree of distribution was allowed, Attorney W. R. Hervey of Los Angeles, representing Albert Rimpau, one of the heirs, stated that the property of the estate in Los Angeles had rapidly risen in value and that now the estate is worth $600,000.

FULLERTON POSTOFFICE.

FULLERTON, Aug. 3.—"Who will be the next postmaster?", is a question heard on every street corner at present. Several weeks ago First Assistant Postmaster-General Hitchcock addressed a letter to Congressman Smith informing him that "the postmaster at Fullerton had been recommended to the department for removal, by a postoffice inspector, for mistreatment of mail matter, discourtesy to patrons of his office and for conduct unbecoming a postmaster in securing railroad transportation by means of misrepresentation and falsehood."

It is not believed there will be a change before September 1, as the appointment cannot be confirmed until the Senate meets. If reports are true, some of the local Republicans hold, Congressman Smith has been "carrying water on both shoulders."

ANAHEIM GOSSIP.

ANAHEIM, Aug. 3.—Petitions are in circulation requesting the Trustees to pave the principal streets of the city. The limits being petitioned for include Center street from the Santa Fé depot to Palm street, and on Los Angeles street from the Southern Pacific depot to Sycamore street. The work is to be done under the Vrooman act.

Rev. Father Dubbel has arrived here from Colorado to spend a few weeks with friends.

VENTURA RUMORS.

VENTURA, Aug. 3.—Island and channel trips are the rage now among society folks of this city. The town is better supplied with small sea-going craft than any previous summer in its history. The channel is filled with barracuda, yellowtail, bonita and other game troll fish, and great catches are made daily.

Dolores will be again tried for the murder of Night Watchman McNaughton of Oxnard. Quintana has but just gone through the ordeal of one trial, coming out with a disagreed jury.

Last evening Miss Ruth Dennis gave a shower party to Miss Edna McMartin, whose engagement to be married will be announced shortly, the groom being a Pasadena educator. Those present were Misses Lena Packard, Marie Conklin, Agnes and Edna McMartin, Louise Sanchez, Maude Chrisman, Nellie Peck, Kate Sanchez, Matilda Roth, Adelaide Orr, Erna Reese, Mrs. F. J. Dennis and Mrs. Walter Jones.

MAKES ATTACK ON NOYES.

RIVERSIDE JUDGE IS UNDER FIRE IN PETITION.

Accused of Having Drafted a Will and Caused Himself to Be Appointed as the Executor Thereof. Churches Interested in the Case Object to Publicity.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] RIVERSIDE, Aug. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Noyes was accused today of using his office to promote his own interests in connection with the will of Sarah Graves who died within a short time after her husband, an old pioneer. Charles B. Gray, an attorney of this city, brings the complaint in the name of Mrs. Roxie Cales, a surviving sister of Mrs. Graves.

In this case, Judge Noyes was appointed executor of the will of Mrs. Sarah Graves who lay at the point of death when her husband died less than a month before her demise. Incidentally Judge Noyes had borrowed $500 from the estate in the course of the guardianship of the widow, who, after the death of her husband, had been declared incompetent to manage her own affairs.

Judge Noyes subsequently resigned his administratorship and in his resignation, sought to convey his fees to the local Y.M.C.A., and to place in his stead M. S. Bowman, the public administrator, who, according to the Judge Noyes appointment, was to serve gratis for the estate. The arrangement for the fees was expressed in a letter published by Judge Noyes, Public Administrator Bowman has ignored this disposition of the proceeds of his office.

The petition filed today recites that "Judge J. S. Noyes drafted said alleged will and caused himself to be appointed as the executor thereof." His subsequent orders made in the case are attacked upon the ground that he was a material witness to sustain its validity and that his interest in said will was and is so great that he is disqualified from acting as a juror in an action brought to sustain the validity of the will and that Judge Noyes not only acted as the counsel and adviser to Mrs. Sarah Graves, but suggested who should be the legatees thereunder.

The case involves the disposition of property in which local churches are to an extent vitally interested and it is said that, aside from the $500 which Judge Noyes borrowed from the guardian of Mrs. Graves's person and estate, he will not directly profit from the outcome of the controversy.

Both the churches involved in the controversy seriously object to publicity in the contest pending and influential members assert that the denominations had nothing to do with Judge Noyes's intentions toward the disposition of the Graves's estate.

PROHIBITIONISTS MEET.

The Prohibitionists held an enthusiastic convention here today in which they strongly urged the principles of their party but they refused to nominate a county ticket. George W. Swing of Riverside was unanimously elected chairman of the County Central Committee and the following delegates were elected to the State Convention to meet in Los Angeles August 22 and 23: B. Foster, Samuel Black, Hemet; C. A. Webber, Highgrove; T. A. Newton, Corona; W. R. McCully, E. Partlow, S. A. Drummond, W. D. Enyor, Horace Simmons, Riverside. Alternates: T. J. Reynolds, Arlington; A. M. Aldrich, George W. Swing, J. F. Tibbet, George Blackman, Elijah Charity, F. Chandler, A. L. Whiting, A. L. Schoepff, Riverside.

CITRUS PROSPECTS.

Producers of citrus fruit have realized about 34 per cent. more than last year. These are figures that can be verified from the books of reliable sales firms in Riverside and surrounding counties. Some houses claim that the crop this year has been at the ratio of $1.50 to $2.50. Possibly this would be too large a percentage of gain, Conservative judges place the gain about 34 per cent.

At the time of the freeze last January, The Times made an investigation of conditions and, when appearances were blackest and the eastern markets looked askew at Riverside fruit, the publication was made that the crop would only be about 300 or 400 cars short on the total output for the season. The shortage will run a little more than The Times estimate and the increase of price will be proportionately in line with its predictions, made more than once.

Shipments for the season up to date are 4746 cars of oranges and 432 carloads of lemons, making a total of 5179 carloads of citrus fruit with a straggling demand to swell the balance in favor of The Times' original figures.

As predicted in the Fiesta Number of The Times, the citrus district directly tributary to the city of Riverside will win just short of a million in the gamble men make to feed the world or supply it with luxury.

SAN JACINTO DOINGS.

SAN JACINTO, Aug. 2.—The cannery is now working a full force on peaches. Two carloads were shipped in from Colton the first of the week to keep the hands busy, but the local fruit is coming in as fast as they can handle it now. The early peaches are quite small, but the later varieties are high grade.

The City Trustees are considering the advisability of moving the city pumping plant to higher ground. Its present location is fourteen feet below the level of the town and makes it expensive pumping water. A gasoline engine will probably succeed the steam engine now used.

A. G. Munn sold this week to W. J. Pelcher of Peoria, Ill., eighty acres of rich land on the "mesa" west of town; stated consideration, $3600. Mr. Pelcher will erect an up-to-date residence at once and will spend $1000 more on other improvements.

CORONA HAPPENINGS.

CORONA, Aug. 3.—Edward Tisnerat of Long Beach has bought three lots, 25x120 feet each, on Main street, between the Penprase property and the blacksmith shop, for a reported sum of $2200. The owners were J. B. Sexton of Los Angeles and J. B. Triolo of Corona. On this 75-foot frontage on Main street Mr. Tisnerat is to erect a two-story brick building with three store rooms on the ground floor and possibly arrangements for a hotel on the upper floor. An Ontario man is to open a dry goods store in the building.

R. F. Billings is planning to erect a six-room cottage on his Main-street lot.

MEN!

I Cure Every Case I Treat or Accept No Fee.

Why I Can Say That A Short Statement By Dr. Taylor

The Leading Specialist

My practice has become larger by far than that of any other physician or specialist in the West, and this is solely because of the positive cures I have made. The vast multitudes of men who have taken my treatment have not been disappointed. They know that I do not promise more than I can perform. To them I have actually illustrated in the cure of their own cases the truth of what I claim, namely, that my treatment is as certain to cure as it is that the patient engages my services and follows my directions. My success is due not alone to education, experience, skill and scientific equipment, but to the fact that I limit my study and practice strictly to diseases and weaknesses of men. I treat nothing else. To male maladies alone I have earnestly and exclusively devoted twenty-five of the best years of my life, and on them all my faculties are concentrated.

I Cure Permanently: Weakness, Varicocele Hydrocele, Specific Blood Poison Contracted Disorders, Stricture and Reflex Ailments

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

While trading was not as brisk yesterday as it was on the day before, the demand for most commodities was good and stocks were well cleaned up. Eggs attracted the most attention; arrivals yesterday were 308 cases, an increase over the previous day's shipments. The bulk of the arrivals was from the North and was of poor quality. There were not enough strictly fresh eggs yesterday to fill half the local orders. Another advance in price is predicted for the first of next week. Higher prices were bid for eggs on change yesterday than for some months past.

The butter market was well sustained yesterday morning. Receipts were heavy, but all shipments went into strong hands. One carload of butter was reported from Nebraska.

Onions were scarce and supplies are cleaning up well. Local potatoes are of poor quality. Potato jobbers say that northern potatoes and onions cannot be handled at profit yet. Sweet potatoes find slow sale at 4@4½ per pound.

Warm weather continues to affect the fruit market, as dealers yesterday said that the demand had almost ceased and that jobbers were not taking on large stocks. Peaches, cantaloupes and watermelons were featureless and unchanged. Berries remain steady at full quotations. Grapes and pears showed no alteration. Plums were plentiful.

Cabbage was scarce. Lettuce is of poor quality during the hot weather. Corn was weak at 37½@75 per sack. Cucumbers dragged at 50@10. Peas dropped to 3@4.

Fish was in oversupply.

The receipts of produce as reported for yesterday's exchange were as follows: Eggs, 308 cases; butter, 19,946 lbs.; cheese, local, 5,000 lbs.; potatoes, 430 sacks; onions, none; beans, 15 sacks; sweet potatoes, 30 sacks.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Today's stock market became even more spotty than that of yesterday, and the isolated instances of strength were fewer. This showing told on speculative sentiment in the course of the day and the tone of the speculation became less confident and led to a sharp reaction. This change was derived more from the action of the market itself than from any development in the condition of business or industry, unless the slightly firmer tone of the call-money market may have been partly responsible. Larger importance was attached, however, to the fact that St. Paul and Union Pacific showed clear evidence of being fed out when attempts were made to bid them up, while Southern Pacific was given over to positive depression. The opening course of prices was quite generally downwards, but this was attributed to the influence of the earlier dealings in foreign markets, in which the troubled affairs of Russia were once more a factor. The lower opening here was almost immediately repaired, in synapathy with the sharp upbidding of St. Paul and Union Pacific. Their relapse was the cause of some misgivings over the vague information on which much of the accumulation in these stocks has been based. Successive disappointments over the expected culmination of the "deal" rumors which have hung about these stocks for many weeks proved wearing upon the patience of the ill-informed holders, except when they have the example of large buying and advancing prices before their eyes. The new features of strength proved poor substitutes for these favorite leaders of market sentiment. The rise in New York Central was connected with some revival of reports that a comprehensive merger of the Vanderbilt railroad properties was in contemplation. There was a joint advance in a number of the north and south trunk line railroads which was associated with the government's cotton report, which was expected to be favorable, but which even exceeded speculative anticipations. The cotton carriers sold off on realization, however, after the publication of the government report. Amalgamated Copper was helped by a sharp upward movement in the price of the metal in the London market. But these evidences of strength did not prove wholly convincing in face of manifest realizing that was going on in other quarters of the market. It was pointed out, also, that the first transactions which occurred in United States Steel after the dividend was declared, which were in the opening dealings of Wednesday, were at the highest prices on the movement. The 40¾-point touched then for an instant was not equaled afterward. The deduction is unavoidable that a large supply of this stock was ready for the market to take advantage of the effect of the dividend. The former tone in the day's call-loan market was due to the indicated decline for the week in the cash holdings of the banks, which amounts to $4,771,000 on sub-treasury account alone, and which seems to be only slightly offset by the receipts by export from the interior. It is supposed that the sub-treasury excess of receipts, which is largely on account of Panama in national-bond payments, has been partly offset by re-deposit of government funds with the banks. But these re-deposits do not go entirely into New York banks, while bond payments have come almost wholly from that source. The week's stock market operations and the August settlements also point to some further loan expansion. The suspension of the profit-taking tendency of the day's market was emphasized by the response to the late two-point rise in St. Paul, which was met by an outpouring of stocks which carried a long list of active leaders four to five points below last night. There was very little recovery, and the closing was easy. Bonds were irregular; total sales, par value, $1,097,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

"HEY! KILL THAT RED MONKEY!"

Illinoisan Clapped Into Hospital After Chasing Snakes Across Desert, Jumping from Smoker Window, Trying to Ride on Cowcatcher and Attempting Other Feats.

After jumping through the window of a smoker on the Overland at Trinidad, Colo., being hurled from the rear platform of another train a few miles west of Winslow, Ariz., and attempting to ride on the cowcatcher of a mail train out of Needles, Cal., George League of Peoria, Ill., was landed in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon by his brother, William League, and sent to the Receiving Hospital to be treated for delirium tremens.

The experiences of George League were due to his intoxicated condition, according to the statement of his brother to Desk Sergeant Dixon last evening. However, William League said that many other queer things happened to his brother to vary the monotony of the trip west.

He says George left the train at Emporia, Kan., to buy liquor from a druggist, and, because it was refused him, became involved in a fight with the clerk, and was locked up.

At a small town in New Mexico, League got off the train, was attacked by the tremens, and chased an imaginary snake across the desert so far that he missed his train.

Having thus been left five times, the crazed passenger caused his brother, who accompanied him, to stop over in small towns many times and expend no small amount of money in telegraphing.

After the men arrived in Los Angeles William League watched his brother all day and cared for him. George expressed a desire to go out for a walk, and while they were strolling about was affected by an attack of the tremens. He dashed into the Arcade Depot, ran through the crowd crying, "Hey! Kill that red monkey!" and at last landed in the arms of a patrolman.

FENDER TEST DISASTROUS.

Noble Citizen Braces Himself With Intoxicants, Then Dashes Into Moving Car.

Possessed with a desire to test the new fenders on the Los Angeles street cars, Maurice Condon dashed from the sidewalk at Spring and Franklin streets last evening about 5 o'clock directly into a north-bound car. Condon missed his calculations and struck the corner of the car instead of the fender. He was hurled back nearly to the sidewalk.

Witnesses were amazed to see Condon rise to his feet and attempt to walk away. An officer sent Condon to the Central Station on the charge of drunkenness. A police surgeon examined him, but could find only a slight laceration on his forehead. When asked why he ran into the car, Condon replied that he desired to see whether the new fenders were a success.

TRUST COMPANY CHANGES NAME.

The Mercantile Bank and Trust Company has changed its name into the Southern California Trust Company. The capital stock of the new organization will be $2,000,000. It will do a purely trust business, not intrenching in any way upon the bank. This is the big trust company that I. W. Hellman has been organizing for some months past. The Mercantile Trust Company is housed on the corner of Broadway and Mercantile Place. When the new building is completed on the corner of Main and Fourth, it will be moved under its new name into the premises on Fourth street directly west of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank. The original idea was to capitalize this institution at $1,000,000, but subscriptions came in so fast that some time ago the announcement was made public that the capital would be $1,500,000. Still the subscriptions poured in, and finally the allotment of stock has been made on the basis of $2,000,000 capital.

Hugh Stewart of the Mercantile Bank and Trust Company will be the cashier of the new institution. His office will be immediately adjoining that of J. A. Graves, manager of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, and Mr. Graves will probably be the main director in the new trust company.

UNITED FORESTERS.

The United Order of Foresters instituted Council No. 102, with seventy-eight charter members, at Mammoth Hall last night. Supreme Ranger Charles M. Pierce installed the officers, assisted by Supreme Secretary Morris and Mr. Howard of Pasadena. The council was instituted by Supreme Deputy S. B. Molin. A council will be organized in Pasadena on August 15, with 107 charter members.

WINE TRUST SHOWS FIGHT.

Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Spokesman Indignant.

Says Royal Arch Is Not Back of New Movement.

Claims His Associates Are Entitled to Amendment.

I. S. Green, president of the Wholesalers' Protective Association, recently organized by the proprietors of the family liquor stores of this city for the purpose of fathering an amendment to the city ordinances which will allow them to sell less than one-fifth of a gallon of liquor and give them practically the rights of retailers, emphatically denies that there is any fight on between the retailers and the wholesalers, or that the Royal Arch has anything to do with his concern.

Green has lived in Los Angeles many years. He claims that the sole object of the formation of the Wholesalers' Protective Association is to see that the law is enforced.

"As God is my judge, there is no fight between the wholesalers and the retailers," he said to a Times reporter yesterday afternoon. "The organization of which I am president now has a membership of between forty-five and fifty wholesale liquor dealers. While it is true that we intend to have passed an amendment to the liquor ordinance which will allow the wholesalers to sell less than a fifth of a gallon, there is no fight on between dealers and the Royal Arch, does not enter into the matter at all. I am sure the order will not oppose the amendment. Only one other member of the Wholesalers' Protective Association, besides myself, belongs to the lodge.

"I'll tell you why the Wholesalers' Protective Association was organized, when Commissioner Mason announced that the wholesalers were violating the liquor ordinance by selling less than one-fifth of a gallon, we saw that we would have to do something to protect our interests. Mason is responsible for this association and not the Royal Arch. It is a well-known fact that that portion of the law has never been regarded seriously by the wholesalers. Why, our business absolutely demands that we shall sell less than one-fifth of a gallon.

"Yesterday a woman entered our place and said she wanted a half pint of good brandy for a pudding. My boy had to tell her that she could not buy less than one-fifth of a gallon. She asked him where she could get a half pint and he told her to go to a saloon, as that was the only place where she could get it without a violation of the law. Today the woman's husband came in here, fighting mad, and wanted to whip my boy because he had told the woman to go to a saloon.

"When I explained the law in the case he was pacified, but said that he thought the ordinance an outrage on the public. That is what we think and that is the reason we are going to have an ammendment passed if possible. The drug stores work under the same restrictions that we do. Do the drug stores live up to those restrictions?"

President Green appeared before the Royal Arch at that organization's meeting Thursday afternoon and the new amendment was discussed at length.

Second to the talk about the one-fifth of a gallon restriction, the situation at Long Beach held the attention of the meeting.

FUNERAL TODAY OF WRECK VICTIM.

NO INQUEST HELD OVER BODY OF WILLIS S. KELLOGG.

Coroner Trout Decides That Inquiry in the Case of Mrs. Zobel Will Suffice to Determine Blame for Sierra Car Smash-up—Reporter Investigates Motorman's Testimony.

The funeral of Willis S. Kellogg, whose death resulted from injuries received in the Sierra Madre trolley wreck last Saturday, will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the chapel of Pierce Bros.' undertaking establishment. Interment will be in Mountain View Cemetery, Pasadena.

Coroner Trout decided not to hold an inquest over the remains of Mr. Kellogg, taking the position that it would be best to depend upon the verdict of the jury in the case of Mrs. Flora Zobel, who was killed instantly in the wreck.

"If there were fifty victims of the wreck, one inquest would apply for them all," said Coroner Trout. "The inquest will be continued next Tuesday or Wednesday, I think probably Wednesday afternoon. We have secured twenty new witnesses. A number of the witnesses are suffering from injuries sustained in the wreck and will not be able to appear before Wednesday. The linemen of the Edison Electric Company have been notified to be present and testify."

A Times reporter yesterday investigated the statement of Motorman S. C. Perkins of the wrecked car, that he moved the power controller one notch, and that this action caused the car to move forward, and that when he tried to stop the car he was unable to do so. The reporter rode on a Sierra Madre car to the crossing where the wreck occurred. When the car come to a stop about ten feet from the crossing the reporter asked the motorman to advance his controller only one notch.

"Why, that won't move the car," answered the motorman.

"Well, try it; won't you; just to satisfy my curiosity," said the newspaper man.

The motorman then moved the controller bar to the first notch, and the car failed to start.

"You see, I am right," said the motorman. "Why, one notch on the controllers of these big cars will hardly start them, even on a down grade. Moving the controller to the first notch will start the motor, but not the car."

"I brought my car to a dead stop about ten or twelve feet from the crossing. The conductor came from the back end of the car, jumped off and ran to within four or five feet of the crossing, looked both north and south, and then, raising his hand, signaled me to go ahead. Our rules are that the motorman as well as the conductor shall look in both directions, and I did. When I looked north I saw no train approaching. I advanced my controller one notch, and the car shot ahead; then I felt a jerk, and knew that the trolley was off. I reversed and threw the controller around to half speed, but there was no juice. I did this because I thought that the trolley pole might come in contact with the feed wire and give me enough power to back to safety. Any portion of the trolley pole touching would supply the current, but the car kept going right ahead. When I heard the danger whistles of the locomotive I saw that the car would be struck, and so I jumped off to save my life."
